CUPID IN AN AUTO.

Tiny God Chauffs for Reed Knox.

Niece of "Fighting" M'Cooks Elopes With the Son of the Senator.

Speed Regulations of Capital City Broken in Scorching for a Minister.

Auburn-Haired Petite Made a Wife at Rectory Near Long Bridge.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Reed Knox, the son of Senator Knox of Pennsylvania, and "Bessie" McCook, daughter of Col. John J. McCook, and a niece of the "Fighting" McCooks of New York, eloped in an automobile tonight and were married in the historic Christ Episcopal Church where Gen. George Washington worshiped in Alexandria.

Miss McCook and young Knox have been sweethearts pretty nearly ever since his father, P. C. Knox, was brought to Washington to become the Attorney-General of President McKinley's Cabinet.

So far as could be learned, there was no particular objection to their marrying on the part of either family.

Senator Knox had suggested to his son, who is only 26 years old, that perhaps it would be well for him to wait until he was able to properly support a wife, but that was as far as it had gone.

DOWN "LOVERS' LANE."

The couple have been inseparable for the past year or two. They appeared together at all social functions, and were frequently seen wandering down "Lovers' Lane," as the space between the White House and the State, War and Navy building is known.

Miss McCook left the home of her grandmother, Mrs. R. S. D. McCook, in the Sherman, a fashionable apartment house, to attend a dinner at the home of a friend. She was met at the corner by young Knox, in his father's high-powered automobile. Knox had with him two friends, a man and a woman.

Miss McCook entered the car, and the automobile broke all speed regulations as it whizzed to the long bridge, the connecting link between the District of Columbia and Virginia.

CEREMONY PERFORMED.

Rev. Dr. W. J. Morton performed the ceremony in the rectory study, while the two friends who accompanied the automobile party signed as witnesses.

The automobile took the party down to the station of the electric car line between Alexandria and Washington, and Mr. and Mrs. Knox and their friends boarded an electric car, reaching Washington at 10:30 o'clock tonight.

They went at once to the Shoreham Hotel, where several other friends were awaiting them.

The bride is 21 years old, petite, and has auburn hair. She only recently was graduated from a fashionable seminary.

Young Reed Knox is an assistant clerk to the Committee on Coast Defenses of the Senate, over which his father presides as chairman.

Benjamin Estes, Victim of San Francisco Quake, Made Trouble for Wife in His Will.

NEWPORT (R. I.) Jan. 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The celebrated case of Harriet Estes, recently of Fall River, and now of Washington, D. C., vs. Nathaniel Estes of San Francisco was entered as settled today, in the Superior Court. Mrs. Estes, who is in Washington, signed the papers of settlement last Thursday.

The lawyers in the case decline to state the amount for which she settled. It is said that Benjamin Estes, late husband of the plaintiff, whose will she contested, left $500,000.

Benjamin was widely known, socially, and had a brilliant war record. His first wife was Harriet Vandevere, whom he left soon after their son was born. He married again, without obtaining a divorce, and lived with his second wife until 1899, when he obtained a divorce from her without her knowledge, she alleged.

He was injured in the San Francisco earthquake, and when he died here, later, it was found that his fortune was left to his nephew, Nathaniel Estes of San Francisco.

WESTERN PACIFIC DIGGING.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] There has been a scarcity of labor on the Western Pacific road since the earthquake. The road is employing about 4000 men regularly, but 10,000 could be used. The managers say it is impossible to get men to leave the big cities, especially San Francisco, where they can earn more than on railroad work.

PROSPERITY IN JAPAN.

Premier Urges Upon Business Men Whom He Entertains the Need of Caution.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

CHICAGO, Jan. 28.—A special to the Daily News from Tokio says leading business men of Tokio, Kioto and Nagoya were entertained by the Japanese Premier, Marquis Saionji, today.

The Premier in his address affirmed that, beyond all question, the country is at present on a higher wave of prosperity on account of its foreign trade, the excess of exports over imports and its general industrial activity. Nevertheless, he showed that it was possible for the fever of speculation to develop to dangerous proportions, and he said he wished Japanese business men to contrive so that the current of fortune on which the country is floating should not be interrupted.

He added that both himself and his colleagues felt some anxiety, and he begged the business men to accept the responsibility of restoring and maintaining a wholesome tone in commerce and manufacturing.

SECRET STORES IN HONOLULU.

MILLIONS OF POUNDS OF FOOD SUPPLIES FOR JAPS.

Importations of Rice, Dried Fish and Soy Sufficient to Subsist Every Immigrant from the Empire for a Year—Arrivals One Every Twelve Minutes for Two Weeks.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

HONOLULU (T. H.) Jan. 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The latest phase in connection with the influx of Japanese to the Hawaiian Islands is concerned with the report that sufficient food has been imported into the islands from Japan to supply every emigrant from the Empire for more than a year.

This food, according to report, is now secretly stored by certain Japanese importers. It consists of rice, dried fish and soy, the principal articles of diet of the Japanese.

It has been ascertained officially that in 1905 the importations to Honolulu of Japanese rice amounted to approximately 5,500,000 pounds. In 1906, the importation of this article had increased to 20,000,000 pounds, but despite this astonishing increase, the local rice market remained unchanged.

One Japanese every twelve minutes is the rate at which the Japanese came into Honolulu from the Orient during the first fourteen days of the new year. They came in three consignments, 561 on the Japanese steamship Chiusa Maru; 383 on the Japanese steamship Hongkong Maru, and 850 on the French steamship Admiral Exelman. At this rate 48,000 Japs will arrive by the end of 1907.

STRIPPING THE MANSION.

Architect Searle Removing the Last Evidences of Hopkins's Wealth from Barrington House.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

GREAT BARRINGTON (Mass.) Jan. 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Barrington House, the most magnificent private residence in the State, and probably in the East, is entirely deserted by its millionaire owner, Edward F. Searle, husband of the late Mrs. Mark Hopkins-Searle, whose fortune, accumulated by the California magnate Hopkins, he inherited.

Searle seldom comes here except to remove some of the magnificent furnishings to the great estate he is constantly improving at Methuen, Mass., and the mansion here is dreary and desolate.

DEPUTY ADVISES SHAH.

Parliament Wants Cabinet Ministers Present at Its Sessions—Situation Is Critical.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TEHERAN, Jan. 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Sadel Doviet, a deputy, had a long audience this evening with the Shah about the Ministers being present in the assembly. The Shah tried to induce the assembly to drop the question but the deputy was stanch in his refusal.

The deputies being urged called Sadel Doviet to the House, to confer and take steps in the matter.

The situation is becoming more critical. The sitting is still on.

EIGHT-HOUR WORK DAY.

CHICAGO, Jan. 28.—The General Managers' Association, representing the forty-nine railroads of the West and the trainmen employed on the same roads, have reached a deadlock in the consideration of the eight-hour work day. One more conference between the committee representing the two organizations will be held here, but an agreement between them at the present time practically is impossible.

PRESIDENT'S HOT SHOT POURED INTO FORAKER.

Wall Street Buzzing With Stories of Sensational Gridiron Dinner.

Chief Executive, Aroused by the Ohioan's Reference to Interference With Business Affairs, Shakes His Finger at Morgan and Rogers and Tells Them They Will Face an Indignant People.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Wall street was set buzzing today by reports of a sensational speech by the President at the Gridiron Club dinner, Saturday night, in which the President is described as making almost a personal attack upon J. P. Morgan and H. H. Rogers, who were his fellow guests at the dinner.

Several other men prominent in the financial district were also guests at the time.

There was lack of contradiction of the rumors, though the pledge of secrecy entailed upon all members and guests of the Gridiron Club as to what may be said and done at its dinners prevented anything like official confirmation of the reported controversy.

THE PRESIDENT SPOKE.

It is certain that the President was very much impassioned in his remarks; that he spoke for nearly a half hour, and that the incident, combined, as it was, with a heated controversy with Senator Foraker about government attacks upon railroads and other corporations, with a review on both sides of the Brownsville affair, resulted in breaking up the programme of the dinner and ending the affair long before its expected termination.

The President's controversy with Senator Foraker about the dismissal in disgrace of the negro soldiers for participation in the murderous rioting in Brownsville and their protection of their guilty comrades was of small interest to the brokers in comparison with that in which Morgan and Rogers were involved.

FORAKER STARTS IT.

Senator Foraker is said to have been the cause of this outburst from the President, as he was of the other remarks. Foraker is quoted as having said that the attack of the government officers upon corporations, and especially on railroads, was already having an unsettling and detrimental effect, and the initiative taken in Washington was being followed by State and county attorneys all over the country, spreading and intensifying the interference with business affairs.

The Senator declared that the result would prove disastrous to the prosperity of the people in whose behalf it was being done.

THEN THE EXCITEMENT.

So exciting was all that immediately followed that no one appears to remember the President's exact words. Those who have talked of the affair, stated that he stood up and, shaking his finger in the direction of Senator Foraker, Morgan and Rogers, said:

"If you gentlemen are not willing to accept the action of the conservative class, which is ready to afford protection alike to rich and poor, I will say to you now that when you have disposed of us by your machinations, you will find yourselves face to face with a people which believes it has been deprived of its rights and a mob which does not have the least respect for riches.

"You can take your choice."

Prior to that, the President made a speech in which he arraigned the Senate's treatment of the Japanese and Brownsville affairs, declaring that the Senators had striven to make political capital on their personal accounts.

Senator Foraker made reply, and it was said by those present at the dinner that the President attempted repeatedly to interrupt the speaker, and was often restrained by those next to him. Foraker dwelt upon the fact that a Senator's oath was just as sacred as that of a President, and that if the Brownsville incident were closed, the President would find it to be so.

"PARTING OF THE WAYS."

Foraker denied categorically that it was an academic discussion in the Senate, and said most emphatically: "No one loved the President more than I did, and no one followed him more faithfully, until I found him going wrong. Then came the parting of the ways."

DID MORGAN LAUGH?

Morgan has been a frequent guest at the Gridiron dinners, and has laughed at lampoons upon himself, which have been part of the entertainments for which the Washington newspaper correspondents' club has become famous.

HOW THEY STAND.

BOSTON HERALD ON SENATORS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BOSTON, Jan. 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] In a four-column article today, the Herald goes deep down into the records and corporate commercial and other affiliations of United States Senators, placing the list in tabulated form with the name of the corporation or other interest opposite the name of the Senator. Some 46 members are enumerated as so-called "railroad Senator's, either from their former association, stock ownership or law practice.

A majority of the present members are given as having affiliations with mighty financial or corporate concerns.

"How many friends the Rockefeller-Harriman-Standard Oil interests have in the Senate and just how friendly they are, only the man on the very inside can know," says the Herald.

SMELL OF OIL.

"Denials or no denials, there are many of them. Every oil-producing State shows Standard influence, Pennsylvania, West Virgina, and numerous commonwealths across the mountains."

In giving its roster, the Herald says that it by no means follows that all Senators whose political activities have brought them in touch with corporations are wealthy, or even well-off, yet one could not easily designate the poor men of the Senate, nor the rich men.

The tabulation includes:

WILL MORGAN BACK HIM?

OLIVER'S TEN-DAY PROBLEMS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The story is persistent here that F. C. Stevens, recently appointed Superintendent of Public Works for New York by Gov. Hughes, will be one of the financial backers of W. J. Oliver, who has been given ten days to qualify as bidder for the construction of the Panama Canal.

Stevens is president of the Commercial National Bank in this city, and has other financial interests here. He is not here today. Oliver refuses to discuss the matter.

THE SOUTHERN GROUP.

The Southern Railroad, also, is said to be behind Oliver and it was the original intention to form a construction company, which should be headed by C. H. Ackert, one of the vice-presidents of the road. Oliver is relying strongly on the support of the Southern road group of capitalists and their affiliated interests, which means J. P. Morgan.

Oliver's problem is to get $5,000,000 within ten days. He must show to the government that he has this money, and must put up a bond that shall guarantee it. Furthermore, he must provide himself with partners who shall be acceptable to the government. As he made the mistake of associating himself with Anson M. Bangs in his original bid, the government will closely scrutinize the partners whom he may offer.

The MacArthur-Gillespie combination, which put in a complete bid, is taking matters very coolly. The members did not protest when the President, who was influenced by Oliver's enthusiasm and reputation for doing things, gave Oliver ten days' grace. The position of the MacArthur-Gillespie combination is that it wants the President to give Oliver every chance to "prove up."

SAYS HE'LL MAKE IT.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—William J. Oliver of Knoxville, Tenn., the lowest bidder in connection with the contract for the completion of the Panama Canal, today notified Secretary Taft that he would complete his contract within the ten days allowed him. He assured the Secretary that he was able to associate with him one or more responsible contractors who, he was told beforehand, would be satisfactory to the Secretary and to the President.

CAUGHT TWENTY-SIX JAPS.

EL PASO, Jan. 28.—Twenty-six Japanese were found concealed in a box car near here this morning by immigration officers. Included in the number were several women disguised as boys. They had waded the river to avoid payment of the head tax.

SWALLOWS HIS OWN BRAINS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

DECATUR (Ill.) Jan. 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "Death from swallowing his own brains" is the verdict of the Coroner's jury in the case of George H. Thomas, an Illinois brakeman. The man's skull was fractured in such a way that his brains dropped down into his mouth.

CHILD OF BRET HARTE IS POOR

HIS DAUGHTER IS COMPELLED TO ENTER POORHOUSE.

After Long Struggle With Fashionable Poverty Harassed Woman Takes Final Step and Becomes Object of Public Charity in Portland, Me., Where She Reigned as Belle.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PORTLAND (Me.) Jan. 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mrs. W. H. Steele, formerly Jessie Harte, daughter of Bret Harte, has been sent to the Portland poorhouse, ill, penniless and apparently friendless. Her husband now somewhere in the West declared his wife's tastes too expensive.

He says he sent her $15 a week, but this was not enough. About a year ago Mrs. Steele came here under the patronage of local society women to give readings from her father's works. Since them she has borrowed and spent money freely until she is now hopelessly in debt.

She first lived at a fashionable apartment house, then rented a summer cottage at Cape Elizabeth, which she had to give up for lack of funds.

This winter she got apartments at the Lafayette, the biggest hotel in the ciety, but went away from there.

A fashionable family had her as a guest for a week until yesterday when she became an object of charity.

SPAIN'S QUEEN FIRED UPON.

ALARMING RUMOR WHICH HAS STARTLED MADRID.

Victoria and the Queen Mother Drove Furiously from the Woods on the Royal Estate, Say the Gossips. Officials Declare Three Pochers Shot at Royal Game Keepers.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MADRID, Jan. 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] This city was in an uproar of alarm today over the report that an attack had been made on Queen Victoria (Ena) at the royal estate of Casa de Campe.

It was reported that the Queen and the Queen Mother, while driving through the woods yesterday afternoon, had been shot at, and had only escaped by driving furiously from the place.

The threats of anarchists that the Queen should not live to present an heir to the Spanish throne were remembered.

Alarm was felt over the possibly dangerous effects of a nervous shock to the Queen at this time.

The official explanation of the affair is that three poachers, when surprised by the keepers of the royal preserves, in climbing the boundary wall of the estate, had fired at the keepers while trying to escape.

Not much credence, however, is placed on the official statement.

THREE MINERS ARE ENTOMBED.

BAD "SHOT" CAUSES FATAL FIRE IN NEW MEXICO MINE.

Flames Spread Rapidly and Resist All Efforts to Subdue Them—All Attempts at Rescue Have Been Futile—Communication With Scene of Disaster Is Impossible.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

PUEBLO (Colo.) Jan. 28.—A special to the Chieftain from Trinidad, Colo., says:

"Willow mine, No. 5, of the St. Louis, Rocky Mountain and Pacific Company, near Sam Houston, N. M., caught fire this morning from a misplaced shot, and is still burning.

All of the miners, except three, escaped, and it is believed they have been suffocated. All attempts at rescue thus far have been futile. The flames have resisted all efforts to extinguish them.

"As there is no direct wire communication with the property, further details are not obtainable tonight."

WILL USE THIRD RAIL.

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—It is stated on the authority of Chief Engineer Bush that the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railway will electrify its lines by Morristown and this city upon the completion of the McAdoo and Bergen Hill tunnels. It is the plan of the Lackawanna to use the third-rail system recently adopted by the New York Central and New Haven roads.

RUEF AND THE HOME

Rumor Affecting the Telephone Deal.

George Detwiler of Toledo Denies That His Brother Fled to Africa.

Says the Franchise Was Regularly Advertised and Relief Money Paid.

Attorney Calkins Mentions a Seventy-five Thousand Dollar Fee to Abe.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TOLEDO (O.) Jan. 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Because of rumors growing out of a telephone franchise secured last April in San Francisco by the Home Telephone Company, in which A. K. Detwiler of this city is interested, his brother, George Detwiler, today made a statement in answer to Frederick Palmer, a magazine writer, who went to San Francisco and furnished an article for Collier's Weekly. Among other things, Palmer wrote:

"While the ruins were still smoking, Ruef, the boss, rounded up his city fathers to grant a franchise to the Home Telephone Company. The allegations which you hear in quarters where such deals are well known is that originally Ruef had received a fee from the old telephone company for not molesting its monopoly. Then the Home company paid him a fee for letting it in as an exclusive rival.

"With this in his pocket, he invited other outside companies to compete, and took a contingent fee from one of them. Informed of the situation, the Home company said it was not getting a 'square deal.' Ruef pointed to the law which compelled competitive bids. However, as a next step, he could so word the specifications that only the Home company, which had a patented automatic device, could possibly meet them."

RUMORS OF FLIGHT.

Out of the printing of this tale, which George Detwiler declares is a rehash of stories printed in San Francisco newspapers, came rumors to the effect that A. K. Detwiler, a stockholder in the telephone company and an officer of the construction company, had fled to South Africa to escape investigation upon charges growing out of his connection with the franchise.

George Detwiler, in defense of his brother, who is absent, said today, practically:

"It is true that my brother is out of the country, but he went to Europe, after a meeting of the telephone directors in New York, on matters relating to the company, and he went only after a full understanding with the prosecuting attorney in San Francisco. I want to say that if ever he is wanted in San Francisco on any criminal charge, he will be there to answer it.

"RELIEF COMMITTEE."

"I am familiar with the telephone situation in San Francisco, and know that the franchise was regularly advertised in the regular way and bids were asked for. The legal meeting was held in the regular way, and the franchise was sold. There was $25,000 paid for it, with $75,000 given to the Relief Committee. They preferred to have it that way. If the money didn't get into the proper hands, we know nothing about it."

F. E. Calkins, an attorney in the Detwiler offices, said Abe Ruef, who, in the Collier's article, is said to have received a $75,000 fee for the franchise, was at that time chairman of the Relief Committee.

As to the legal holding of the company's franchise, George Detwiler made the statement that the city government, after the dissolution of the injunction proceedings, was granting permits in all parts of the city, so that the company could go ahead with its conduit construction work. He characterizes the story as one of the muck rake variety with a political origin, or the invention of business rivals.

The Detwilers are among the wealthiest of Toledo men. They are heavily interested in the San Francisco telephone deal, about which the "graft" rumors have been circulating, and George Detwiler says rumor has been implicating them.

ROME NAMES NEW BISHOP.

NINE JURORS NOW IN BOX.

Progress Made in Securing Thaw Trial Panel.

Family of Prisoner Seems Harmonious Again.

Actor Barrymore Summoned to Jerome's Office.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NINE jurors are secured and new panel of one hundred is ordered.

"I respect the memory of Stanford White," proclaims brother of Mrs. Evelyn Nesbit Thaw.

He says his sister deserted her mother.

Thaw family were all in court yesterday and actions show no breech in circle.

Former Chief of Detectives O'Meara and two Pennsylvania alienists are expected to testify for Thaw.

Testimony in case is not expected before Wednesday.

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Two more jurors were accepted today and sworn in for the trial of Harry K. Thaw for the murder of Stanford White, making the number now chosen nine of the necessary twelve. To obtain these two recruits it was necessary to examine fifty talesmen of the special panel of two hundred. As on last Friday, therefore, today's ratio of selections to the men examined was 4 per cent.

It was clear early in the day that the original special panel was likely to be depleted without filling the jury box, and after a brief conference between Judge Fitzgerald, Dist.-Atty. Jerome and counsel for the defense, counsel made the necessary application and the court signed the order for a new special panel of one hundred talesmen.

Subpoenas were sent out immediately.

"Jack" Barrymore, an actor, was accompanied to the courtroom today by Detective Flood of the District Attorney's staff.

BARRYMORE IS SUMMONED.

Barrymore is the brother of Ethel Barrymore and was an acquaintance of Evelyn Nesbit about the same time she was receiving attentions from Stanford White and knew the principals in the tragedy.

Barrymore has made a long statement to the District Attorney, which the District Attorney now has in the form of an affidavit.

As in the case of Mrs. Holman and her son, Howard Nesbit, Barrymore will be called, if called at all, only as a witness in rebuttal to counteract testimony which the defense may introduce in the case in the effort to show the provocation and which may tend to blacken the character of Stanford White in his relations with Evelyn Nesbit before and after she became the wife of Harry Thaw.

Harry Thaw appeared to be in better spirits today and less constrained than during any day of the trial. The daily sittings in the courtroom, the journeys to and fro, brief as they are, the noontime chats with his wife and relatives, bringing to him some surcease from the deadly monotony of prison life are gradually tinting his face with a healthier tinge than the yellow-white pallor acquired in the Tombs.

He has been quick to adjust himself to his new situation. From what can be learned Thaw is well pleased with the men selected for the jury. With the return of sunshine and better weather, the Countess of Yarmouth again made one of the family party in the courtroom. It was her first appearance there since the opening day of the trial. With her were her mother, Mrs. William Thaw, her sister, Mrs. Joseph L. Carnegie, Edward and Josiah Thaw, the prisoner's brother, and Mr. Carnegie, his brother-in-law. Evelyn Nesbit Thaw, the defendant's wife, and her inseparable companion, Mae Mackenzie, sat together as usual. Mrs. Carnegie occupying the chair next to Evelyn, thus separating the latter from Mrs. William Thaw, who sat at the end of the row nearest the aisle, through which her accused son must pass to and from the "prison pen."

The family were seated in two rows of chairs, just back of where Harry Thaw sits. In the first row behind the prisoner were Edward Thaw, George Carnegie and Countess of Yarmouth. In the second row Mrs. William Thaw sat upon the aisle and nearest the defendant, next to her sat Mrs. Carnegie and then came Mrs. Harry K. Thaw and Miss Mackenzie.

Mrs. William Thaw and her daughters greeted the prisoner's wife with the usual bows and nods of the head.

The rapid manner in which the remaining talesmen were disposed of this morning caused the District Attorney's office to summon an additional panel of 100 men, who will appear in court tomorrow.

JUROR IS SELECTED.

The first juror of the day was secured in Charles D. Newton, a retired business man. Mr. Newton declared that he had formed an opinion in the case, but he believed it was not so strong as to prevent his rendering a fair and impartial verdict.

When it was seen that Newton was answering satisfactorily all questions put to him, the members of the Thaw family began to take a lively interest. Mrs. William Thaw leaned over and engaged the Countess of Yarmouth in earnest conversation. Mrs. Harry Thaw leaned far forward, taking in every word. In response to an inquiry by Hartridge, the proposed juror said he had no prejudice against any particular line of defense, and if there was any question as to the legality of the defense he would be guided by the instructions of the court.

Newton stepped into the jury box at 12:02.

Justice Fitzgerald at this juncture called for the attorneys, and after a consultation it was decided to adjourn until 2 p.m. The judge announced that there had been a break in the heating apparatus, and the temperature in the room could not be brought to a satisfactory degree for two hours.

DISPUTES WITH JEROME.

At the afternoon session, Julius Somner, a talesman, created some amusement by arguing with Dist.-Atty. Jerome as to the value of an opinion.

"Do you mean to say," asked Jerome, "that you would let the tattle or idle gossip of the newspapers influence your judgment as against any evidence you may hear in court?"

"Yes," replied the talesman, "for I don't believe that all the newspapers print is idle gossip."

Somner was excused.

William R. King was excused by consent when his examination was half concluded. He was not sure in his mind as to what constituted a reasonable doubt.

Daniel O'Keefe seemed to be a likely juror until he was challenged by the State. O'Keefe said he knew of no reason why he should not serve except that one of his children was slightly ill, and he would like to see his wife before going to the jury.

"The jurors are allowed that privilege," said the District Attorney. "They are not really put in jail or placed in cold storage."

W. R. Stockbridge progressed so far in his examination that another juror seemed probable, but at the last moment there came a peremptory challenge from the defense, making nine so far employed by the defense. The reason for the challenge was not given. Four talesmen then were excused in as many minutes. Two had doctors' certificates and two had opinions.

BOTH SIDES CHALLENGE.

The State used its eleventh peremptory challenge in excusing the next talesman, William McFadden, a manufacturer. McFadden said he would like to have strong evidence one way or the other before making up his mind.

The defense retaliated with a peremptory challenge for D. N. Hall of the New York Life Insurance Company. It is one of the odd features of the case that every talesman who has given his business as insurance has been challenged.

WINS REGARD OF PRISON ESCORT.

WHITE'S SLAYER ASKS FRIEND TO ACCOMPANY HIM.

Makes Special Effort to Secure Favor for Deputy Sheriff Delahunty Who Has Marshaled Nan Patterson, Patrick, Molineaux, Bertha Clache and Others from Tombs.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Since his incarceration Thaw has made many friends in the Tombs Prison, but none of whom he thinks more of than Mitchell Delahunty, the Deputy Sheriff who escorts him to and from the court every day. Delahunty became acquainted with the prisoner in a peculiar manner. Thaw one day saw the Deputy Sheriff, who is only 25 years old, sitting in one of the jail corridors looking sorrowful. Thaw asked one of the keepers what Delahunty's trouble was and the keeper replied:

"Well, you see he's feeling bad because he understands that somebody else is going to be detailed to escort you back and forth from the courtroom during the trial."

Thaw couldn't understand why Delahunty should feel bad about that and was vouchsafed the following explanation:

"He feels bad because his pride is hurt," said the keeper. "You see he's had charge of Nan Patterson, Bertha Clache, Molineaux, the Terra Nova girl, Patrick and a whole lot of other prisoners in big trials and he wants to keep his record complete."

This story tickled Thaw immensely and he laughed heartily.

"Well," he said, "we'll see if we can't fix it for him."

Thaw sent for Warden William Flynn and as a special request, asked that Delahunty be detailed to accompany him. The warden told Thaw that he had intended to detail Delahunty anyway, but that the keepers had been joking with the young deputy and making him think somebody else would take his place.

From that time on Thaw and Delahunty became fast friends. For hours, sometimes, Thaw will listen in his cell to interesting stories told by Delahunty of his experiences with noted criminals, while the Deputy Sheriff sits out in the corridor.

DETECTIVE WILL ASSIST.

TWO ALIENISTS ARE SUMMONED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 28.—Detective Roger O'Mara, formerly superintendent of police, who was engaged by Harry K. Thaw immediately following the murder of Stanford White, will leave this city tomorrow for New York to attend the Thaw trial. O'Mara refuses to discuss the purpose of his trip or to confirm the report that he will take with him those witnesses of importance to the defense.

Persistent rumors are rife that Dr. C. C. Wiley and Dr. Henry A. Hutchinson, superintendent of the Western Hospital for the Insane at Dixmont, Pa., a suburb of this city, will leave for New York this week, where both of them will be called as expert witnesses to prove that Harry K. Thaw was not responsible for his act in shooting White.

Case Comes Over from Regime of Former Managing Attorney and Contesting Lawyer Expects It to Be Settled Before Trial on Merits. Lawyers Deny Debt.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Suit has just been begun by Dr. Charles L. Dana, one of the alienists called into the Thaw case, when the defense was in the hands of W. M. K. Olcott, against Harry Thaw and his mother, for $1000 for professional services, which, he says, he has been unable to collect.

Leon Lauterstein of No. 60 Wall street, who appears for Dr. Dana, will move on Wednesday in the city court to have the case placed on the short-cause calendar so that it may be decided at an early date.

Lauterstein says the services rendered by Dr. Dana consisted of consultation as an expert for the defense and an examination of Thaw in the Tombs. He says his bill was presented two months ago.

TRIAL ATTRACTS INTEREST.

THAW'S FRIENDS CROWD HOTEL

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—There has probably never been a murder trial in this country which for sustained interest has equaled the Thaw trial. While the obtaining of a jury is a dry, monotonous work, crowds begged for admission all last week. Now that testimony which it is generally expected will be exceedingly interesting is soon to be heard, the morbid and curious will appear in greater numbers. Justice Fitzgerald has decided on stern measures, however, to curb the tendency of the mere sightseer. He has issued orders that at no time during the trial shall spectators be admitted. Only those having positive business in the court will be admitted. Justice Fitzgerald has decided that the spectators, particularly women, who appear at trials with peculiarly sensational features, will be barred. This order has been made imperative and the public have been told to obey it to the letter.

The interest in which the trial is held is shown particularly by the arrival of visitors at the New York hotels. Residents of Pittsburgh, naturally, are in the majority. The apparent desire of the defense to hasten the trial or at least to complete the jury is thought to be a sign that some move not as yet hinted at will be adopted. The defense has never outlined or intimated what the line of defense will be. Its counsel have said that no inkling would be given before the address to the jury was made. There have been so many surprises in the case in seven months that a new move on the part of the defense is being looked for.

BEALE NOT A WITNESS.

BAKERSFIELD, Jan. 28.—Truxton Beale, who, it was claimed, is in New York waiting to be called to the witness stand in the Thaw case, arrived in this city late this afternoon from his ranch at Tejon, where he has been for several weeks. So far as known Mr. Beale has no intention of going to New York.

EVELYN'S BROTHER CHAMPIONS WHITE

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Defending his mother from what he says are insinuations respecting the manner in which she had brought up Evelyn Nesbit Thaw, Howard Nesbit, a brother of Harry Thaw's wife, today gave out a statement in which he said his sister deserted her mother, Mrs. Holman of Pittsburgh.

He also defended the memory of Stanford White.

Young Nesbit has been in the courtroom every day since the trial was begun, but in that time he has not spoken a word to his sister. While his sister is in court to cheer her husband, young Nesbit is here to aid the prosecution, and it is said is to be called by Dist. Atty. Jerome in rebuttal of testimony that the prosecutor expects Thaw's wife to give.

"I respect and honor the memory of Stanford White," Nesbit said in a statement, "and should it be proved to me that my faith in is here to aid the prosecution, and, it is said, is to be called by Dist.-

"Many charges have been published against my mother, but all of them are false. Why, it has even been said that my mother sold her daughter, but that is a lie, absolutely and unqualifiedly. It was Mrs. Thaw who deserted, abandoned, and ignored her mother, and that can be proved absolutely. If any breach exists between Mrs. Thaw and my mother, it is of Mrs. Thaw's making."

LENA ASHWELL ILL.

Miss Lena Ashwell, the English emotional actress, is seriously ill of nervous prostration at the Auditorium Annex, and her American tour has been abandoned. Overwork and worry attending the production of "The Undercurrent," Victor Mapes's new play, brought on the attack that made it impossible for Miss Ashwell to continue her engagement at the Studebaker Theater, where she was playing.

DEPARTMENT NEEDS CURE.

With the City Health Department apparently helpless to check the spread of the contagious-disease epidemic, the City Council tonight took the matter in hand and ordered an investigation of the conduct of the Health Department. There were 183 new cases of scarlet fever reported today and 43 of diphtheria, making the combined total well over 7000 cases.

MAYOR DISAPPEARS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BLOOMINGTON (Ill.) Jan. 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mayor A. G. Erickson has mysteriously disappeared, and his friends believe he has become deranged through worry over the responsibility attaching to the office. He was last seen here Friday, and has been traced to Chicago. Erickson was formerly a coal miner, and was advanced from the position of alderman when Mayor J. S. Neville died suddenly last summer. Mayor Neville had launched many enterprises for the city, including new water and lighting systems. It is known that the burden of these enterprises weighed heavily on Erickson.

MILLIONAIRE MISLED.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

INDIANAPOLIS (Ind.) Jan. 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The police have struck a new lead in the sensational affair of George Rhodius, the young millionaire who recently married Elma Dare, the keeper of a disreputable house in this city, and there is no doubt in their minds that Rhodius is the victim of a conspiracy, in which at least two men are engaged with the woman in an effort to get hold of the Rhodius fortune.

RUSH OF ICE CAKES.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

HAVANA (Ill.) Jan. 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Although the waters of the Illinois River and its tributaries have stopped rising, the residents of Mason and the surrounding counties are confronted by another danger. Enormous ice cakes are swept along by the rush of torrents, threatening destruction to all in their path. Live stock, which was frozen into the ice in the floods of the Mackinaw River north of here had to be cut from the ice.

SOCIALISTS SCORN PRAYER.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MADISON (Wis.) Jan. 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The prayers delivered at the opening of the Wisconsin Legislature daily are too long to suit the convenience of the legislators. The Socialists, in particular, have declared that there is too much "useless formality," and want the ceremony of prayer eliminated.

MINE IS PRISON OF THREE HUNDRED MEN.

Two Explosions in Prussian Government Coal Drift Cause Wreck of Property, Kills One Hundred and Sixty-four and Wounds Sixteen.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BERLIN, Jan. 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] An explosion of fire damp caused a terrific calamity at the Reden mines near Saarbruecken, early this morning, killing 164 miners outright, wounding 16, and imprisoning more than 350 working in distant parts of the mine. Fire has started, and should it reach the place where the entombed miners are, they are absolutely lost. Superhuman efforts are being made to rescue them. The rescue corps, who are provided with the most modern appliances, are working unremittently. The mines belong to the Prussian government, and are splendidly organized.

LOOK FOR FRENCH AID.

The accident bears a remarkable resemblance to the Courriers disaster. The people here are already asking whether the French will reciprocate Germany's action by dispatching a salvage column to assist in the rescue. The coal district of the Saar is the most important in Germany, giving employment to 60,000 miners and producing 12,000,000 tons of coal annually.

Hopes of rescuing the imprisoned miners are slight, according to the latest dispatches.

BODIES ARE RECOVERED.

Up to 6 o'clock this evening seventy-seven bodies had been recovered and fifty-six corpses were known to be underground.

Only fifty live men have been brought out, and of these the doctors say at least thirty-five will die, as they are frightfully injured through having been hurled against the walls of the galleries by the force of the explosion.

An official report given out this afternoon says the number of dead cannot exceed 160.

Immediately after the explosion rescue workers were hurried from all the adjacent mines, and boldly entered the Reden shaft in great numbers. The work of rescue has been greatly hampered by the poisonous gas rising from the explosion, and by a fierce fire that broke out immediately afterward. This caused efforts at rescue to be suspended and the workers had to be ordered out of the mine.

SECOND CRASH OCCURS.

After all the rescuers had reached daylight, according to one version, a second terrific detonation was heard underground. But, according to another report many of the rescuers were still below when the second explosion occurred, and it is estimated that the casualty list from the two explosions reaches a total of 300 men.

It is regarded as certain that the lowest levels of the mines are completely wrecked, and the inspectors are deliberating upon further measures to get control of the fire. The managers are discussing the advisability of flooding these levels, as the only means of extinguishing the flames. It is believed that all the men who were in the lower levels assuredly are dead. It will take a full week to enter and explore the mine.

The disaster occurred 2300 feet under ground, and is one and a quarter miles from the floor of the shaft. It is the greatest mining catastrophe ever known in the Saarbruck region.

About 600 men entered the mine for the day shift, and 400 of them escaped through the Bildersteck shaft, which communicates with the Reden underground. At a late hour tonight it was still uncertain how many workmen were in the mine, the reports being conflicting. The entrance to the galleries underground is blocked with dead horses.

Most of the bodies brought to the surface are mangled beyond recognition.

The mine inspectors this evening ordered the rescuers to return to their homes, but to hold themselves in readiness for further orders.

Emperor William has ordered that a full report of the disaster be sent to him.

Experts calculate that the rescue work will take one week.

FRANCE RESPONDS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

PARIS, Jan. 28.—President Fallieres, Foreign Minister Pichon and the municipal Council of Paris have telegraphed Emperor William, expressing the sympathy of France in the Saarbruck district, and recalling the generous assistance given by Germany at the time of the Courrieres catastrophe.

GREAT EXPLOSION IN FRANCE.

ALL BUT THREE ARE SAVED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

LENZ (France) Jan. 28.—A terrible disaster, involving the loss of many lives, has occurred in a coal mine at Lieven in the Courrier district. The explosion was caused by firedamp.

A panic followed the explosion, and the greater part of the population of the town rushed to the mouth of the pit, preventing the work of rescue until the gendarmes restored a semblance of order.

The Mayor of Lieven, who is an old miner, is superintending the work of rescue. Of the 812 miners who ascended into the pit this morning, 680 had been brought to the surface at 2 o'clock this morning. The bodies of the chief engineer and his two assistants, horribly mangled, were recovered. It is not yet known how many lives were lost as a result of the explosion.

An official investigation has been made and it is declared certain that all the miners who were down at the time of the explosion have returned to the surface. Arthur Lamedin, a member of the Chamber of Deputies, who descended into the mine, confirms the previous reports that only three men lost their lives, and a declaration to this effect has been posted. The crowd, however, continues to show excitement, and when this portion was read there was cries of "They did the same thing at Courrieres."

Advices received by the Minister of Labor indicate that Vassiere, the chief engineer, and two of his assistants, were probably the only victims in the explosion in the coal mine today at Lieven. It appears that they had gone down to search for a gas leak, the task not requiring the assistance of any of the mine employés.

STEAL GOLD TOOTH.

BAKERSFIELD, Jan. 28.—Frank Amador, a Mexican teamster, was knocked down early this morning and robbed of a gold tooth. While walking through the business section of the city he was attacked by two men, who jumped out of a darkened place. A blow in the mouth loosened several teeth. The robbers, after going through his pockets and finding only $2, took a gold tooth, which was among those loosened. The culprits were apprehended in a dance hall.

It is learned from an ecclesiastical source that as a result of an audience with the Pope recently by five French priests, the Pope has changed his position toward the church and state separation in France, and will issue new instructions, under which it is believed it will be possible to organize public worship under the supplementary law introduced by Minister of Education Briand.

"FAIR PLAY" FROM PERKINS.

Monterey People Shall Have Chance to Talk.

Needham Has Hopes "Pork" May Not Escape.

New Customhouse Proposed for San Francisco.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Representative Needham has not given up hope of securing an appropriation for improving Monterey Harbor.

He has telegraphed to Henry A. Greene, a leading citizen of Monterey, that it is possible to get such a provision put in the River and Harbor Bill in the Senate Commerce Committee.

If Greene and other citizens want a hearing before the committee, Needham will secure it, and Senator Perkins, who is a committee member, will see that the delegation gets "fair play."

Senator Perkins today introduced a bill to create a new customs district in Arizona, with headquarters at Nogales. The collector, the bill provides, shall be paid $2000.

BAY CITY CUSTOMHOUSE.

Senator Perkins today introduced a bill appropriating $250,000 for a new San Francisco customhouse. It provides that Contractor Thomas Butler shall be paid such part of that sum as the Secretary of the Treasury may determine to be necessary to replace work and material in the customhouse destroyed by last spring's fire and earthquake and to compensate the contractor for an increase in the cost of labor and material that resulted from the catastrophe.

The measure provides that it shall operate as a bar against future claims of Butler for damages sustained by him in construction of the customhouse.

CHILD LABOR A GREAT EVIL

BUT TILLMAN THINKS NORTHERN MILLIONAIRES WORSE.

When Beveridge Concludes His Speech the South Carolinan Takes Occasion to Offer a Few Remarks on Outside Capital—Again Advocates State Control.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—Senator Beveridge today resumed his speech in behalf of the measure prohibiting interstate commerce in articles which are the product of child labor.

Sen. Beveridge.

Senator Tillman acknowledged the very great evil of child labor in his State, but he believed the question one for State, rather than for Federal, control, adding to the difficulty in his State, he said, was the northern millionaire, who invested his money in cotton mills and then influenced the Legislature against child-labor laws.

"The Senator is, to a certain extent, right," interrupted Senator Ballinger. "There is northern money in South Carolina, and God help South Carolina if there was not northern money there."

"Rather than have northern money there exercising its lobby influence," retorted Mr. Tillman, "I would to God the Senator and all others would keep northern money out of my State."

ROASTS PROF. ELLIOTT.

GROSVENOR LOSES TEMPER.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—"You are the most insulting and contemptible witness I ever saw before a committee," was the retort Representative Grosvenor made to Prof. Henry W. Elliott of Cleveland, at a meeting of the House Ways and Means Committee held today to consider the Southard measure for regulating sealing in Alaskan waters.

"You can't shut me up. All this evidence is coming. It will go upon the floor of the House," Mr. Elliott shouted.

"Gen. Grosvenor will interfere whenever he wants to. Take it into the House as soon as you wish," Grosvenor replied.

The controversy arose through Prof. Elliott's attempt to read to the committee much testimony concerning the case of the J. Hamilton Lewis sealing vessel which was finally settled before The Hague tribunal.

Elliott devoted practically the entire morning to citing the Lewis case as proof of his claim that the North American Commercial Company, which holds a concession from the United States to take seals in Alaskan waters, obtained the concession fraudulently, and should not be permitted to continue.

At the conclusion of Elliott's statement, the hearing was declared closed.

FOR IMPERIAL SETTLERS.

Time of Entry on Public Lands to Be Extended Two Years—Joke in a Bill.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] It is reported that an agreement has been made between Senator Flint and Representative Smith, under which the former will push the latter's bill extending the time of entry on public lands for Imperial Valley settlers two years beyond next spring. Smith will then, it is said, accept the Flint bill dealing with the Colorado River break, when it comes to the House, after passing the Senate. Smith says there's nothing in this, but the fact remains that he admits he will accept the Flint bill, and that Flint has introduced a bill extending the time of entry in the Senate for Smith, and will secure its passage.

Smith gives as a reason for this probable acceptance of the Flint bill that the Imperial Valley settlers have been working long on irrigation problems and would be ready to dicker with the Southern Pacific interests and the Reclamation Service under the Flint bill or any other measure, for the protection of their own rights. If their rights were endangered, Smith says, he would fight the Flint bill to a finish.

It was discovered today that the Rivers and Harbors Bill, as reported to the House, contains a provision for a survey of the Colorado River, "with a view to establishing navigation as far as possible from its mouth." This is regarded as a joke by the California members who are familiar with the fact that the river now flows into the Salton Sink instead of the Gulf of California.

FIFTY-NINTH CONGRESS.

CLOSING SESSION.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—SENATE. Senator Beveridge occupied the attention of the Senate throughout the day with a continuation of his argument in behalf of his Child Labor Bill. He had only reached the legal and constitutional phases of the question after speaking for more than four hours, and arrangement was made whereby he will conclude tomorrow.

In taking the position as to the power of Congress to exercise any restraint it saw fit in interstate commerce, Mr. Beveridge met a fusillade of questions by his colleagues, and his progress in argument was slow. While he said the power to regulate was absolute, he maintained that the question of policy would always restrain any hurtful regulations.

The Senate adopted a resolution directing the Interstate Commerce Commission to report as to the position in its employ held by C. S. Hanks, who recently stated before the Boston Chamber of Commerce that railroad rates could be reduced 10 per cent. without impairing dividends.

The resolution also asks for the facts on which this statement was based.

Both houses today adopted a joint resolution continuing the Joint Postal Commission until its affairs can be wound up.

HOUSE. Twenty bills relating to the District of Columbia were passed today in the House, this being "District day." A joint resolution was passed granting permission to the Secretary of War to sell during the next three months to citizens of Montana at actual cost to the United States at place of sale, limited quantities of hay, straw and grain for domestic uses from the stock provided for the use of the garrison at Fort Assiniboine.

Representative Nixon of Montana explained that there were 20,000 head of cattle in the vicinity of Assiniboine threatened with starvation by reason of the blizzard now raging, and in dire need of hay, straw and grain.

The House adjourned.

WASHINGTON BRIEFS.

Stole an Indian Roll.

MUSKOGEE (I. T.) Jan. 28.—W. T. Martin, Jr., convicted of stealing a Creek Indian roll from the Dawes Commission, today was sentenced to serve a year and a day in the Federal Prison at Leavenworth, Kan., and to pay a fine of $10,000. Judge Lawrence refused to grant a new trial. An appeal will be taken.

Confined, but Not Insane.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—Attorney A. A. Brown of this city today presented a motion in the Supreme Court of the United States for a writ of habeas corpus for the release of Harry Boynton of Solano county, Cal., from the California Hospital for the Insane at Napa. Boynton alleges that he is not insane, and that his incarceration is the result of a conspiracy to deprive him not only of his liberty, but of his property as well.

Mechanical Postal Carriers.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—A result of recent reports that the Postoffice Department contemplates the adoption of a mechanical device for the delivery of mails on rural routes, the department has received numerous letters from inventors requesting tests of their devices. Fourth Assistant Postmaster-General DeGraw, in a statement today, says the department has never contemplated the adoption of a mechanical device for the delivery of mail, nor will the tests be given any such devices, as suggested, as the idea is impracticable. One of the schemes for distributing mail is by trolley wire.

ETHEL LEVEY'S CASE.

Actress Secures Court Order for Taking of Testimony as to Her Husband's Alleged Misconduct.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mrs. Grace Ethelia Cohan, the vaudeville actress known as Ethel Levey, is suing her husband, George M. Cohan, for divorce, and her attorneys, Carter & Haskell, have obtained from Judge Leventritt, of the Supreme Court, an order naming John A. Brown of Chicago commissioner to examine George Sliver, E. J. Walton, Frank C. Amberg and Joseph Abrahams as to Cohan's alleged misconduct in Chicago.

Jacob J. Kern, a Chicago lawyer, will examine the witnesses in Mrs. Cohan's behalf.

FIND NEW HOME FOR "SALOME."

TASK IMPOSED ON CONRIED AND HIS OPERATIC STARS.

Lessees of the Metropolitan Operahouse, New York City, Will Withdraw the Strauss Music as Requested After Making a Protest to the Company.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, January 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Standing solidly behind Conried for his production of "Salome" and insisting that there is nothing in the performance which should cause offense to any one, the lessees of the Metropolitan Operahouse tonight said that, rather than cause trouble between themselves and the Metropolitan Opera and Real Estate Company, which owns the house, they would withdraw the production.

They will meet the directors of the holding company, present their views and urge a reconsideration of the request for a withdrawal, but they will not make a fight.

Inasmuch as the opposition of the holding company is unalterable, it is not at all likely that the Strauss opera, which has startled and thrilled music lovers in all the European capitals, and the production of which was regarded by Conried as his greatest achievement, will ever again be heard in the Metropolitan Operahouse.

OIL TRUST DIVIDENDS HAVE ILLEGAL BASIS.

Interstate Commerce Commission Finds Against the Monopoly—Secret Rates Discovered—Prices Extravagantly High.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—The Interstate Commerce Commission today sent to Congress a report of the investigation made by it under the Tillman-Gillespie resolution concerning the relations of common carriers by rail to the production and distribution of oil. The report covers the distribution of petroleum and its products east of the Mississippi River, and incidentally, the Kansas and Texas fields.

The report points out generally the methods by which the Standard Oil Company has built up and perpetuated its monopoly. It is asserted that "the ruin of its competitors has been a distinct part of the policy of the Standard Oil Company in the past, systematically and persistently pursued."

"No instance," the report says, "is found where any railway company has been interested in oil lands or petroleum production, and only one instance is shown where officials of a railway company were interested in the production and sale of oil. This relates to certain officials of the Baltimore & Ohio Southwestern railroad having owned stock of the Argand Refining Company, which was on their recommendation afterward sold to the Standard Oil Company and the lubricating contract which the road transferred to the Galena Oil Company, a Standard Oil subsidiary.

MAKES LARGE PROFITS.

"The Standard Oil Company largely monopolizes the handling of petroleum from the mouth of the well until it is sold to the retailer and sometimes to the consumer, and under ordinary circumstances its margin of profit is very large. Estimates made in the report show a profit on refined oil from the Sugar Creek refinery at Kansas City of from 5 to 8 cents a gallon. A much higher profit is indicated for gasoline. The sale of refined oil from the large Standard refinery at Whiting is correspondingly profitable.

"The evidence shows little basis for the contention that the enormous dividends of the Standard Oil Company are the legitimate result of its economies. Except for its pipe lines, the Standard has but little legitimate advantage over the independent refiner.

"The Standard buys advertising space in many newspapers which it fills, not with advertisements but with reading matter prepared by agents kept for that purpose and paid for at advertising rates as ordinary news. The assumption is that this literature furnishes many of the ideas touching the great benefits conferred upon the public by the Standard Oil Company.

ABSOLUTE CONTROL OF PRICE.

"Possession of the pipe lines enables the Standard absolutely to control the price of crude petroleum and the price which its competitors in a given locality shall pay. It can raise the price in one locality and obtain its own oil from another and raise the price whenever it desires to do so. Whoever controls the avenues of transportation of the raw material or of the refined product can speedily drive his competitors out of existence and the production and distribution of petroleum is no exception to the rule."

The pipe line of the Standard, the report continues, is not a natural but rather an artificial advantage. It is argued that the reason why long pipe lines competing with those of the Standard have not been provided is that obstacles in the way of such undertakings have been placed by the railroads, whose right of way has generally stood as a Chinese wall against all attempts to extend pipe lines.

Ordinarily, it is said the Standard has not received rebates in recent years, so far as has been discovered, but it has nevertheless enjoyed secret rates possessing all the elements of illegal rebate, and the advantages so obtained over independent shippers have been of very great value to that company. Numerous instances of discrimination in favor of the Standard resulting from the published railway rates were found, says the report. In this connection the following is an instance given:

SPECIAL RATES FOR THE TRUST.

"The rate of 10 cents a hundred pounds upon petroleum and its by-products existed for many years from Neodosha, Kan., where the Standard operated a refinery, to Kansas City. This was for the interest of the Standard, but when the Standard constructed the refinery at Sugar Creek, Kansas City, and connected it by pipe line with the Kansas oil wells, the rail rate was advanced from 10 to 17 cents a hundred pounds.

"While the railways insist that this was not done at the instance of the Standard, the significant fact remains in this and many other cases called to the commission's attention that the rate was not changed until it became of interest to the Standard that it should be changed, and it was changed as that company naturally would desire."

In discussing the assertion contained in the report that "the ruin of its competitors has been a distinct part of the policy of the Standard Oil Company," the commission says one method has been the organization of a perfect system of espionage over the shipments of its competitors, resulting in knowledge as to the destination of every car of oil leaving the refinery of an independent. The Standard agent at the destination, says the report, is held responsible if the independent oil is sold.

"It does not appear," continues the report, "that the railroad companies have directed the furnishing of this information or that the practice has been sanctioned by superior officers of the road, but it does appear that such information is systematically obtained from railroad employes. The testimony shows that the Standard t one time, if it does not now, developed a fund for the purpose of obtaining this information.

"It frequently happened, when the supply of independent oil in a particular territory was low and a shipment was particularly necessary, that the shipment has unaccountably gone astray. Information also appears to have been given the Union tank line, a creature of the Standard, concerning the whereabouts of its cars while such information was not furnished to other owners of tank cars, and some discrimination in tank-car mileage in favor of the tank line is shown for one railroad."

It is asserted that it is the practice of the Standard, whenever a competitor erects a storage tank to which the oil is transferred from the tank car, to reduce the price of oil in that locality to such a point as to make the business unprofitable to such competitor while prices were maintained in other localities.

There was much complaint that the railroads allowed the Standard to erect its tanks at convenient points on the right of way and declined to accord this privilege to independent refiners. The commission says that it is satisfied that such discrimination has been very generally practiced in the past.

The report shows that "at present every considerable railroad in the United States is buying of the Galena Oil Companies, one of the Standard companies, most of its lubricating and signal oils, the prices paid for lubricating oil being substantially the same to the various railroads.

PRICES EXTRAVAGANTLY HIGH.

"The contracts generally contain a guaranty to the road that the cost of lubrication shall not exceed a certain sum per mile or engine mile, and provide for oil inspectors appointed by the oil company to supervise the use of oil. The Galena Company is rarely called upon to pay anything under the guaranty, and the prices obtained by the oil company are extravagantly high. Oil of the same grade could be bought in the open market for about one-half the Galena Company's prices."

The report severely arraigns the Standards' method of competition, saying "The Standard has repeatedly, after becoming the owner of a competing company, continued to operate it under the old name, carrying the idea to the public that the company was still independent and competing with the Standard. It has used such purchased or independently organized companies to kill off competitors by such companies reducing prices. The operation of such fake independent concerns has been one of its most effective means of destroying competition.

"The Standard has habitually reduced the price against its competitor in a particular locality while maintaining its prices at other places. When competition was destroyed it advanced or restored former prices. The Standard has sold different grades of oil at different prices from the same barrel. It has paid employes of independent oil companies for information as to the business of these competitors, and has paid employes of industrial companies to secure the adoption of its oil in preference to that of its competitors.

"It has followed every barrel of independent oil to its destination. Its agencies are instructed to secure customers at any sacrifice. It has tampered with the oil inspectors in different States. The laws of several States concerning the inspection of oil are singularly defective, and this has been turned to profit by the Standard.

STANDARD FAILS TO EXPLAIN.

"The commission's only knowledge of the competitive method of the Standard Oil Company is obtained from evidence taken under oath in this investigation. The Standard was given permission to explain or rebut the facts.

"This, if true, demonstrates that the competitive methods of the company in the past have been unfair and disreputable. Its motto has been the destruction of competition at any cost, and this policy has been pursued without much reference to decency or conscience, and it is significant that the larger independent refineries sell the greater part of their product in foreign countries. One independent testified that 75 per cent. of his product went abroad, and said he could compete with the Standard in Germany, where its methods as followed in this country would not be tolerated, but that he could not compete with it here."

On the question of remedies the report says: "More than anything else the pipe line has contributed to the Standard Oil monopoly, and its supremacy must continue until its rivals enjoy the same transportation facilities. The amended act to regulate commerce makes the existing pipe lines common carriers subject to that act, and the power to prescribe just and reasonable rates, regulations and practices after complaint and hearing is conferred upon the commission.

TARIFF OF NO ADVANTAGE.

"But the pipe-line tariffs filed with the commission are alleged to be of no actual advantage to the independent operators. The commission only can act upon these schedules after the complaint has been made, challenging specific rates, regulations or practices. Some complaints are now pending. How far the amended authority will prove adequate to the correction of such injustice as now exists in respect to this traffic remains to be seen.

"Since in the past petroleum rates have not always been established to promote, but often to check traffic, and the tariffs are more or less permeated with discriminations in favor of the Standard Oil Company, having been built up during a series of years in that view, it may be that this discrimination never will be eliminated by any process of complaint against a specific rate or practice.

"As to no other important traffic is there an approach to the monopoly of the Standard Oil Company in that of oil. Under these conditions it may become necessary to the uprooting of established wrongs and the prevention of others that the government shall fix in the first instance the rates and transportation of this traffic. This method has been adopted by the Legislature of one State.

"It probably will be found necessary to disassociate in the case of oil, as in that of other commodities, the function of transportation from that of production and distribution. What other remedies in addition to those already provided it may be necessary to prescribe may be better determined in the future by the results of experience in administering the present law."

SET FREE AT LEAVENWORTH.

Eighty-four Army Deserters Leave Military Prison.

This Is Largest Batch Ever Released at Once.

Police Think The Townsend's Slayer Is Caught.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

LEAVENWORTH (Kan.) Jan. 28.—Eighty-four inmates of the military prison at Fort Leavenworth, most of them who had been punished for deserting the army, were released today on an order from the Secretary of War. This is the largest number of men ever freed from any prison at any one time. The men had been sentenced to serve from one year up in the prison and all had done one year. They were recommended for clemency by Lieut-Col. Young, commandant of the prison because of good behavior. There was not enough citizens' clothing in the prison for them and several remained in prison tonight and will for a few days until it can be supplied. The government has made no appropriation for giving the men transportation to their homes, as is done in the United States penitentiary, and they have been turned adrift without a cent in their pockets. The majority came to Leavenworth during the day and begged food and shelter for the night. Some of them managed to get as far as Kansas City with money borrowed from soldiers at Fort Leavenworth.

The Chiefs of Police in Leavenworth, Atchison, Kansas City and St. Joseph were notified by Col. Young to prevent them picking the men up for desertion from the army.

They Arrest Former Street Car Conductor Who Accuses Dead Physician of Permitting His Wife to Die Under Puerperal Operation. Must Face Dead Man's Widow.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—Suspected of knowing something about the death of Dr. Charles W. Townsend of Staten Island, who was mysteriously murdered at his home last Friday night, a police last night arrested John L. a former street-car conductor, at his home in Brooklyn. The suspicions of the police were directed toward him by discovering that his wife died but a year ago after an operation attending childbirth. Dr. Townsend was attending the woman and had charge of the operation, being assisted by other doctors. Bell is reported to have blamed Dr. Townsend for his wife's death.

Bell was formerly employed as a conductor on a trolley line running to Flushing, and is said to have eloped with a young woman who was a member of a family socially prominent in that place. Her parents objected to the marriage, and Bell and his young wife removed to Staten Island, where he found employment as a street-car conductor.

Later, the commitment of Bell in the Tombs was rescinded and he was sent to Staten Island. It is probable that he will be taken before Mrs. Townsend for identification.

Inspector Schmittberger says his detectives declare they can produce five witnesses who claim to have seen Bell in the vicinity of the Townsend home and in other parts of New Brighton Friday night and Saturday morning.

Inspector Schmittberger told of a scene which occurred late Saturday night at the bedside of Dr. Townsend. He said the prisoner was taken a second time before Dr. Townsend, who stated that his peaked cap be pulled down over his eyes and that a handkerchief be placed over the lower part of the man's face.

When this had been done, the inspector said, the wounded man exclaimed: "That's the man who shot me." Then, turning to him, Dr. Townsend asked: "What hellish work and devilry have you up to last night?" The prisoner made no reply.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 28.—A murder trial, the outcome of which will be an important precedent in military circles, was called here today in the criminal branch of the court. Lieut. Edwin W. Drury and Private John Grimes of the Ninth United States Infantry were placed on trial, charged with the murder of William Crowley, 19 years old, who, on September 13, 1906, was killed near the United States arsenal by Private Dowd, acting under instructions from Lieut. Drury. Crowley and a number of other boys had come to have been caught stealing coal from the arsenal grounds, were pursued by soldiers, and Crowley was shot after he had gotten a considerable distance outside the arsenal limits.

The question at issue is: Has a soldier the authority to kill a man outside of government property, who is suspected of a crime within government property? The defense will maintain that as the alleged crime was committed within government property, the soldiers were justified in pursuing the man.

Crowley he died, however, Crowley was inside the arsenal, but claimed he was sitting on a doorstep, before he was fired at the sight of the approaching soldiers, and ran. He said he heard a command to halt, that he did halt, but was instantly shot.

May Arrest Former Street Car Conductor Who Accuses Dead Physician of Permitting His Wife to Die Under Puerperal Operation. Must Face Dead Man's Widow.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—Suspected of knowing something about the death of Dr. Charles W. Townsend of Staten Island, who was mysteriously murdered at his home last Friday night, the police last night arrested John Graham, a former street-car conductor, at his home in Brooklyn. The suspicions of the police were directed toward Graham by discovering that his wife died about a year ago after an operation following childbirth. Dr. Townsend was attending the woman and had charge of the operation, being assisted by other doctors. Bell is reported to have blamed Dr. Townsend for his wife's death.

SHOT MAN FLEEING FROM ARREST FOR THEFT.

California Authorities Carry Case to Supreme Court and Civil Trial Is Ordered—Officer and Enlisted Man Now Arraigned for Capital Offense.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 28.—A murder case the outcome of which will be an important precedent in military circles was called here today in the federal branch of the court. Lieut. Edwin W. Drury and Private John Dowd of the Ninth United States Infantry were placed on trial, charged with the murder of William Crowley, a boy, who, on September 10, 1906, was killed near the United States arsenal by Private Dowd, acting under instructions from Lieut. The question at issue is: Has a soldier authority to kill a man outside of government property, who is guilty of a crime within government property?

The defense maintain that as the alleged crime was committed within government property, the soldiers were justified in pursuing the man.

Crowley, it is said, however, Crowley made a statement in which he denied that he broke into the arsenal, but claimed that he was sitting on a doorstep, became frightened at the sight of the approaching soldiers, and ran. He said that a command to halt, that he did not hear, was instantly shot.

Days following the shooting the civil and military authorities had frequent clashes. The police officials and Coroner insisted that, as the shooting occurred outside the government property, the prisoner belonged to them. Lieut. Drury took a different view of the matter, and the civil authorities dared not force their demands by entering the arsenal. The case was finally taken to the United States Supreme Court, where it was decided to turn the men over to the civil authorities and end the question for all time. Lieut. Drury and Private Dowd were later released on bond in the sum of $5000.

The prisoners are being defended by the government, and United States Dist.-Atty. Dunkle is their counsel. The commonwealth is represented by Dist.-Atty. George Goehring.

When court opened a large representation of military and civil attorneys was in evidence.

SUSPECTED MEXICAN CAUGHT.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

EL PASO, Jan. 28.—In the arrest at Juarez today of Juan Navarro Regalado, a prominent Mexican, it is believed that the mystery surrounding the brutal murder of two young Mexican women in that city has been solved.

The two women of a prominent family were outraged and chopped to pieces with an ax December 11, and were found in their home on one of the principal streets of Juarez several hours later. The authorities say the evidence against Regalado is conclusive.

WHITLEY'S SLAYER IS HELD.

WILFUL MURDER IS VERDICT.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

LONDON, Jan. 28.—A verdict of wilful murder was rendered by a Coroner this morning against Horace G. Rayner, the man who shot William Whitely, the merchant, January 24. But from additional facts developed at the inquest and the motive of the crime was a mystery, unless, as the police claim, it was a failure of attempted blackmail. The sons and the old employés of the murdered man testified that they had never seen or heard of Rayner before the day of the tragedy.

The detective in charge of the case declared that all the evidence pointed to blackmail. He added that he had searched Whitley's papers, but had found no trace of anything relating to Rayner, but among the prisoner's papers were found documents showing that he was wanted by the police.

Pacific Coast Jobbers Complain They are Mulcted Five Cents a Ton Wharfage Tolls Even When There's No Wharfage Transaction.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 28.—Interstate Commerce Commissioner Franklin K. Lane today began investigation of the complaints of jobbers and manufacturers that the Southern Pacific Company is collecting a toll of 5 cents a ton on all freight received here, whether it comes over the wharves of the State or not. The State charges this toll when goods pass over the wharves, but it is alleged that the railroad company collects this toll from shippers even on freights that come up the Coast road and that never reach the wharves.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 28.—The hearing today was designated as the Pacific Coast Jobbers against the Southern Pacific Railroad. The railroad was represented by Peter F. Dunne and the shippers by Seth Mann.

The shippers complained that they were charged 5 cents wharfage tolls on every ton of freight that entered the city, whether it came across the bay or over the Coast Line, in which latter case there was no lawful wharfage tax to pay. On the Coast Line freight enters San Francisco over the county peninsula. It was claimed that this tax was a discrimination against the commerce of San Franciscans, compared with other terminal points on the Coast.

Commissioner Lane claims San Francisco as his home city, and being well informed on the local situation, took an active part in the examination of witnesses.

AMONG THOSE PRESENT.

Among those who arrived to attend the hearing are J. C. Stubbs, vice-president of the Harriman lines and traffic director of the Southern Pacific and other companies; Attorney C. A. Severance of St. Paul and R. S. Lovett, one of the Southern Pacific's legal advisers in New York. The hearing was held in the rooms of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals.

When the sitting began H. D. Pillsbury asked permission to intervene in the hearing on behalf of the Santa Fé, and permission so to do was granted by Commissioner Lane.

ATTORNEY MANN'S SHOWING.

Seth Mann, attorney for the Jobbers' and Manufacturers' Association, then commenced the statement of his case against the railroad. He stated that the Southern Pacific has always charged shippers of freight the toll of 5 cents a ton, which it is compelled to pay the State Board of Harbor Commissioners for the use of the water front. He stated that up to June 1, 1901, all transcontinental freight had come into this city through Oakland, and had therefore paid this toll.

In June, 1901, the Southern Pacific completed its Coast Line division, connecting with the transcontinental lines at Los Angeles, and interstate freight was brought into this city by this division. Although it does not cross by ferry, it is nevertheless mulcted 5 cents a ton, as is the freight from Oakland.

TURNS ON CONTRACT.

In his opening statement, Peter F. Dunne, for the railroad, admitted that the case, as stated by Mr. Mann, seemed bad for the Southern Pacific, but claimed that the "whole statement turns on a contract Mr. Mann seeks to make showing the inconsistency of the company. I propose to meet that fairly."

Freight rates, he said, are regulated by the cost of water transportation. Rates must be made higher to intermediate points in order to pay costs. At water points they cannot charge such rates; they cannot put these rates too low—that would react on the intermediate points—but they must be lower than at intermediate points.

"ELEMENT" PRINCIPLES.

Rates at water points are not remunerative. These, Dunne said, are elementary principles of traffic law. In putting the rate as high up as the traffic will bear at water points, the company simply takes what it can get. Years ago, Stubbs, who pioneered this rate basis, made contracts with merchants for handling traffic, and fixed rates by computing cost of shipping by water, marine insurance, interest and State toll, plus something for superior equipment. The State toll is a part of the tax to be included, even if no freight crosses the State wharves. The company is not collecting State toll as State toll, but an aggregate rate including what water carriers pay. The water competitor pays this toll, so we are compelled to charge this toll in our rate.

OBJECTS TO "ROUTING."

When Mann offered to place in evidence facts in regard to the routing of freight across the continent, Dunne objected.

"That may satisfy intelligent curiosity," said Dunne, "but it is unimportant to this case."

"A large part of your investigation is in the direction of intelligent curiosity," said Commissioner Lane in rebuke, "so I think that these should go in."

"Do you concede Mr. Dunne's method of computing railroad rates by water traffic?" was asked of Mann.

"I don't concede Mr. Dunne's method. I concede the method of the Supreme Court and the Interstate Commerce Commission," answered Mann.

"It looks to me," said Dunne, "as though counsel on the other side, like Don Quixote, were fighting windmills."

Mann intimated that what Dunne considered "windmills" his clients regarded as robbery.

COURT POWERS.

He went on to state that a committee of merchants had called on J. C. Stubbs to protest against the toll, and had notified him that unless it was discontinued the matter would be laid before the Interstate Commerce Commission. The railroad refused to do so until the Supreme Court made it act.

The two opposing attorneys took issue on the fact that all "Sunset" freight, both Gulf and rail, coming through the El Paso gateway, reaches this city by the Coast division.

George Hardy, local freight agent, was placed on the stand.

"Do you know how the Sunset freight comes into this city?" asked Mann.

"I do," answered Hardy.

"What is the proportion of the movement of that freight up the peninsula?"

"It would be difficult to answer that question. Owing to washouts, a great deal is coming in through Oakland now. Generally it all comes up the peninsula."

"Isn't it to the advantage of the company to bring it up the peninsula?"

"I cannot say as to that."

Hardy was then given a number of freight bills and promised to ascertain whether the freight had come across the bay or up the peninsula.

KINGSTON REFUGEES ARRIVE.

Captain Says Conditions in Jamaica Are Bad and People Are Needing Tents.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

BOSTON, Jan. 28.—Capt. Davisson of the steamer Admiral Dewey, which arrived today with forty-nine passengers, most of them from Kingston, Jamaica, reports conditions at Kingston as bad and the people greatly in need of tents and medical supplies. About 250 destitute, refugees who appealed to Capt. Davisson were carried from Kingston to Port Antonio.

Capt. Davisson said the harbor of Kingston is still without beacon lights of any kind. The whole west end of Port Royal was under water to a depth of ten or fifteen feet, he said.

ICE MACHINE EXPLODES.

Three Are Dead and Sixteen Injured by Fumes of Ammonia Rendering Rescue Impossible.

CHICAGO, Jan. 28.—Three men were killed and sixteen others seriously injured today as the result of the explosion of an ice machine in the powerhouse of Armour & Co., at Forty-fourth street and Packers avenue.

Twenty men were working in the room when the head of a cylinder upon the ice machine blew off, filling the room with ammonia fumes. Three men were instantly killed and a fourth died on the way to a hospital. The other men are in a serious condition.

EWING STICKS BY M'CREDIE.

Says Judge Has Stood by the Old League.

How His Friends Intend to Reciprocate.

Bert to Enter Law Business in Chicago.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Until such time as directors of the Pacific Coast League have time to look about and consider the situation, Judge McCredie of Portland, the first vice-president, will assume the duties of the chief executive of the league, in place of Eugene Bert, whose resignation was received today by J. Cal Ewing, and accepted at an informal session.

In an interview, tonight, Ewing, who is looked upon as at the head of affairs in California, declared that Danny Long is the most suitable man for the position.

Spokane, Seattle and even Los Angeles profess to see in this move the desire of promoters in the California end of the circuit to cut loose from Portland and Seattle and form a new four-team league in this State.

That such a plan is in progress is denied by Ewing. He declares that Judge McCredie has stood by the Coast League, and so long as he desires to be in the league he will be represented.

According to a Los Angeles dispatch Tom McCarey would take the Angel franchise off Berry's hands, in case a four-team league is established. Nothing of the sort will be done. The standard of the league will be maintained.

Mr. Bert has been successful in making good legal connections in Chicago, and for this reason wishes to sever his connection with the baseball organization.

M'CAREY RECEPTIVE.

"SHADOWS CAST BEFORE."

Tom McCarey appears to be in a receptive mood relative to assuming the reins of local baseball, if proper arrangements can be made. McCarey does not seem to want to mix into the game if the northerners remain in the league, but if a southern or State circuit is arranged, with a team each in Los Angeles and Pasadena, he appears to favor the proposition.

There are a good many ways of looking at the McCarey end of the proposition. It appears as though "Mac" is preparing a soft place to light if the Legislature happens to place a ban on boxing. If there are restrictions, McCarey can still run a boxing game on a smaller plan and take care of the baseball business; if the law regarding prize fighting is not changed, then McCarey may enlarge his boxing business and hold shows every few days.

DRASTIC ATHLETIC RULE.

California Freshmen Not Allowed to Compete in Intercollegiate Events.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Despite the decision of the intercollegiate agreement committee the Faculty Athletic Committee of the University of California today announced that hereafter no freshmen will be allowed to compete in any 'varsity contests.

This action will deprive California of several of her most promisive men in track and baseball. It is not known whether Stanford will adopt the same measure.

Channing Hall, the crack high jumper, was today registered in college. It was thought that he could not return but he has completed his work and will be able to compete. He is practically certain to win his event for he can jump over six feet at any time.

SHARP TEST OF FUEL.

Automobiles Engage in Endurance Run to Compare Generating Power of Fuels.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] On a run to Boston, in order to test the comparative values of kerosene, denatured alcohol and gasoline as fuel for motor cars, three two-cylinder Maxwell touring cars started from Columbus Circle, this city, shortly before 9 o'clock this morning.

During the first quarter of the trip the unusual fuels produced surprisingly consistent results, especially in the case of the kerosene, which is generally considered of considerable disadvantage in the regular gasoline motor cars, owing to its carbonizing tendencies.

The importance of this test run lies in the fact that it is the first of its kind to be held publicly in this country.

Cat as Retriever.

Groveport claims the distinction of having the champion bird cat in Ohio. At the beginning of the bird season the cat, which is called Frank, would follow his owner to the field, make a circle of about 200 feet around his master and upon discovering a quail or a covey would rise on his hind legs and stand perfectly still until the owner would come up to him. If a bird was killed he would retrieve it, carrying it in his mouth, always catching it by the wing. If a bird was wounded he would follow it until it was caught and then would bring it in.

Llewellyn Wilkinson, his owner, says that during the whole season he did not lose a bird and that the cat has been with him every day that he has hunted. Neither has the cat flushed a single or a covey, but has always given warning when the birds could be expected. The cat was raised with some bird pups and when Wilkinson was training them the cat would follow, and he presumes it gained its knowledge or instinct from that training. He says that the cat retrieved 154 birds during the season.

Walsh Is Willing.

Eddie Keevin, manager of Jimmy Walsh, said last night that he would match Walsh with Bowker at any weight up to 122 pounds, ringside. Heretofore Keevin has said that he would not let his boy fight out of his class again, after his beating by Attell, but Walsh is such a favorite in England and the chance at Bowker may be such a good one that he is willing to try it again for the honor of America.

Morley's Opens

Jumping on skis. One of the most dangerous of the many feats practiced in cold countries.

WINTER SNOW SPORTS ARE POSSIBLE HERE.

SKI-JUMPING never has been popularized in California, but this year, at least, unsurpassed opportunities are presented within twenty miles of Los Angeles for practicing this exhilarating sport.

Between the Mt. Wilson Hotel and Strain's camp there are long reaches of gentle slope, covered six feet deep with close-packed snow, where easy jumps could be essayed by beginners. On either side of every trail in the Sierra Madres, where all growths except the pine trees are buried out of sight, and the snow surface is firm, there is room for feats which would tax the skill of the strongest and most expert ski-jumper in Norway, where the sport flourishes, or the Swiss Alps.

The danger of fatal accidents to the most daring jumpers would be less in the Sierra Madres than in the Alps, for there is less ice. Also, while the cañons are as deep in the mountains of Southern California as in those of Switzerland, there are fewer sheer precipices.

Even in seasons when the bushes are not entirely covered by snow, ski-jumping would be possible. Many slides of snow and rock have occurred this year, and more will come when the snow begins melting on the higher slopes, clearing away bushes and trees as cleanly as fire could do it. Down these broad pathways, whenever the snow should reach a depth of a foot or more, ski jumpers could speed to the leap.

An ordinary jump in the Alps is sixty feet; the record is more than a hundred feet. Even if no champion be developed in sunny Southern California to challenge the experts of the frozen mountains of Switzerland, Italy or the Scandinavian peninsula, the sport is worth while for the sport's sake. Those who follow it in the European mountains declare it the most exciting in the world.

HOLTMAN BACK AT THE TRACK.

RETURNS FROM OAKLAND TO START THE RACES.

Only Big Bettors Able to Cash on Favorites Because of Heavy Odds-on Prices—Lord Stanhope Beaten Out of Money in Feature Event. Fast Track, Fast Time.

Jake Holtman got back into the racing game at Ascot Park, yesterday afternoon, after doing the starting at Oakland earlier in the winter season. Jake got them away pretty well in his initial performance on his return here. The racing was fair, and three of the events were won driving.

Three favorites won, but two were such heavy odds-on choices that none but the big bettors were able to meet the prices of the bookmakers. Therefore, evening up the day's speculation, the talent came out behind.

Lord Stanhope, well liked by many because of his previous good performances, was shut out of the money in the feature event of the day, the fourth race at a mile. Arimo and Ampedo fought it out for first, the former coming fast in the last furlong and winning by a neck. Kilter beat the Lord for show money.

The track was good and the time uniformly fast for the events of the day. Results:

Three furlongs: Balbus, 115 (Boland,) 15 to 1, won; Turnaway, 102, (Neubert,) 5 to 2, second; Saucy M., 102 (McDaniel,) 5 to 2, third; time 0:36¼. Connie M., Albion H., Swagerlator, Macall, Favergale, Marianna, Harvey Clark, Velma C., Sweet Taire and Barney Oldfield also ran.

Futurity course: Sanfara, 112 (McDaniel,) 12 to 20, won; Bologna, 112 (Knapp,) 16 to 1, second; The Mist, 112 (Keogh,) 4 to 1, third; time 1:11. Common Sue, Sainrida, Nun's Veiling and Lady Kitty also ran.

One mile: Niblick, 105 (McDaniel,) 9 to 2, won; Confessor, 103 (W. Riley,) 4 to 5, second; Josie's Jewel, 103 (Preston,) 12 to 1, third; time 1:42. Foncasta, Ch. Walworth, Stoessel, Col. Bronston and King of the Mist also ran.

One mile: Arimo, 100 (McDaniel,) 5 to 2, won; Ampedo, 100 (Brussel,) 7 to 5, second; Kilter, 100 (D. Riley,) 7 to 1, third; time 1:41¼. Lord Stanhope, Viola B. and Virginia Lorraine also ran.

Five and a half furlongs: Green Seal, 94 (Preston,) 11 to 20, won; Sly Ben, 108 (Koerner,) 7 to 1, second; Illusion, 89 (Talbert,) 20 to 1, third; time 1:07⅘. Mazapan, La Chata, The Irishman, Homelander, Black Eyes, Devon B. and Henry Waite also ran.

Seven furlongs: Vinton, 107 (Lawrence,) 7 to 5, won; Buna, 108 (J. Smith,) 30 to 1, second; Irish Mail, 100 (Boland,) 10 to 1, third; time 1:30¼. Red Ball, Taos, Happy Rice, Royal Ascot, Chief O'Haver, San Alvarado and Arragon also ran.

RACING AT OAKLAND.

Orchan Gets Away in Front and Plows Through the Mud to Victory in Feature.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 28.—The track at Emeryville today was heavy, but the sport was fair. Ramsey's Orchan got away well in the mile and a sixteenth race, went to the front in the first quarter and remained there all the way. The six-furlong race was hotly contested and was won by Blagg in a drive.

Three and a half furlongs: Racenteur, 113 (W. Dugan,) even, won; Billy Watkins, 114 (L. Williams,) 6 to 1, second; Braggart, 113 (Clark,) 20 to 1, third; time 0:43 2-5. Creation, Irish Mike, Ocelita, Dredger, Parasol, Gin Hee and Gluckstern also ran.

Six and a half furlongs: Warte Nicht, 107 (Lycurgis,) 8 to 1, won; Alice Carey, 102 (Buxton,) 9 to 2, second; George P. McNeal, 115 (Johnson,) 16 to 5, third; time 1:25. Duelist, The Missourian, Joe Goss, Adirondack, Tannhauser, Crigli, Little Buttercup and Chestnut also ran.

One mile: Bogum, 102 (W. Miller,) 9 to 10, won; Joyful, 102 (E. Dugan,) 15 to 1, second; Peligroso, 105 (Graham,) 9 to 2, third; time 1:47 2-5. Bertie A., Lugano, Doc Craig, Jezebel and Fairystreet also ran.

Mud at New Orleans.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 28.—On account of mud, the original fourth race was declared off at the Fair Grounds, today, no event being substituted for it. Results:

Three and a half furlongs: Ruby Wick won, Hazel M. second, Blister third; time 0:44 3-5.

Six furlongs: Viperine won, Sponge Cake second, Paragon third; time 1:17 4-5.

MOTOR BOAT RACES.

Entries at Palm Beach Prepare for Contests Which Begin Today Extending Over Friday.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PALM BEACH (Fla.) Jan. 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Many motor boats are on Lake Worth ready for the races which begin tomorrow and extend over Friday. In the four days, nineteen events will be contested, at distances from one to ten miles, and for these thirty-five entries have been made.

The lake presented an animated appearance today, when the launches were being given trial spins. The fastest boat of the fleet is believed to be Commodore E. J. Schroeder's Dixie, which has been entered for the Harmsworth Cup.

FISTIC CARNIVAL.

CHICAGO, Jan. 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] London promoters are figuring on a great fistic carnival, according to Cal Morton, the Kansas City fight promoter, who returned today from England, where he went with the Battling Nelson party.

An effort is going to be made to get Jeffries to come over to meet Bill Squires. If the big fellow does not care to make the trip, Jack O'Brien or Tommy Burns will be given a chance. Hugo Kelly is in line to meet one of the English middleweights and Honey Mellody in the welter class.

Abe Attell is the feather who may be asked to make the trip. Nelson for the lightweights, and Jimmy Walsh, bantam, against Jem Bowker, is the card, according to Morton.

Donlin Kicks Traces.

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mike Donlin, the heavy-hitting outfielder of the Giants, threatens to withhold his signature from a 1907 contract unless his doctor's bill for last year is paid by the club. He broke his ankle in a game last season and refuses to settle the doctor bill, saying that as he was hurt in the performance of his duty and sent to the club's doctor, it is the duty of the New York management to settle.

COMPROMISES RIGHT OF WAY.

STOCKTON, Jan. 28.—The Chamber of Commerce today accepted a proposed compromise of a condemnation suit now in the Supreme Court and cleared the way for the immediate construction of the long-planned diverting canal to carry the mountain waters around the city and into the Calaveras River, insuring Stockton against any further danger from freshets. The government appropriation of $224,000 for the work has been available for several years, but the rights of way could not be secured. All but one right was purchased some time ago, and the last one was resisted by Podesto heirs, who appealed from a judgment awarding them $1200.

ARCHBISHOP FAVORS CANTEEN.

MILWAUKEE (Wis.) Jan. 28.—Archbishop S. C. Mesmer, in an interview, favors the reëstablishment of the canteen in military posts and soldiers' homes.

"I am firmly convinced that the canteen is a strong temperance factor," he said.

JACK O'BRIEN IS MYSTIFIED.

Seems Unable to Secure a Profitable Match.

Gunner Moir Ready to Come Over and Fight.

Try-Out Card Is Postponed Until Wednesday.

Jack O'Brien is in Los Angeles, and likewise "at sea." For once Jack's managerial ability has been baffled. For more than a month he has been trying to arrange a match with some man at any old place where a purse is forthcoming. For several weeks O'Brien sojourned in Nevada and had talks innumerable regarding a star bout before one of the press-agent boxing clubs in the gold country, but yesterday he stated that he knows no more who he is to fight or where than does any one else.

O'Brien reached town on the Owl yesterday and at once called on Manager McCarey and talked the situation over. McCarey is willing to put Jack on with some good man, but will not stand for Berger or Kaufman with whom Jack wishes the local manager to match him.

O'Brien tried his best to do business in Goldfield. He had about completed arrangements to have "Gunner" Moir come over and fight, but at the last moment the Nevada promoters failed to come across with a sufficiently large-sized purse.

MOIR READY TO COME.

According to advices from London, Moir was all ready to come to America two weeks ago. The proposition made to Moir was a guarantee of £450 (about $2100) for a purse. It seems that the English clubs did something quite lively in the bidding line, for the National Sporting Club had offered £600 for the match, and the Wonderland Club offered £700.

Moir is in the hands of C. B. Cochran, who also is manager of Hackenschmidt. Cochran proposed to "sublease" Moir to James owes who was to bring him to America. Dispatches say that Moir would have been ready to sail for America about this date had arrangements for the fight been completed. It was proposed that the battle be held some time in the middle of February so as to give O'Brien time to prepare for the Burns fight.

Although Burns has been making money in the East, while O'Brien has lain idle, Jack has consoled himself by buying a 160-room hotel in San Francisco. He expects to give some of his attention to the management of the place.

BRYAN BUTTS IN.

William Jennings Bryan broke into the fight game when he decided to visit Los Angeles, for it is because of his presence here that the try-out card which was to have been pulled off tonight was postponed until tomorrow night.

The boys to take part in the six bouts are ready for the fray, and, it seems, there only is lacking the "battle royal" to make the card one of oldtime interest. There is a report out that Jack Cox does not intend to meet the Turk tomorrow night, and that he intends to leave town. No changes have been made in the card, however, but if Cox does not show up another match probably will be substituted.

BURNS AND NEARY.

Reports about town for the last few days, relative to a Jimmy Burns-Charley Neary battle, seems to be erroneous. Manager McCarey and others had the impression that the fight was to have taken place last night, but Chicago advices say that the men are not even matched. Reports early in the year had it that the pair were matched to fight February 22.

Neary will meet Dave Deshler at Milwaukee Friday night. The two met in a ten-round bout once before. Although the battle was declared a draw it is said that Deshler had the best of it. The men should put up a rattling good go.

UNTWISTING THE FIGURE TWIST.

TRUST OFFICERS ON BOOKS OF SYNDICATE STORES.

Treasurer and Buyers of the Company Are Now in This City and Will Take Up Ex-Director Fisher's Plan for a Reorganization—Brent Says Little When Seen.

The chaotic condition of the affairs of the incipient Pacific Syndicate Stores Company has not noticeably improved within the past twenty-four hours.

Officers of the Merchants' Trust Company, to whom was delegated the task of untwisting the tricky mass of tangled figures, have begun work on the books of the concern, and announce that it will take several days to get at the facts.

W. J. Fisher, the director who resigned his position early in December, because he became dissatisfied with the delay in getting the business started and his inability to get what he considered straight information concerning the finances, still has strong hopes of accomplishing a reorganization, and thus saving something from the wreck. Just how much money he put into the venture he does not say, but he must be a heavy stockholder, for the reason that he was asked, when he became dissatisfied, to take entire control of the business.

The treasurer of the concern, ex-State Treasurer Truman Reeves, Mr. Penn of Washington, D. C., and Mr. Brugh of New York, both of whom have been engaged in making purchases for the company in the eastern marts, are now all in Los Angeles. Mr. Fisher said yesterday:

"President Brent of the Merchants' Trust Company, told me today that they had begun work on the books of the Syndicate Stores Company, and would require a couple of days before being able to give any information as to conditions. Mr. Reeves, Mr. Pena and Mr. Brugh will start on a campaign to see what can be done toward reorganization, and I have hopes that they may accomplish something. At the present time there seem to be no new developments."

W. L. Brent, president of the Trust Company, was seen late yesterday, and he confirmed what Mr. Fisher had to say concerning the examination of the books, but knew nothing whatever of the reorganization scheme. He said:

"Mr. Howe, connected with our trust department, has begun work on the books and it will be several days before we are able to give out anything concerning them. Beyond that, I know nothing new with reference to the matter."

ZION CITY WILL BE ABANDONED.

VOLIVA PROPOSES MOVING TO PACIFIC SLOPE.

Thinks His Idea of Personal Religious Supremacy Over Community of Christian Socialists Needs Warm Climate for Its Thorough and Successful Development.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

CHICAGO, Jan. 28.—Zion City is to be deserted by Wilbur Glenn Voliva and all those over whom he holds sway. A new Zion City is to be founded, probably on the Pacific Coast, and Dr. Dowie and his creditors will be left to fight out the question of supremacy here.

Rumors of such impending action have circulated in Zion City ever since last summer, when Overseer John G. Speicher was sent to Los Angeles to assume charge of the various colonies on the Pacific Coast. It was said Speicher was to select the site for the new colony. This was repeatedly denied until yesterday, when the rumor was confirmed by Voliva himself at a meeting held in Zion Temple.

Within a few weeks Voliva will go on a trip of inspection, visiting all the churches west and north of here which claim him as a leader. This will include a trip to the Pacific Coast from Seattle, Wash., to Los Angeles.

It was practically admitted that on this journey he would view several sites now under consideration. It is probable that on the return trip Voliva will visit certain sections of the Gulf coast of Texas, where the land and the climate are similar to those of Southern California.

The reasons for abandoning the present Zion City were not defined clearly by Voliva in his address, but they are known, nevertheless. The facts is Zion is one of the great contributing causes, and the other is the hopelessness of making the religious leader supreme in both temporal and ecclesiastical affairs so long as the cloud hangs over the place.

"Not political, but Christian socialism" has been the text of many of Voliva's sermons. He believes such a colony, founded in some warm climate where fruit raising, truck gardening and agriculture can be engaged in, will insure success, and it is his purpose to lead his people to a land where this can be done.

SEATTLE WANTS DOWIEITES.

EXPECTS VOLIVA THERE SOON.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SEATTLE (Wash.) Jan. 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Advices from Chicago received by the followers of Dowieism here say Dowieites who follow the leadership of Overseer Voliva will establish Zion City on the Northwest Pacific Coast. Already steps have been taken to raise a sum for a site, and representatives of Voliva will come to Seattle within the next two weeks.

This city or its environs is the part of the country selected for the establishment of a new home, where the Voliva element of the faith will be undisturbed in their worship.

Burlington Helping Jim Hill.

OMAHA (Neb.) Jan. 28.—James J. Hill has called upon the Burlington Railroad to help raise the blockade of the Northern Pacific in the Dakotas, and the Burlington has responded by sending twelve of its heaviest locomotives from the Nebraska division to the Northern Pacific. Conductors and firemen to man the engines also went from the Burlington. If possible, six more locomotives will go from Nebraska, although there is a shortage of motive power in this State.

LEGISLATURE RESENTS ATTACK.

Charges Made Against Bailey Reflect on It and Investigation Is Ordered.

AUSTIN (Tex.) Jan. 28.—A telegram is alleged to have been sent from here to certain newspapers charging that Senator Bailey corrupted the morals and the voting strength of the Legislature in his race for reëlection as United States Senator, "by the use of wine, women and money."

The members resent this statement and the Senate today appointed a committee to investigate the conduct of the newspapers to see which, if any one paper, has sent out such a story.

Like action was taken in the House. The investigating committee was again in session today, and tonight without developing material facts.

PREACH FOR LOCAL OPTION.

Two Thousand Ministers Proclaim from Pulpits in Illinois Necessity for Measure.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

CHICAGO, Jan. 28.—Pastors in nearly 2000 churches in every city and hamlet throughout the State yesterday made the local option bill which will come up in the Legislature this week, the text for their sermons.

It was the "field day" for the anti-saloon league people of Illinois, and was marked by a final concerted appeal for the passage of the bill. In addition to the pastors, general officers, district leaders and an army of the anti-saloon leagues' workers also delivered addresses at the church services.

The present session of the National Assembly, Panama, came to an end yesterday. There probably will be an extraordinary session in March.

TING UPON TRAVAGANCE.

'Asks Four Dollars' Worth of Chair.

Says a Dollar a Sit Is Enough for It.

bly Repents of Economy in Junket Line.

BY B. FRANK GREAVES.
[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

RAMENTO, Jan. 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Senator Carter of Los Angeles came down hard, today, on what appeared a prime bit of extravagance in the proposed purchase of chairs for a Senate committee. As a committee, he is searching Sacramento as a committee of one, for good strong chairs at a dollar a piece.

The committee on Contingent Expenses figured that chairs at $4 each (the dozen of them) would conform well to Senatorial dignity.

"Oh, that's ridiculous," objected Carter. "I think a dollar a piece is enough for any chair, just to sit on." Besides, that kind of chair doesn't grow north of Los Angeles," put in Senator Wolfe of San Francisco.

Carter delegated Carter to make the test, and he started this afternoon on a round of the second-hand stores, looking for second-hand chairs and looking glasses and second-hand mirrors, to see if a dollar didn't look first-rate on any chair or an old bench.

ENTS OF REPENTANCE.

Instead of going on record for economy in junketing trips, the Assembly evidently is about to reverse itself. When it passed the resolution by Thompson of Los Angeles, Saturday, limiting the cost of these trips to actual traveling expenses, Fratessa of San Francisco moved a notice of a motion to reconsider. He made the motion today. Thompson and several others sought to get it on the table, and thus kill it. They were outvoted, and tomorrow another vote will be taken on the original motion.

The San Francisco delegation wants to get to spend on these trips about the State. The usual allowance of 10 cents a mile affords a margin for fizz and such things. The Franciscans got busy over it, and rallied an apparent majority in favor of the mileage system. They even persuaded Assemblyman Wright of Riverside, one of the watchdogs of the treasury, to vote for the proposition, and it looks now as if they had captured the works for a liberal and generous allowance.

GOVERNOR'S MANSION.

The renovation of the Governor's mansion, at an estimate cost of $8500, was decided in a rush bill introduced by Assemblyman Belshaw.

Assemblyman Hall of Pasadena introduced a bill that aims to banish noxious weeds from streets and vacant lots at the expense of property owners who tolerate the nuisance.

The Senate Judiciary Committee today decided to report favorably on Senator White's bill which aims to regulate the hours and grooms of the necessary persons appearing together at the office of the County Clerk to obtain marriage licenses. The measure provides that applicants may make necessary affidavits before Justices of the Peace or notaries public, and that only one of the parties need go for the license.

BIRD AND ARBOR DAY.

The bill was decided by the committee today to approve the bill creating a bird and arbor day, and to favor the change in the statute of limitations, by which actions for personal injuries may be brought within two years, instead of one, as now.

The Senate today the Republican Senators took a stand for economy on bills. They decided that one member from each of the important committees is enough to make an inspection of the various State institutions for appropriations.

The Assembly thinks the entire committee membership should go, even if there is no more than come back with bills for expenses.

UNION LABOR'S INNING.

Union labor had an inning today in the legislature. Measures were introduced that, if enacted into laws, will put the grip of the totemites and their long way toward pulling down the wall of industrial freedom. Some of the bills are cunningly worded, as they were to protect women and children, to give a helping hand to the weak, but the purpose of all of them is the same—to further restrict the laborer, and to place the State as the free employer and the free employer all for the benefit of the organization of the population that is not in the union-labor organizations.

BACKED BY LOBBY.

Behind the legislators elected by the labor unions of San Francisco, under the leadership of the indicted Abe Ruef, fathered the measures they will have the aid here of the union-labor lobby that is directed by George Beetham of San Francisco. The lobby has been greased by the hands of known sympathizers with the Senate and Assembly Committees on Labor and Capital.

Some of the provisions of some of the bills:

That no child under the age of 18 years shall be employed for more than eight hours a day in any store, factory, office, hotel, restaurant or place of business, even in the delivery of parcels and messages. In addition they be employed before 6 o'clock in the morning or after 8 o'clock at night.

That no child under 14 years shall be employed at all, except at the discretion of a Juvenile Court or Superior Judge.

That no child shall be employed in the canneries for more than eight hours a day, nor shall she work before 8 o'clock a.m. or after 10 o'clock p.m.

That no child shall not be employed for more than ten hours a day, nor for more than sixty hours a week.

That any of these provisions is a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine of from $50 to $200, or imprisonment up to sixty days, or both.

That the Commissioner of the State Labor Bureau is empowered to enforce the law.

MORE OF THE SAME.

Other bills of the same nature and of more or less importance are in course of preparation, and will make their appearance from time to time. To take their place the bill of Senator Savage of Alameda fixing $3 as the minimum wage to be paid any kind of labor employed on public work; the arbitration bill, which gives union-labor leaders undue prominence in the settlement of disputes between employers and employed; the Employers' Liability bill, and the licensed horseshoers' bill.

Another is the bill introduced in the Assembly last week and in the Senate today, which aims to prevent the importation of strike breakers in California by all watchmen, guards and detectives, and to obtain permits to engage in those occupations, and barring those who may not have lived in the State six months.

Not to mention the barbers' bill which made "Corney" Pendleton a tonsorial immortal, and which bobbed up again today in a new guise.

ATTACK ON ARBITRATION.

The Arbitration Bill, which was presented earlier in the session by Speaker Beardslee, has the disapproval of the union labor lobby. They are endeavoring to stifle it, or to have it so changed as to give them the "long end." Even if it were enacted in its present form, it is claimed it would be no effect in the settlement of disputes. The unions prefer to retain their own notorious methods.

Savage's minimum salary bill does not appear to suit the majority of the legislators. It was killed here two years ago, and it is predicted that it will be knocked out again.

LOBBYISTS CAN TOE THE MARK.

UNLESS SENATOR SANFORD'S BILL IS PUT TO SLEEP.

Democratic Statesman from Mendocino Would Give the Governor Power to Call Up the Corporations and Ask "How About It?"—Owens River Railroad Bill in Senate.

BY B. FRANK GREAVES.
[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Corporations who maintain lobbies at the Legislature must make an accounting to the State, by the provisions of a bill introduced today by Senator Sanford (Dem.) He provides that the names of lobbyists and of their employes must be entered on what is to be known as the legislative docket; that all matters of legislation in which they are interested must be shown; that they must state all expense incurred.

Should the Governor, when any bill is presented for his approval, have reason to believe that improper expenses were incurred in its passage, he is empowered to call the lobbyists and their employers before him and to cause them to render a full statement. Penalty is fixed for any violation of the proposed law.

EJECTION OF TENANTS.

Senator McCartney introduced a measure at the request of the California State Realty Federation, providing for ejection on two days' notice of tenants who are in arrears in rent bills.

Carter presented the bill, introduced in the Assembly last week by Stanton, through which the city of Los Angeles will be enabled to build railroads and to carry on other enterprises in connection with the Owens River project.

Poor benighted school trustees in the back country may continue to purchase wheezy organs, cheap pianos and other musical instruments, books, and various kinds of junk at outlandish prices from itinerant venders, Assemblyman Sacket of Ventura, chairman of the Committee on Education, sought to amend a bill relating to the duties of county school superintendents, so they might decide on the wisdom of purchases made by county trustees, but the Assembly majority thought the trustees knew as much about organs and pianos as about horse trades, and declined to approve an amendment giving the superintendent the last say on such expenditures.

Sacket said the country school directors sometimes paid $85 for organs worth only $30, wherefore he proposed that superintendents should pass on such demands.

NO STATE PENSION ROLL.

The Assembly also decided that California will not have a pension list of persons who have served twenty-one years or more in State positions. Bush's bill, prompted by the desires of employés at the Napa State Hospital, was voted down by a big majority on third reading.

Grove L. Johnson thought he heard a noise like a bug in the recommendation of the Code Commission to repeal section 384 of the Civil Code, giving the Legislature power to dissolve corporations. The reason given for the suggested repeal was that section 404, adopted in 1905, covers the same ground. Johnson wants 384 to stand, because it was adopted away back in 1872, and he fears the corporations have an ulterior motive in seeking its repeal. The matter will be reconsidered.

MAKING RAILROADS THINK.

Johnson, who once was the friend of the railroads and other corporations, and who now is their bitter enemy, introduced a bill today that will give the railroads some concern if it becomes a law. It provides that street and steam roads, within twenty-four hours after an accident in which persons are killed or injured, shall make a report to the coroner of the county in which the accident occurred, giving the full details, together with the names of the railroad employés concerned.

Another rap is taken at the railroads by Johnson in a bill calling upon them to maintain safety gates at every street crossing of their lines in incorporated cities throughout the State, a penalty of $1000 being attached for failure to maintain such safeguards.

OBJECT-LESSON ROADS.

Assemblyman Cutten of Humboldt has presented a measure making an appropriation of $5000 for the construction by the State of "object-lesson oiled roads." It is proposed that these roads be made in five counties, so selected that the value of the roads may be tested under different conditions as to climate, rainfall and soil.

Marin county's single Superior Court judge, according to the vote of the Assembly today, should be on a salary equal to those of Los Angeles, Alameda and Sacramento, while the Orange county judge is to have $4000 instead of $3500 a year, the Senate concurring. Assemblymen from some of the other small counties insisted that the they had as much right as little Marin to a judge on a big salary, but Assemblyman Buttler said that Marin is carrying an extra burden because of the cases unloaded upon it from neighboring counties, and $5000 a year is none too much for the judge.

CALIFORNIA LEGISLATURE

THIRTY-SEVENTH SESSION.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 28.—SENATE. The Legislature began the fourth week of its session today by adding about seventy-five new measures to the 1000 bills already before it for consideration. There is no apparent decrease in the stream of new bills poured into both houses daily.

A bill aimed at lobbying was introduced by Senator Sanford, which gives the Governor power to investigate all questionable legislation and provides that the names of any person engaged as counsel or lobbyist in behalf of any measure shall be entered upon a legislative docket, with the name of his employer.

The Japanese question, which was scheduled as a special order of business in the Senate this morning, was postponed until tomorrow morning. Senator Caminetti, whose concurrent resolution instructing the Governor and Attorney-General to intervene in the suit brought by the Federal government against the San Francisco Board of Education was to have been debated this morning, was too hoarse to speak.

The minority of the Committee on Judiciary reported back to the Senate a minority substitute resolution. The difference between it and the majority substitute reported back last week is that the minority substitute asserts the constitutional rights of the State of California as a sovereign State of the Union. The minority sub-resolution is as follows:

"Whereas, the President of the United States is attempting to interfere with the management and control of the public schools of the State of California in San Francisco by demanding the admission of children of Japanese parents into the public schools in said city provided for the children of white parents, and whereas, at the time of said interference, it was a matter of public record that equal opportunity for the education of children of Japanese parents with those accorded the children of white parents, for years past has been and is now provided for at public expense by the State of California, and whereas, such interference is in violation of the sovereign rights of the State of California; therefore, be it

"Resolved, by the Senate, the Assembly concurring, that the State of California does protest against the said unauthorized interference with its rights as a sovereign State, and the Governor and Attorney-General of the State of California are hereby requested to do all things necessary in the premises to assert the sovereign rights of the State of California as reserved to it in the Constitution of the United States."

No action was taken today on the minority report. Senator Caminetti, however, declared that he would insist on asserting the constitutional rights of the State in the resolution, and a lively debate is expected when the various sub-resolutions on the Japanese question come up tomorrow.

The Committee on Fruit and Vine Interests recommended the passage of Senator Black's bill making it a misdemeanor punishable by a fine of $50 to $500 to sell trees under false names. The proposed law is intended to prohibit fraud and misrepresentation in the sale of fruit trees. Prosecution may begin any time within five years.

A bill requiring the filing and recording of maps of cities and towns and subdivisions before any lots or tracts in such towns may be offered for sale was introduced by Senator McCartney. He also introduced a bill which will enable a landlord to eject a tenant in arrears for rent and other unlawful detainer in two days.

Senator Reilly introduced two labor bills. One provides that women shall not work more than eight hours a day in any mercantile, manufacturing, hotel, restaurant or other establishment, and shall be employed only between the hours of 6 a.m. and 10 p.m. The other measure prohibits the employment of minors under the age of eighteen for more than eight hours a day, and such employment must be between the hours of 6 a.m. and 8 p.m. It prohibits the employment of any children under the age of fourteen as messengers or in the delivery of packages or merchandise. The employment of illiterate children under the age of sixteen during school hours is also prohibited. Considerable discretionary powers in issuing permits is given to the courts.

A bill aimed at the Japanese was introduced by Senator Wolfe. It fixes the age at which children may attend primary schools at twelve years, and amends the existing law giving the School Board power to segregate children of the Asiatic races by including the word "Japanese."

Mr. Wolfe also introduced a bill providing for a two-million-dollar State bond issue for the construction by the State Board of Harbor Commissioners of wharves and piers in San Francisco.

Senator Rambo wants the cremation of the dead bodies of human beings prohibited within thirty days after death, in a bill introduced by him.

Senator Wright introduced a bill taking the State judiciary out of politics, creating a court commission of appointment and impeachment, who shall have the power to appoint all judges.

The agitation for legislation regulating the hours and restricting the employment of children and women found response in the Senate today by the introduction of two child and female-labor bills by Senator Reilly. The bills are in the form of amendments to the existing statutes, prohibiting the employment of minors under 18 for more than eight hours a day between 6 a.m. and 8 p.m.; prohibiting the employment of children under 14 as messengers, or in any other capacity in any mercantile, manufacturing, office, hotel or other establishment. Women shall not be required to work more than eight hours a day, and that between 6 a.m. and 10 p.m. A third bill regulates the working hours in drug stores, and declares that drug clerks shall not work more than ten out of twenty-four hours.

A bill providing for a $2,000,000 State bond issue for the improvement of the water front in San Francisco was introduced by Senator Wolfe.

When the minority of the Judiciary Committee reported back to the Senate a minority substitute resolution on the Japanese school question, a caucus of the Republican Senators, in the afternoon, decided to pay no attention to the minority report when the matter comes up tomorrow morning. Senator Caminetti, however, declared he would put up a hard fight, that whatever resolution may be adopted shall assert the constitutional rights of the State, as contained in the minority report.

PUTTING OFF CREMATION.

Senator Rambo in a bill introduced by him would have the cremation of human remains or any part thereof prohibited until thirty days after death. A similar bill was introduced in the Assembly last week.

The office of State Statistician, with salary fixed at $2000, and a deputy statistician at $1600, to assist the State Register of the Bureau of Vital Statistics, is created in a bill passed by the Senate today. It was introduced by Senator Lynch, and also provides for one clerk to the State Board of Health, at $1600. The State Board of Health is given the power to fill the offices created.

Senator Wright introduced a constitutional amendment, calling for the appointment of a court commission of five members, to be appointed by the Governor, with the consent of the Senate. Only those eligible to become chief justices shall be appointed, and their term shall be twelve years. This commission by a majority vote shall appoint all judges in the State, including justices of the peace. They shall sit as a court of impeachment, hear and determine all charges against judges, and have the power to remove for cause any judicial officer in the State.

Other bills introduced in the Senate are as follows:

OILED ROADS.

By Senator Rolley, appropriating $3000 for the purpose of constructing object-lesson oiled roads in five different counties in the State.

By Senator Carter, to authorize the incurring of indebtedness by cities and municipal corporations for municipal improvements; the other to authorize cities to acquire by purchase or lease lands and other property, to build and maintain public utilities, including railroads, street car lines, telegraph and telephone systems, and water and power plants. The measures are designed to enable Los Angeles to acquire, develop and maintain a municipal water supply on Owens River.

By Senator Reed, regulating the business and employment of watchmen, guards and private detectives, requiring a residence of six months in the State, and permits from city, town or county authorities. It is aimed at the importation of "Pinkertons" and "strike-breakers."

ASSEMBLY. The recommendation to the Assembly of the Ways and Means Committee of appropriations aggregating over a million dollars, the introduction of numerous labor bills, a constitutional amendment designed to take the State judiciary out of politics; proposed laws requiring the railroads and street-car companies to report to the coroner within twenty-four hours any accident resulting in injury or loss of life, and a bill aimed at lobbying were the features today.

Mr. Wilson introduced two woman and child labor bills, identical with those introduced by Senator Reilly in the Senate.

In its report to the Assembly, this morning, the Committee on Ways and Means recommended the appropriation of $1,006,696.40, of which $150,000 is for the purchase of a site for a State printing office in Sacramento and the erection of a building. Sacramento is also given $50,000 for the removal of the Agricultural Pavilion to a point closer to the city. The California Polytechnic School gets $100,000, and $100,000 is appropriated for payment of the unpaid scrip of delegates to the convention which framed the Constitution of California, while $100,000 was added to the fund for the purchase of jute at the State prison.

Among the smaller appropriations recommended favorably is one to pay Frank Higgins $3500 for legal services in connection with the extradition of George D. Collins, the San Francisco bigamist.

Assemblyman Estudillo's bill providing for free text-books was recommended for passage by the Committee on Constitutional Amendments. DANCER CRACKS HEAD OF SPANISH OFFICIAL.

Gay Good-by Dinner Makes Rome "Howl"—Vera Sylvas Flies, Leaving Senor Diaz Fatally Injured. Pope Demands Resignations.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ROME, Jan. 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A scandal arising from a farewell dinner given in honor of a departing diplomat is the sensation of Rome. Moreover, it may end in a charge of murder against Vera Sylvas, a noted danseuse.

A splendid dinner was given to celebrate the departure of the secretary of a foreign embassy to the Quirinal. Among the guests were many representatives of the embassies and legations accredited both to the Quirinal and the Vatican, together with several titled Romans.

After midnight the dinner degenerated into a brawl. Two of the diners seized a French danseuse, Violetta Pomponette, and hoisted her onto the table. She escaped and fled.

SALTED VERA.

Then Vera Sylvas, another danseuse, was seized and hoisted on the table. The diners pelted her with flowers, bread and lumps of sugar. One diner tossed the salt cellar at the danseuse, and the salt entered her eyes.

The danseuse, in a rage, seized a champagne bottle and struck Señor Diaz, the secretary of the Spanish Embassy to the Vatican, over the head. Diaz fell to the floor in a pool of blood. The guests then took sides for and against the danseuse, and a free fight ensued.

DIAZ MAY DIE.

Prof. Mazzoni, Pope Leo's physician, found that the diplomat's skull was fractured and one eye destroyed.

As Señor Diaz may die, the efforts to suppress the scandal have failed.

Vera Sylvas has fled from the city, but the police are pursuing her.

POPE DEMANDS RESIGNATION.

The Pope has demanded the resignation of all those participating in the orgy who are members of the diplomatic corps accredited to the Vatican.

Such prompt and vigorous action is characteristic of the Pope, who did not hesitate recently to exclude from the Vatican a noted Roman prince because he was a notorious roue.

CHEAPER ARMOR FOR ITALY.

ROME, Jan. 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Carnegie-Bethlehem Steel Works have offered the Ministry of Marine 6000 tons of armor plate at a reduction of $400,000 on the price asked by local producers.

Heretofore armor plate for Italy's warships has been furnished exclusively by the Terni foundry, the value of the shares of which corporation have trebled, owing to its quasi-monopoly.

If the Carnegie-Bethlehem offer is accepted, the Terni company will probably be ruined.

DEMOCRATS HIT SUBSIDY BILL.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—J. J. Hill, E. H. Harriman and the Republican policy of protection are assailed in the minority adverse report on the Littauer compromise Ship Subsidy Bill, which was filed in the House today by Representative Spight of Mississippi. The report is signed by Mr. Spight and the other Democratic members of the House Committee on Merchant Marine and Fisheries, Messrs. Gouldin, Sherley and Patterson.

After reviewing the proposed subsidies to South American and oriental lines, the report says:

"It is not pretended that the proposed appropriations are intended merely to compensate for services rendered, but admittedly the larger part is pure gratuity. This objection is fundamental, and no amount of sophistry or volume of argument can obscure it. Were it limited simply to payments for new mail routes, it might be acceptable for that purpose, though not as a real aid to merchant marine."

PACIFIC COAST LINES.

The report discusses the two proposed lines which the bill proposes to subsidize between the Pacific Coast and the Orient, saying:

"But when it is recalled that at Seattle, north of Cape Mendocino, is the existing steamship line owned by J. J. Hill, and south of it at San Francisco is the Harriman line, the Pacific Mail, we may begin to suspect that there is a 'nigger in the woodpile.'

"Who are J. J. Hill and E. H. Harriman? The former is the great railroad magnate of Northern Securities notoriety, who tried to merge vast interests in violation of the law, and was only prevented by proceedings in court. Harriman is another leader of corporate wealth, who controls more railway trackage than any other man in the world. Is it hard to guess who under this bill would pocket $1,400,000 of the people's money?"

It is said by the report that the proposed line from the Pacific Coast to Chile will be a mere extension of the Harriman line to Panama and the general principle of governmental subsidy is attacked. The report declares that governmental aid of this sort can never result in a great merchant marine, and urges the repeal of legislation which hinders such ship-building in this country.

I have a few acres left in a popular part of the southwest. It should be cut up into lots now, but I am too busy and my graders have to work on larger properties. Two car lines make these acres very convenient. The thoroughfares are graded and oiled, and I have piped an inexhaustible supply of pure mountain water to them in large steel mains. THREE KEEP YOUR EYE ON THREE

WESTMINSTER SQUARE.
Keep close watch on Westminster Square and watch it grow. It is bound to grow if beautiful location, costly improvements and reasonable price of lots are conductive to rapid sales. Many people realize it's such a good proposition, that they are not content with buying one lot—one man purchased six, another five and another three. The tract is located at 6th and Western aves., high above fogs and dust and affording a fine view. The streets are 75 feet wide and ornamental trees and palms are planted in front of every lot. The car line will run directly through the tract in a very short time. Two elegant homes are nearing completion—others willbe shortly begun. Westminster Square is absolutely perfect in all that makes for an ideal living place. We have found it necessary to declare an advance in the price of lots in this beautiful tract and on FEB. 1 all prices will go up 10 PER CENT. If you would reap big profits, you had better act promptly, for only 3 days remain in which to buy lots before the advance. Embrace this opportunity for money-making—you'll never regret it. Call at our office and let our conveyances take you out to the tract.

In a letter to this firm, Mr. L. Crossman of 3041 Glen ave. says;
"We, on our side of the arroyo, don't admit there is any spot in and around Los Angeles so attractive and advantageous for residence, as the high ground where we live, except Montecito Park.
"It has all the advantages which we have with the advantage of better transportation, better mountain view, and, what is of more serious important than many understand, "PROTECTION FROM THE COLD WINDS OF WINTER.
"No other place around the city has this protection so well afforded, and at the same time the tempered sea breeze of summer.
"YOU ARE OFFERING PERFECT HOME SITES AT VERY LOW PRICES."
Go out and see Montecito Park and confirm all that Mr. Crossman says. Take Griffith ave. car on Spring st. and get off at branch office on tract.

FOR SALE—
THE REASON WHY

WE WAS LANDS

ARE ONLY $22.50 PER ACRE.

I am quoting you an opportunity for securing some land that is making better raising than Fresno makes, that is making finest peaches, apricots, etc., and which Prof. Forbes, of the State University says is fine for oranges and the price is only $22.50 an acre. The adjoining lands on exactly the same bench and exactly the same soil (decomposed granite) have turned out in crops from $100 to $200 an acre per year.

One of the best vineyards and orchards on these lands is owned by a syndicate of Methodist ministers. It contains 640 acres, solid to orchard and vine, and is over 15 years old. Rev. Dr. Carroll of Whittier is president, and Rev. Pilsen, secretary of Chinese Missions, is secretary. You can get all of these facts and more from us if you will call or attend our free stereopticon lecture any night except Sunday.

This Wasco land is only 130 miles from Los Angeles in Kern county, on the main line of the Santa Fe, immediately adjoining the railroad, 150 feet elevation above Tulare Lake. Before you go further what's the matter with these lands at only $22.50 an acre.

The fault is all with you and me and others like us, not knowing more about them before this.

Come in and talk it over and you will soon see that there is something you must not miss. The last day and hour is February 15. The average price is $12.50 per acre. That means the small ten-acre tracts near the town and depot are about $22 an acre and the forty-acre tracts over two miles from town are $12.50 and $14 an acre, and it's all about the same quality.

This land and this colony has been indorsed by Prof. Fowler, mentioned above; the Kern County Board of Trade, and all the Bakersfield papers.

These lands were selected for the Fourth Extension Colony by a committee of Southern California miners as follows—F. H. Krick Consultant Engineer of the Anaheim Union Water Company; C. M. Longman, walnut grower, Whittier; M. V. Hardendorf, orchardist and Fruit World; J. W. Overton, orchardist, Pacific Ave., Alhambra; J. W. Keeney, agriculturist, San Diego county.

Wasco is not a co-operative colony. We buy our land together. That is all. But we can purchase cheaper, he agrees to plant one vineyard, orchard or alfalfa during the first two years.

The terms are about $7 to $9 an acre down, and the balance in four annual payments.

This may be one of the greatest opportunities of your lifetime. The excursion rate to see the land is only $10. The cost of talking to us is nothing. The cost of talking to you really want the best land at low wholesale prices. Open day and evening until February 15.

RANDOLPH SUES LINDSAY AGAIN.

SEEKS DAMAGES FOR ALLEGED FAILURE ON CONTRACT.

Echo of the Troubles of the Llanos de Oro Mining and Milling Company—Heirs of Walter L. Vail Affected by Suit Before Court Commissioner at Tombstone.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

TUCSON (Ariz.) Jan. 27.—A short time ago Epes Randolph, in the District Court of Cochise county, sued Lycurgus Lindsay, a well-known Los Angeles mining man, for $300,000, damages alleged due because of failure of Lindsay to observe the terms of a contract concerning a large amount of stock in the Cananea Central Mining Company, the company itself and W. C. Greene being joined as defendants. On Friday in the District Court at Tucson, Col. Randolph appeared as plaintiff against Lindsay in a second suit, asking judgment for $30,000.

The suit arises out of the failure of the Llanos de Oro Mining and Milling Company. This property had been experted by three mining engineers, whose reports upon it were so glowing as to indicate that possible operation of the property might serve to demonetize gold. The assays seemed to fully sustain the claim of the property to the name of "Plains of Gold." A 160-stamp mill was put up and a costly water system established, but when the wheels had begun to turn, the golden flood failed to materialize. Plainly stated, the ore and gravel extracted had not enough metallic value to pay the cost of separation.

When a thorough test had been made the property was shut down and the sad news was given out to scores of railroad men in the southwest, who had eagerly put their savings in what they had termed a "cinch." Randolph, in 1904, advanced the company $100,000 of his personal funds, most of it, as a matter of honor, to clear away the floating indebtedness of the corporation, after its failure had been established. In this action, he alleges

ANTI-SUICIDE BUREAU NEEDED.

STRANGE ANOMALIES OF THE STATISTICS OF VIENNA.

In Proportion to Population, More People Took Their Own Lives Last Year in the Gay Austrian Capital Than in Any European City—Men Outnumber Women in Crime.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

VIENNA, Jan. 14.—In this seemingly gayest of cities, an anti-suicide bureau, on the American plan, such as has been established in London, is badly needed. The year's record of self-murders shows that Vienna still retains her bad preeminence among European capitals in respect to the percentage of her population who voluntarily cut short their lives.

The figures for 1906, just published, show that 425 persons committed suicide while another 707 tried to do it but failed. The figures reveal some curious anomalies which must sorely puzzle psychologists. More suicides take place in summer than in winter. In the month of May, when all nature was proclaiming the joy of living, forty-eight people decided that death was preferable and terminated their existence. In drear November, when the birds had ceased singing and bleak winds wailed mournfully through the leafless trees, only twenty-eight persons yielded to the conviction that life was not worth living.

The motives assigned for suicide also disclose some perplexing problems. For instance, only thirty-one persons committed suicide because of poverty, while two more shuffled off this mortal coil because life had dealt too generously with them and they had become satiated with it. Sickness was the motive alleged in 100 cases, while love affairs gone wrong drove sixty-three to distruction, and domestic strife impelled twenty-three to flee to the other world where there is neither marriage nor giving in marriage.

The oldest victim was a man of 87; the youngest a little girl of 8. What dire tragedy of childhood caused her to take the leap in the dark does not appear; but the bare mention of the fact awakes a feeling of infinite pity. Poor little mite! May her soul rest in peace.

The men greatly outnumbered the women, which can hardly be regarded as proof of the superiority of the male sex. There were 313 of them who took their own lives in the last twelve months and of women, 113—little more than a third as many. In the methods chosen for making their exits, men showed a greater partiality for bullets than did women. Only twelve of the latter shot themselves, while 118 men chose that way of ridding themselves of the burden of life. Despairing womanhood displayed the greater preference for poison.

EARLY MORNING ROBBERY.

R. S. Tenny, an elderly man, was held up and robbed of a small sum of money and a gold watch at Figueroa street and Sunset boulevard at 1 o'clock this morning. The man who robbed him had met him in the evening at a North Main-street saloon and Tenny drank till he was intoxicated.

Tenny, who lives in Pasadena, asked the man to put him aboard a car for his home. Instead of putting him on the right car he put him on one of the Los Angeles-Pacific line, and they both got off at the corner where the holdup occurred.

Officer Beasley was not far away but apparently did not realize what was going on till the robber escaped. Tenny lives at No. 345 Elm avenue, Pasadena, and works for W. Basor, a contractor of that city.

SUFFERINGS OF CHINA WORST IN DECADES.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—Mail reports from American consular officers in China, which reached the State Department today, regarding the famine and resulting conditions, further confirm the stories of suffering and hardship.

Consul Haynes, at Nanking, says that the famine is ten times worse than anytaing known in that part of the empire for the past forty years.

The Chinese officials, he says, upon information given him by the Viceroy, admit their inability to cope with the situation.

The government is trying to help the starving people to keep their cattle and to this end is taking their oxen and buffaloes in pawn for two taels each, keping them until next spring, when they will be returned.

Consul Haynes declares that whatever aid may be extended by this government in the present crisis will certainly do much to dispel the ill feeling recently aroused by the boycott, the exclusion act, etc.

REPORTS VERIFIED.

Consul-General Rodgers at Shanghai advises the department that the reports as to the conditions appearing in the newspapers, both foreign and Chinese, are, for the most part, sustained by the investigations made by American naval officials. He says an inquiry which he has made gives the general conclusion that the famine, by March 1, will be regarded as severe, and perhaps more so than that of 1878, by which it is thought ten million lives were lost.

FOUR MILLIONS STARVE.

The report of Mr. Rodgers is accompanied by a statement by Dr. Henry M. Woods of the Southern Presbyterian Mission at Hwai Ain Fu, who estimates that 10,000,000 people are affected by the famine, 4,000,000 of whom are starving. He says there are at present more than 500,000 refugees at Tsing Kiang Pu, huddled in mat sheds, and that the pitiful sight is daily witnessed of parents offering their children for sale at from $2 to $4 each. Brigandage and robbery, he adds, are everywhere rife.

BORDERING ON REBELLION.

Rodgers declares that the influence of the famine conditions upon current affairs can now be plainly seen in the unrest and discontent of the people. From many places, he says, come news of riots of greater or less degree, while in Kiangsi a condition bordering on actual rebellion is on, and so serious has the situation become that a goodly portion of the available military force of the Liang Kiang Yamen is now in the field.

"My deliberate opinion," he concludes, "is that the next few months will see the development of dangerous things in this part of China, and that such conditions will have a great effect on foreign interests, political as well as commercial.

"Chinese New Year, in the second week of February, is watched with no small degree of uneasiness."

PALMA'S CONFIDENCE IN AMERICAN RULE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—The Herald today in a special dispatch from Manzanillo, Cuba, gives an interview with ex-President Palma obtained by its correspondent, who traveled to the remote retreat on the Cauto River where Señor Palma is establishing a home. He is now living in a shanty with his two sons. His wife and two other members of his family are at Matanzas, waiting until Palma can build for them a home. The ex-President has 1900 cattle on the ranch.

Señor Palma in the interview told of his struggle since 1868 to throw off the Spanish yoke and establish peace and security for Cuba.

"When, after years of bloodshed and sacrifice," he said, "the Cuban people, with the aid of the United States, set up the republic, I thought turbulence was a thing of the past and a long era of happiness and prosperity was ahead.

"During the four years of my administration, there was peace and confidence. Public improvements were made, foreign capital flowed into the country to build railways and develop natural resources. There was security and opportunity for all who desired to engage in business and work for all who wanted to earn an honest living. The country's credit was high and there were millions in the treasury.

"When this position had been attained, after such havoc and protracted struggle, it was a painful shock to see that the Cuban people had not the patriotism to stand united before the world, but were fomenting dissension and starting a revolution against their own government.

WHY HE STOOD ASIDE.

"With the millions in the treasury, I could unquestionably have suppressed the revolution, but in doing this I could not prevent the destruction of property or the shedding of Cuban blood by Cubans. It was to avert these calamities that I stood aside to permit the United States to exercise the right and duty it had assumed of preserving Cuban independence and protecting life, property and individual liberty.

"The United States has solemnly assumed the obligation to do this. Americans are a moral people, and will, I know, fulfill their obligations. My absolute confidence that they will protect life and property is shown in what I am doing here."

"Do you believe that should be done by declaring a protectorate," asked the correspondent, "like that over Egypt?"

LEAVES IT TO AMERICA.

"You mean," responded Señor Palma, "that the peace and prosperity of the Cuban people require an administration like that of Lord Cromer in the land of the Nile. I will not undertake to say precisely what measures should be taken. It is for the American people to say by what means they shall fulfill their obligations, but I have absolute confidence they will do whatever is necessary to enforce the regulation of peace, law and order, and to make certain that there shall never be another revolution in Cuba.

"Her people may work in the assurance that they will enjoy the fruits of their labors and that capital to develop the resources of the island and bring well-being to the people can come in confidence."

Following the Kaiser's victory at the polls, the announcement is made that Germany will shortly have in readiness five shipbuilding yards where battleships of the largest class can be constructed. At Kiel warships of 25,000 tons and 180 feet in length will be constructed.

SEVERE ECZEMA CURED IN SOUTH

Suffers Three Years—Hands and Eye Most Affected—Employed Doctor to No Effect—Now Entirely Recovered and Will Recommend

CUTICURA REMEDIES IN ALL PARTS OF PARISH

"My wife was taken badly with eczema for three years, and she employed a doctor with no effect at all until she employed Cuticura Soap and Ointment. One of her hands and her left eye were badly affected, and when she would stop using Cuticura Soap and Ointment the eczema came back, but very slightly; but it did her a sight of good. Then we complied with the instructions in using the entire set of Cuticura Remedies and my wife is entirely recovered. She thanks Cuticura very much, and will recommend it highly in our locality and in every nook and corner of our parish. God bless you for the sake of suffering humanity. I. M. Robert, Hydropolis, La., Jan. 5 and Sept. 1, 1906."

SOUTHERN MAN CURED

Of a Terrible Eczema by Cuticura in Six Weeks.

"Some time ago I suffered terribly with eczema, and I had the best medical attendance, but the more medicine I took the worse it seemed to get. I kept on with medicine for about five weeks until I saw the Cuticura Remedies advertised, and I at once purchased the Cuticura Soap, Cuticura Ointment, and Cuticura Resolvent, but had not the slightest hope of them curing me. After I had used the first set of the Cuticura Remedies I saw the improvement, and in just six weeks my skin was as smooth as ever. I advise any one suffering from this terrible disease to use the Cuticura Remedies. Henry J. Steiljes, 139 Spring St., Charleston, S. C., June 12, 1906."

Complete External and Internal Treatment for Every Humor of Infants, Children, and Adults consists of Cuticura Soap (25c.) to Cleanse the Skin, Cuticura Ointment (50c.) to Heal the Skin, and Cuticura Resolvent (50c.), or in the form of Chocolate Coated Pills, 25c. per vial of 60) to Purify the Blood. UNFORTUNATE M'KITTRICK

No Prosperity Here Because of Espee Car Shortage.

Standard Pipe Line the Only Present Ray of Hope.

Sunset at Railway's Mercy. Road Oil Wanted.

STAFF CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.

BAKERSFIELD, Jan. 28.—Prosperity in oil is as yet but a dream of the future, so far as McKittrick is concerned. While Kern River is bustling around and selling its product at from 25 to 30 cents and talking of 50 cents, McKittrick has nothing doing. Wells are shut down everywhere. Hardly a car is moved beyond what is produced by the Southern Pacific from its own property. It is utterly impossible to imagine a worse situation. What the future will bring no man can tell. It is a long road that knows no turning, and producers are living on hopes and, as old brierless lawyer friend of mine once said: "Hopes often go a long way as long as you have enough of other things to eat."

To illustrate, some three months ago an independent company obtained an order for two cars of fuel from a San Francisco corporation that is itself one of the big patrons of the Southern Pacific and should have about as much influence as any one to get cars.

Applications for cars was made by the producer to the agent at McKittrick. The latter replied with the utmost frankness that there were no cars to be had, and that there was no prospect of any in the future. As a matter of form the application was filed and held to await its turn whenever "the sweet bye and bye" there were any cars to be had. Days lengthened into weeks and weeks into months and still no cars. The producing company notified the purchaser of its inability to accomplish anything, and suggested that maybe its own influence might bring about results. Vain hope! Despite the efforts of two companies, the cars are still lacking, and may perhaps turn up some time before next Christmas, or maybe it will only be after all the parties are in their graves that the Southern Pacific will move. A few weeks since the purchaser, in despair, requested the producer to cancel the order for one car and to keep the other on the waiting list. It is still waiting.

RESERVOIRS THREATENED.

As though to fill up the chalice of trouble the Kern River Oil Company is threatened with a serious break in its reservoirs. These contain many thousands of barrels which, it is impossible to ship on account of the car shortage. When these reservoirs were constructed there was no effort made to properly tamp the earthen dams and the recent heavy rains have washed away part, and so weakened the balance that the daily loss through seepage is between 300 and 400 barrels. Another heavy rain is almost certain to cause the entire dam to give away. In anticipation of this the company has a large force throwing up new dams to impound the flood once it breaks away.

STANDARD COMING IN.

The Standard's surveyors, who have been running a route for a pipe line from a junction with the Bakersfield-Point Richmond line near Jewetta, to Midway, have completed that portion of their work, and have turned north and ar eworking toward McKittrick, which gives a ray of hope.

When McKittrick was first opened the Standard had an agent stationed there, and for a few years did a limited business. With the completion of the pipe line, however, this was discontinued some four years ago, and the field handed over completely to the Associated-Espee combine. It may be that now the Standard has troubles of its own at Coalinga, it will invade McKittrick again and bring relief.

Let not McKittrick, however, build too much upon this. Those whose memories extend back a few years will remember that the Associated once aroused similar hopes by surveying a route to the coast only to abandon the matter. Chandler & Canfield also surveyed one from the Midway a few years since. This, too, proved to be more of a "pipe dream" than a pipe line. Let us hope that this time the Standard will do better.

STANDARD NEEDS OIL.

I am credibly informed that the Standard has resorted to bringing oil from Indian Territory to Point Richmond for refining for the Coast and Oriental trade. An entire trainload is reported to be en route.

While it may be asserted by the trust that this action is due to the superiority of the Indian Territory product for refining, such an explanation can hardly hold good. It is singular that this drawing upon outside sources comes just at the moment that the trust's rivals have cut off most of its best Coalinga oil and just at the moment that it is striving with all its might to get a larger supply of California product. The Indian Territory is also being drawn upon to supply the western market where the shortage of Pennsylvania high grade is being keenly felt, so it is unlikely that any will be sent here unless badly needed.

TO REVOKE CONTRACT.

A suit will be tried next month at Bakersfield in which the El Dorado Oil Company seeks to annul the lease of its lands at McKittrick to the Dabney Oil Company upon the ground of non-fulfillment of contract. The lease was made for twelve years, and has but a number of years to run if not cancelled by the court. It is alleged that the Dabney company has failed to operate the property and to keep it in proper condition. The land is in a good section of the field, but for a long time it has been understood that a number of the wells have been very seriously affected by water.

The Dabney company originally had a number of good contracts, but was forced to abandon most of them on account of the failure to get transportation, and they were taken over by the Standard or Associated. For a long time it has done very little or no work. At one time it was reported to be about to lay a pipe line to the Coast, but the project seem to have been abandoned.

McKittrick is credited with having at one time produced 1,200,000 barrels in a year, and it is probably capable of doing as much and more, but it is evident that the Southern Pacific is determined it shall have no chance to do so with the commercial interests of the state. It wants the oil for its own use and it looks just now as though it would have it.

The McKittrick oil is of all kinds, and is excellent fuel, but some is a good refining product. Last year the output is estimated at not over 300,000 barrels.

It wants the oil for its own and it looks just now as though it would have it.

McKittrick oil is of all kinds and grades fuel, but some is a good refining product. Last year the output is estimated at not over 500,000 barrels.

SUNSET IN SAME FIX.

Like McKittrick, Sunset has found itself practically shut off from the market by lack of transportation facilities during the greater part of 1906. At present it is completely at the mercy of the Southern Pacific, which is now operating the Sunset railroad and will do so for a period of five years, when the Santa Fé will again have its turn. This is in accordance with the terms of the joint agreement under which the line was built. The arrangement is not at all pleasing to the Sunset men who would generally prefer to do business with the Santa Fé. Scarcely a car can be had either to ship crude or asphalt or to get supplies of barrels or machinery.

The output of the district this year has gone almost entirely for road work in which it has almost a monopoly of the markets in the north with many sales in the south. It does the work and does it satisfactorily, too. As far away as Spokane, Wash., it is being used, although the freight on a car of 225 barrels is over $500, making the cost about $2 a barrel delivered. Some time since the Southern Pacific confiscated a car in transit for fuel in an emergency, and later replaced it with a lighter product intended for fuel. The latter was applied to the road with most unsatisfactory results, the sandy soil of that region being reduced to a state which the authorities say is disgraceful and which, judging from the complaints received, must have sorely tried the tempers of the Washingtonians. Now they are threatening to sue the railroad not only for the loss of the oil but also for the injury alleged to have been done to the road.

The demand for road oil has increased enormously and is still growing, as its merit, when a proper quality is used and properly applied, is now universally recognized. If cars could be had the volume of business at Sunset would be doubled with ease.

The Adeline Company alone has delivered to the Sunset Road Oil Company, the selling agency, 250,000 barrels during the year. This is of 10½ gravity, or 83 per cent. asphaltum.

The Jewett & Blodget refinery has been turning out large quantities of asphalt and is the intention to double its capacity. The Sunset Road Oil Company is also operating the Pacific refinery at Bakersfield. In the refineries here as elsewhere and in other branches of the oil industry lack of cars is keeping everything back.

The Sunset oil, besides being such a good road maker, is also a fine fuel. While the very heavy product does not flow so readily when cold it can be lightened by mixing and not all the Sunset output is as heavy as this by any means.

ARTHUR R. HINTON.

SANTA FE CUT FROM FIELD.

ESPEE OPERATING SUNSET LINE.

(STAFF CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.)

BAKERSFIELD, Jan. 27.—The fact that for the next five years the Southern Pacific will operate the Sunset Railroad goes far to confirm the theory that it is likely to be a long time before the tracks are extended into Midway. When the Santa Fé bought the holdings of Chanslor & Canfield there was talk of an immediate extension and opening of the district. How these hopes were ruthlessly blasted when the rails were actually on the ground is now a matter of history. The story of the coercion used by the Associated-Espee combine is well known to readers of The Times. Now the Espee has taken over the operation of the Sunset line under the terms of the agreement, in accordance with which it was built and until 1911 the Santa Fé is completely cut off from its midway holdings, unless it either builds another line of its own or makes some new arrangements with its rival.

There have been constant rumors of such intention. Before the line was handed over to the Espee it was said that it was purchased outright by the Santa Fé. Now, however, it is learned from a source that should be reliable that the Espee flatly refused to entertain the proposition. There are several routes by which the Santa Fé could build into Midway direct. That the Espee would or could oppose successfully for an indefinite period the entrance of its rival into a field of which it owns so large a part is scarcely to be thought of, especially in view of the constant decline of the output of Kern River. Moreover, the building of a pipe line by the Standard will undoubtedly so stimulate development as to render an extension almost an absolute necessity to get material for operating. In that case an extension of the line to be operated by the Espee might be a solution of that difficulty, but not of the Santa Fé's position.

There is suspicion that there may be back of all this a desire on the part of the Santa Fé to increase its holdings, and as a first step to keep prices down as much as possible, an explanation that is plausible, though there seems to be nothing to confirm it. It should be remembered that the Santa Fé occupies a rather different position toward the oil industry from that of its rival. It has access over its own lines to only three out of the twelve fields, viz., Los Angeles, Whittier and Fullerton. Only one of these—Fullerton—is exclusively its own. Six, viz., Kern River, McKittrick, Coalinga, Newhall, Ventura, Summerland and Santa Maria, are reached only by its rival, either over its own lines extending into the midst of the wells, or, in the case of Santa Maria, over a small tributary road, while Midway and Sunset are tributary to the jointly-owned line now under Espee control. Thus the Ripley road can do but little business in oil except over the Harriman lines to and from the wells.

The Santa Fé's main line is as close to Kern River, Sunset or McKittrick as the Espee's, and nearer to Coalinga, yet it has never built a branch to any of them. To get to the Espee's main line from Coalinga, it is, in fact, necessary to cross the Santa Fé's main line at Hanford. That there is or would be ample tonnage for both if cars were furnished admits of absolutely no doubt.

Perhaps this keeping out of the oil regions is part of the price which the Santa Fé pays for its passage over the Tehachepi over the Espee's tracks. If so, it is cause for deep regret among the producers with whom, it is universally conceded, the Santa Fé has dealt much more fairly than the Espee, a fact commented upon in Mr. Garfield's report. For years cars were furnished by the Santa Fé, while the Espee continued to block all business. The Santa Fé was also ready to buy oil at a fair price for its engines, and is today paying double its rival's rate for much of its fuel under an old contract, made when the Harriman road was "bearing" the market with all its might.

When it is remembered that the fields under the domination of the Southern Pacific produce much more than two-thirds of the State's output, and that those which are reached by both, nearly all the balance, the inequality of the two roads in division of traffic and territory is plain. Of course, oil from the Kern and Coalinga fields is delivered to the Santa Fé under traffic arrangements, but the Espee unquestionably gets the bulk.

TWENTY-FIVE-CENT OIL.

Midway operators here, as in Los Angeles, generally declare themselves against acceptance of any further discussion of the Standard's offer of 25 cents. Thirty cents, they say, is the absolute minimum. However, there is said to be one, at least, who is disposed to yield. This is Timothy Spellacy of the Mascot and Croesus. He was the negotiator for the operators, as a whole, and while he called off the deal, and has so publicly announced, it is thought that he was personally inclined to accept. From conversations he has had with other operators it is believed that he called off negotiations reluctantly. It is even said that, if he felt certain of being able to guarantee deliver of the three and a half millions from his own wells within a reasonable time, he might be inclined to take up the trust's offer and contract. Other operators say they would not be influenced by any stand that might be taken by others in the direction of lower prices.

On the other hand, it is said in behalf of any one who may be inclined to give in, that the Midway properties have laid idle for years without producing a cent of revenue, and were originally a source of expense for prospecting, assessments and development. At present, of course, the oil is simply remaining in the ground—a natural reservoir as long as all are idle—and most of the owners are willing to let this state of affairs continue until they get their prices. As long as the Standard's surveyors continue at work they hope to win their point. After all, their demand is for no more than is being paid by the trust for all grades at Coalinga.

ARTHUR R. HINTON.

Italy, it is stated at Rome, will take over the protectorate hitherto held by France of the Franciscan and Dominican missions in Smyrna and North Africa.

A GOOD PRESCRIPTION.

To relieve a cough or to break up a cold in twenty-four hours, the following simple formula, the ingredients of which can be obtained of any good prescription druggist at small cost, is all that will be required: Virgin Oil of Pine (Pure,) one-half ounce; Glycerine, two ounces; good Whisky, a half pint. Shake well and take in teaspoonful doses every four hours. The desired results cannot be obtained unless the ingredients are pure. It is therefore better to purchase each separately and prepare the mixture yourself. Virgin Oil of Pine (Pure,) should be purchased in the original half-ounce vials, which druggists buy for dispensing. Each vial is securely sealed in a round wooden case, which protects the oil from exposure to light. Around the wooden case in an engraved wrapper, with the name—Virgin Oil of Pine (Pure,) prepared only by Leach Chemical Co., Cincinnati, Ohio—plainly printed thereon. There are many imitations and cheap productions of pine, but these only create nausea, and never effect the desired results.

Compton Dies.

W. A. Compton, who stabbed himself in the abdomen, Sunday night, died last night at the County Hospital. Chronic trouble caused him to become despondent. He was operated upon at the hospital a few hours after he arrived there. The intestines were perforated in three places. An inquest will be held today.

Steals Wig?

James Gunn was arrested Thursday night on the charge of stealing a wig from the room of G. Young at the Burbank Theater and has since been held in the City Jail. The arresting officers found a number of lap robes and some miscellaneous articles in the room which, they say, Gunn has not been able to account for.

Held on Suspicion.

Fritz Lion and Louis Sossman were arrested last night on suspicion. Nearly $500 worth of hardware was found in their rooms. Sossman says that he bought the stuff from Lion. The police say that it belongs to the Union Hardware and Metal Company, whose plant is at First and Alameda streets. The men were employed there as clerks.

Native Sons Install.

Los Angeles Parlor, No. 45, N.S.G.W., installed officers last night at the hall on Second street. After the ceremony refreshments were served and a social hour enjoyed. The officers are: Dr. E. Lazard, Past President; George Burkhart, President; J. Bannister, First Vice-President; Eugene W. Biscailus, Second Vice-President; S. Brodek, Treasurer; Lee Payne, Financial Secretary; Theodore Herzog, Recording Secretary; J. T. Newell, Trustee.

Brick Hits Him.

William Tupper of No. 646 Maple avenue, a carpenter, was badly injured by a falling brick in a new building on Main street, between Sixth and Seventh streets, yesterday morning. Tupper was on the first floor and the brick dropped from three stories above. He was taken to the Receiving Hospital where the surgeons found that he was suffering from a severe concussion. He was later removed to the County Hospital.

Didn't Toll Loud Enough.

Ernest Green of No. 1018 Maple avenue, Roy Doldredge of No. 1000 Wilde street, Walter Marx of No. 1021 Wall street and Jessie Gibson of No. 756 San Julian street were taken into custody last night by an Eastlake Park officer on the charge of violating the curfew ordinance. Mrs. D. Gibson reported to the police several days ago that her daughter was missing from home. Later the girl was arrested at the park. She said that she had gone there with the three boys for a street car ride.

White Memorial.

Sculptor Douglas Tilden's model of the bronze Stephen M. White Memorial, which is to be placed on the Courthouse grounds, will be ready to be seen and passed upon February 1. This is the information received in a letter from Oakland by Joseph Scott, secretary of the Executive Committee of the Stephen M. White memorial fund. The statue will be cast in Chicago by the American Bronze Company, which cast Tilden's California Volunteers' Memorial War Group and his Junipero Serra.

Cloak Theft Alleged.

The sharp eyes of a friend of Mrs. Ada Hill caused the arrest yesterday of Helen Sloan, who is now charged with stealing Mrs. Hill's cloak. On Hope street, near Seventh, Mrs. Hill's friend saw Helen Sloan yesterday afternoon and says she recognized the cloak which the woman was wearing. A patrolman was notified and made the arrest. The prisoner worked for some time in the home of Mrs. Hill, No. 2402 South Olive street. She left the place a short time ago and then a cravenette rain coat was missed.

The booklet consists of thirty-six pages and gives the prices at which property of various kinds can be purchased. Persons desiring a copy of the book may obtain it by addressing Mr. Fitch at Pomona.

IMPORTED ALIEN MOLDERS.

CHICAGO, Jan. 28.—The Allis-Chalmers Company, manufacturers of mining machinery, were fined $4000 by Judge Landis in the United States District Court, following the return by a jury of a verdict finding the company guilty of importing four iron moulders from Manchester, Eng., in violation of the alien contract labor law. Counsel for the company will appeal the case to the United States Circuit Court of Appeals.

SAFE BLOWERS IN CUSTODY.

Two Cracksmen Caught by Nervy Officer.

Patrolman Makes a Clever Capture Alone.

Takes Well-Armed Crooks at Gun Point.

That two of the cracksmen who have blown safes in and near Los Angeles for six weeks past were captured by Patrolman Edward Curtin of the University substation is the belief of the police. The arrest was made early yesterday morning at a revolver's point, near Sixteenth and Georgia streets. A third man escaped, with burglars' tools and nitroglycerine on his person.

By speed in drawing his revolver Curtin saved his own life when C. Smith, one of the pair now in jail, started to pull a large-caliber weapon. Griffith is the name of the other suspect in custody. Both men are well dressed. Both showed wisdom and reticence remarkable even among crooks when "sweated" in the City Prison yesterday afternoon.

In his flight he third man discarded a part of his burden. Where he had run Curtin later in the day found a "jimmy," a slouch black felt hat, and other suspicious articles. Smith when searched at the University substation had $185 in one of his socks.

Every effort to identify the two prisoners will be made by the police department. But few persons have caught glimpses of the safe breakers who have caused banks and postoffices to post armed guards in this section. These few of necessity did not closely scan the faces and figures of the cracksmen. Smith will at any rate be prosecuted on the charge of carrying a concealed weapon.

GOT HIS GUN FIRST.

That Curtin was not killed is regarded among the police department's men as the result of combined good luck and quick action on his part. He had just completed a superficial search of the man who escaped, when the other pair slipped up behind him. Smith dropped one hand toward his revolver, and Curtin, catching the movement, drew his own weapon. The officer had felt in the rear pocket of the man he was searching a small vial such as safe-crackers use for carrying nitroglycerine. For this reason he was loth to loose his hold on the man. But he was alone against three, and had to do it. As Curtin swung around to face the other two, this third man fled.

The capture came as the result of increased precautions on the part of Capt. Bradish of the University substation. Bradish has had a number of plain-clothes officers on duty at night, with instructions to watch suspicious characters. The step was taken in the hope of stopping south-end burglaries, and if possible capturing the burglars.

In the University substation district are several small banks. Fear had been felt that the safe blowers, who have been working in more thinly-settled districts, would ultimately attack some one of these institutions. Among these banks are one on Pico Heights and another at the corner of Hoover and Twenty-third streets. The police suspect that the trio whom Curtin encountered were coming from one of these. If so they had been frightened away without accomplishing a robbery.

When Curtin saw the trio they were in front of a vacant lot at he corner of Sixteenth and Georgia streets. Their actions were suspicious, for they were apparently trying to avoid observation. The officer crossed the street and accosted them. At the time he hardly believed they were dangerous crooks. As a consequence he did not have his revolver within reach.

ONE MAN ESCAPES.

Smith, who is the largest of the three, was surly in answering the patrolman's questions as to who they were and whither they were going. At once Curtin began to believe his men might be of some consequence. He ordered them to stop. He seized the smallest of the trio, who was showing a desire to edge away. Curtin passed his hand over the man's pockets, feeling for a weapon. In a hip pocket he encountered the glass vial. Realizing the probable nature of this the officer held closely to his man. At that instant came complications which entirely changed the situation.

The other two men slipped behind Curtin. As the latter looked over his shoulder and saw Smith reaching for his revolver he drew his own weapon and commanded the pair to stand fast. Then the little man ran.

At first the police were inclined to believe their prisoners hold-up men. When Curtin turned in his full report, however, the suspicion became general among those officers who were in possession of the facts, that the pair belong to the safe-robbing gang. This idea gained strength when Curtin, in going over the route taken by the fleeing man, found the jimmy and the black felt hat. The presence of the small vial in this man's pocket also materially affected the aspect of the case. It is thought the small man fled knowing that he was the only one of the three who had incriminating evidence upon his person.

The two men in jail are well dressed and young. They claim to have come to Los Angeles but recently, and to be working men, but their hands are soft and their faces are the faces of crooks, according to the detectives. Their reticence and their skill in avoiding all questions makes the police the more suspicious of them.

CASHIER HOLDS UP FORGER.

Santa Ana Banker, at Point of Pistol, Makes Crook Disgorge Cash.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

SANTA ANA, Jan. 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Cashier J. A. Turner of the Farmers' and Merchants' Bank of Santa Ana regained $300 from a forger and swindler Saturday. The money was secured at the point of a 44-caliber revolver, on a Pacific Electric car bound for Los Angeles.

A man, giving his name as O. T. Mott of Fort Kent, Me., presented a forged letter of introduction at the bank, and showed certificates of stock in school district No. 23, Aroostock county, Me., and in the Fort Kent Trust Company.

Cashier Turner accepted three as collateral for a loan of $300. After Mott was gone he became suspicious, and, on telephoning, he found that the letter of introduction was fraudulent. Immediately the cashier telegraphed East, and then stepped onto the next car for Los Angeles.

At Parton street Mott boarded the car. Turner hid behind a passenger until the car had started. Then he acted. At the point of the pistol, Mott handed over the $300. He then was allowed to go. A telegram from Fort Kent says Mott is unknown there.

POLICE SEEK REALTY MAN.

Ocean Park Operator Charged With Cashing Checks in This City, With No Deposit.

Charles Widrig, formerly well known in Ocean Park as a real estate operator, is wanted by the police on a warrant which charges obtaining money under false pretenses. Paul Kerkow, proprietor of the Café Kerkow, swore to the complaint in the office of the Deputy District Attorney yesterday afternoon.

According to the statement of Kerkow, Widrig has cashed at the formers' place several checks. The total amount is $75. For these checks there were in the Commercial Bank of Ocean Park no moneys on deposit.

Widrig is nearly as well known in Los Angeles as in Ocean Park. He has been in the habit of occasionally dining at Kerkow's place. When he presented a check for $25 January 8 he easily got his cash. Late the same day he cashed another check at the same place for $15. The next day he cashed a $25 check, and on the next day a $10 check.

Two days ago Kerkow found that there were no funds in the bank on which the checks had been drawn.

ACCUSES BARKEEPER.

Frank Wilson was sent to the Receiving Hospital last night from a North Main-street saloon, from which he was ejected with some violence. He said that he left his home at No. 142 San Fernando street early in the evening and went to the saloon for a drink that he ordered a glass of beer and that three men invited themselves to indulge with him. He avers that when he refused to pay for the drinks of his companions, the barkeeper assaulted him.

KNOCKED OUT ARE "FRATS."

Board of Education Delivers Finishing Blow.

It Carries Out the Views of the N.E.A.

Sale of the Olive-street Site Proposed.

The death knell of fraternities and sororities in the public schools was sounded last night at the meeting of the Board of Education. The action was unanimous, and there were no expressions of sympathy or apologetic remarks, but the resolutions went through in a way that indicated a determination to make an end of the disturbing element in the schools, without further ado.

From the report of the National Educational Association committee, the board adopted the following declarations "as a complete expression of its views:"

"We condemn these secret organizations because they are subversive of the principles of democracy which should prevail in the public schools; because they are selfish, and tend to narrow the minds and sympathies of the pupils; because they stir up strife and contention; because they are snobbish; because they dissipate energy and proper ambition; because they set wrong standards; because rewards are not based on merit, but on fraternity vows; because they inculcate a feeling of self-sufficiency among the members; because secondary-school boys and girls are too young for club life; because they are expensive, and foster habits of extravagance; because they bring politics into the legitimate organizations of the school; because they detract interest from study; and because all legitimate elements for good—social, moral and intellectual—which these societies claim to possess, can be better supplied to the pupils through the school at large, in the form of literary societies and clubs under the sanction and supervision of the faculties of the schools."

This red-hot word-picture of schoolboys' and schoolgirls' snob-fostering agencies was followed by the following recommendations:

"We request that no additions whatever be made to existing societies in the Los Angeles public schools; that no pupils be solicited for membership in the same; that no pupil attending the High School or any other public school of Los Angeles accept membership in a fraternity or sorority of any sort whatever; and that no new secret societies be formed; it being understood that should this request not be cheerfully and completely complied with, the rule prevailing in many schools, excluding all members from voting or holding office in any school organization, and from representing the school in any public way, will be applied. It is also requested that no insignia of such societies be worn or displayed on school premises."

Prof. Housh of the Los Angeles High School, was present and in answer to a query from a member of the board, stated that but one member in fifteen in his school was connected with the secret societies.

WEEDING INSURANCE.

The insurance committee's report was adopted, canceling about $50,000 worth of insurance on school buildings, in fifteen worthless companies, or companies that refused to pay San Francisco claims, and placing it in safe ones. Policies in eleven other companies were ordered dropped at expiration. That there is still abundant opportunity to secure insurance, is shown by the committee's presentation of fifty-two other companies that are considered safe, but as fourteen of these failed to satisfactorily settle with San Francisco, they will probably find business coming slow from Los Angeles.

The same committee recommended that the board evolve some plan by which it can carry its own insurance, and this recommendation was sent back to them with instructions to consider such a plan and report to the board.

CONCERNING TEACHERS.

Leave of absence was granted as follows: To John J. Hover to February 11; M. Louise Nelson, Edith Miller, Winnie M. Nauerth, Rose I. McMullen, Mrs. Anna C. Gregory and Minnie Devin, to June 30. Transferred from substitute to regular list of teachers: Elsie M. Reynolds, Ethel D. Phelps, Adele M. Mossman, Frances A. Green, Mrs. Hattie Burmeister, Olga Wunderlich, Glen M. Mead, M. Bernice Cheney. Elected as a substitute teacher in kindergarten department: Caroline H. Rogers. The following assignments and transfers were made: F. Elizabeth Webster to Logan street; W. E. McConnell to Castelar street; Florence Dickey to Avenue 23; Ruby M. Hodge to Ann street; Belle Rogers to Fifty-second street; Minnie L. Stout to Alpine street; May Buchanan to New Macy street; Una Barrett to Union avenue; Katherine M Doran to Sixteenth street; Bertholda Hoen to Sixteenth street.

The boundaries of the new Magnolia-street school district were fixed as follows: On the north, Pico, Elden and Twelfth streets; on the east, Burlington avenue; on the south, Twentieth, Vargas and Washington streets; on the west, Reid street. The boundaries of all adjoining districts were made to conform to these lines.

Use of the two High School auditoriums was granted to the National Educational Association, which will meet here July 8 to 14, and Superintendent Moore, Melville Dozier and J. M. Guinn were appointed members of the Executive Committee, to act in conjunction with the Chamber of Commerce, in providing for properly entertaining the great host of educators.

WILL SELL SCHOOL SITE.

John D. Pope was at the meeting last night representing the Los Angeles-Pacific Railway in its effort to obtain the right of passage under the Olive-street school building, and Leslie R. Hewitt, City Attorney, and his assistant, were there to look out for the city's interests, but the whole question went over, at the request of Mr. Pope, who wanted to present further evidence to the committee. The action of the board may be foreshadowed, however, by the report of the committee, which was in hand to be acted upon when the postponement was asked. It is as follows:

"It is the belief of this committee that extensive excavating underneath the school building will deter parents from sending their children to school while the work is going on; that the construction of the proposed subway will render the building and the retaining walls supporting the high embankments to the north and west unsafe, and cause its abandonment for school purposes; and that the selling value of the property will be greatly impaired by the fact that if the easement were granted the Board of Education would not in future be able to give a title in fee simple to this property.

"We therefore recommend that the application be not granted. In so recommending, your committee wishes to place itself on record as favoring this great enterprise; yet, for the reasons given above we cannot approve the granting of this request; but, instead, we recommend that the property be offered for sale at a fair and reasonable price."

MISS BRADBURY INJURED.

Young Woman Victim of Car Accident, and Reported in a Serious Condition.

Miss Simona Bradbury, daughter of the late John Bradbury, was seriously injured by a street car accident yesterday. Late last night it was reported from outside sources, that her condition was critical.

Every effort was made by members of the family to keep the affair a secret. The strictest silence was maintained at the mansion, No. 405 Court street. Finally the butler was stationed at the door with orders to admit only physicians and others in attendance on the case.

All was excitement within the elegant home. Nurses and doctors hurried to their tasks. All talked in subdued whispers, and the accident took on the appearance of a tragedy.

Late last night John Bradbury of Duarte was notified of the injury to Miss Bradbury. He was surprised to hear of the accident, and at once called up the home. He only learned, he stated, that there was no immediate danger. He was greatly worried to learn that harm had come to the young woman. He was told by physicians that the extent of her injuries may not be known for several days.

Heiress in her own right to a fortune, Miss Bradbury is one of the richest young women in Los Angeles. For many years she has been an invalid, and has been confined to her home.

DEATH MAKES SAD THEIR HONEYMOON.

DEATH saddened a honeymoon last night when it suddenly claimed Mrs. Geo. A. Peak of No. 840 Carondolet street. Mrs. Peak, who was aged 56 years, became ill at 9:30 o'clock and a physician was at once summoned, but she passed away within an hour. She was the mother of Miss Pauline P. Peak, who was married on Saturday under very romantic circumstances. The two events, while not in any way connected, have a peculiar and pathetic interest on account of the coincidence. It is an unusual instance of great joy and deep sorrow coming together.

The marriage—in every way a happy one—was an elopement.

Saturday morning, Albert W. McCready—or "Willie," as his mother still fondly calls him—awoke before the first sunbeams found their way into his little room in the McCready establishment at No. 942 Carondelet street. Down the street a way, at No. 840, Miss Pauline Peak, formerly of Topeka, Kan., also awoke, simultaneously. The awakenings were prearranged, premeditated, and were caused by two alarm clocks, set so as to ring at the same time.

The other outward facts of an elopement that followed, viz: the Seventh-street car line, Salt Lake train to Riverside and return, are commonplace, but the story back of the affair is a stirring one in the annals of lovers.

For six months Willie had been "teasing" to be allowed to marry pretty Miss Peak. Miss Peak was willing; Miss Peak's mother and father were willing, even to the extent of being in love with the boy themselves, according to McCready's mother; Willie's little brother was willing, looking upon the event as "inevitable;" everybody in the world was apparently willing, with the exception of Willie's own fond mother and father. Their only objection was that he hadn't attained sufficient years to entitle him to a marriage license.

The license argument was the only one that frightened William, but he decided he could pass for 22. This is the age he swore to in getting the marriage license.

Dread forebodings of what was going to happen came to Willie's younger brother, but he maintained a discreet silence. The parents remained firm in their stand that the event would have to be delayed until next September, when their boy would reach the age of 21, but at length they began to have an inkling that that would prove too long a time, and so began to hold out hopes to William that they might be moved to relent in June.

Signs of weakening were all that the young people wanted, and forthwith the alarm clocks were set. Sunday evening a messenger boy appeared before Mrs. McCready, saying that her son and daughter-in-law were comfortably settled in their new establishment at No. 840 Carondelet, the home of the bride, and that they would be glad to receive her and her blessing as soon as that was forthcoming.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert W. McCready, Jr.

Willie's mother only laughed when she got the news, which was all the blessing required.

Albert William McCready, the handsome and youthful groom, is well known in local automobile circles, and also as a former student at the Los Angeles High School. He attended the school for a year and a half, leaving it in December of 1905 to go into the automobile insurance business. At the High School he was a member of the Alpha Pi Fraternity, and did some good work on the track team. At present he has an office down town, and besides doing an automobile insurance business, has an agency for a car. It was at a High School club dance at Kramer's on New Year's Eve of 1906 that he first met Miss Peak, and the match was a love-at-first-sight affair.

The groom is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. McCready of No. 942 Carondelet street. His father is a well-known builder and contractor, and came here with his family eight years ago from South Dakota.

AUDACIOUS SNATCHER.

Takes Young Woman's Purse in Crowd on Street in Mid-Afternoon and Escapes.

With a purse which he had just snatched from a woman in his hand, a bold thief dashed through a crowd at Fourth and Main streets yesterday afternoon and escaped. Miss Constance Lilly is the victim. In her pocketbook were several dollars and a number of papers. She reported the affair to the police.

Miss Lilly had just come to Los Angeles from Fresno. She was on her way downtown from her hotel to make a few small purchases. At Fourth and Main streets she left her car. As she stepped down she was surrounded by a crowd whom passing cars had prevented from crossing. In the midst of this the purse snatcher stood.

The man approached Miss Lilly quickly. She hardly realized his presence before he had reached out and seized her pocketbook. He tore it from her grasp; turned and ran fleetly.

Miss Lilly screamed loudly. A man who was standing near tried to give chase to the thief. Several others shouted "Stop thief." But the crook darted across the crowded sidewalk; ran into an alleyway and vanished.

The robbery took place at about 3 o'clock in the afternoon. At that time a great number of people was on the street.

BOWLING GAME.

Stewart, Flick and Stratton turned the tables on Gunning, Gregory and Hannings last night on Morley's alleys, winning three out of five games and 118 pins on totals. This gives the night's winners a margin of 34 pins for the two series. Stratton had high game of 228, and Flick had high average of 197 for the evening.

The third series will be played next Monday night. Tonight the "Orphants," Gray and Benfer, play a return match with the "Mercantiles," Pennrich and Leonard.

TOURISTS' ADVANCE GUARD IS STRONG.

THE first ripple of the onrushing wave of eastern tourists scampering from the frozen regions reached Los Angeles yesterday, and for the first time this season five of the ten principal hotels of the city were compelled to close their registers and hang out the sign "standing room only."

The season has been late, owing to the remarkable mildness of the eastern winter, up to the holidays, when it became very rigorous. But from now on the rush is looked forward to. At noon yesterday the Angelus was in a quandary what to do for more rooms. There were still three transcontinental trains to arrive during the day, and two trains from the North, and every room in the house had been taken. In addition, there was a waiting list of half a dozen, who anxiously inquired whether they could have rooms before nightfall.

At the Alexandria, which really has entered upon its first full season of tourist traffic, there was the greatest crowd of the season. The magnificent lobby resembled a bargain-day rush in a department store, with the exception that those present represented bankers, brokers and captains of industry from all over the United States.

Reservations had been made by the incoming visitors as far back as one week ago, and the clerks were in a muddle what to do with the guests who demanded front suites with parlors, and who would not be satisfied with the simple "room and bath."

The management of the hotel was evasive in its statements as to the scarcity of rooms. In one breath it said that it would be able to accommodate all guests coming in during the day, and in the next was advising the overworked clerks what to do to secure an available room. The truth of the matter was that while the hotel expected the departures of today to relieve it of its congested condition, it was taxed to its utmost to care for the people who wanted to secure accommodations.

The Van Nuys was a repetition of the Alexandria scene. The house has had an excellent run of business, but the climax was reached yesterday, when there was scarcely a room vacant. The management states that it had not expected to be taxed to its capacity until the first of February.

With the arrival last night of the belated Santa Fé Overland trains the Westminster filled to its capacity, and several were turned away. The Lankershim, one of the largest hotels in the city in point of accommodations, was the closest to its capacity in the number of guests that it has been this year. The Hayward, one of the newest hotels, was overrun about 9 o'clock, and the management evidenced surprise that the strong advance guard of the tourists should arrive so early. The Hollenbeck, which occupies a unique position among the hotels of the city, was filled to its limit, but that is no new thing. Last summer at several different times the hotel was filled to its capacity, which is not as small as some of the other hotels.

THE PUBLIC SERVICE.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

March 14 is the date named for the San Pedro annexation election.

Expert McKay refused yesterday to sign the substitute report prepared by the Gas Committee on the recent investigation; he says it contains false and misleading statements. But it was presented by the committee yesterday as the report of the experts.

Mayor Harper sent a message to the Council yesterday recommending the immediate creation of the position of sealer of weights and measures.

A billboard tax of a quarter of a cent a square foot is proposed in a special message sent by the Mayor to the Council yesterday.

City Attorney Hewitt announced yesterday afternoon the appointment of Lewis R. Works as Assistant City Attorney.

The Cressey case ended yesterday. Judge Wilbur appointed a guardian for Mrs. Cressey's estate, and another for her person. She is allowed to remain with her husband until a further order of the court.

Because his dog bit William Gillespie, a plumber, John Alton must pay $500 damages. The case was decided in Judge Bordwell's court yesterday.

R. W. Clark went to the City Prosecutor's office wanting a criminal complaint because the Chutes Park balloon persists in alighting in his front yard on Sunday afternoons.

RODERICK McKAY.

AT THE CITY HALL.

CALCIMINE IN GAS REPORT.

EXPERT M'KAY DECLINES TO SIGN DOCUMENT.

Committee Suppresses Original Communication and Presents One Not Written by the Experts—Wanted to Throw More Stones at Gas Company.

The Gas Committee went before the Council yesterday afternoon with the whitewash of the official gas investigation clinging to its clothes. From the tenor of the report submitted it would appear that most of the calcimine was used for the Mayor and the committee.

Yesterday morning Chairman Lyon of the Gas Committee went to Silver lake with a report which he asked Expert McKay to sign. McKay refused. He said it was not the report which he and Mr. Foveaux had prepared, and that it contains some statements which are not true.

"I gave you a report which I wrote myself," said McKay. "Mr. Foveaux and I worked on that the greater part of Thursday night. That report is a true statement of conditions; this one is not. We agreed on every sentence that went into it.

"If you do not like that report tear it up and I will not charge the city one cent for my services. But I will not sign a report which some one else has written, and which contains false and misleading statements."

When the Council met in the afternoon the Gas Committee presented a report signed by "F. Foveaux, Consulting Engineer, Mutual Gas & Engr. Co., Oakland, Cal."

This report was cut and pasted and bore evidences of mutilation. It was accompanied by the following explanatory statement from the Gas Committee:

"As your committee was unskilled in the manufacture and distribution of gas, it decided to secure experts for such work, and after some inquiry, obtained the services of Mr. Foveaux, engineer of the Mutual Gas and Engineering Company, San Francisco, and of Mr. Roderick McKay of this city. Herewith we hand you their report."

"I never made such a report as that," said Mr. McKay last night, after reading a copy of the document presented by the Gas Committee, "and I doubt very much if Foveaux did. Lyon brought me a report out at the works this morning and asked me to sign it. That report was signed by Foveaux, but it contained things which are not in this. If the report submitted by the Gas Committee is genuine, then Foveaux must have signed three reports."

Mr. McKay identified the following report as the one which he wrote with lead pencil, and which he and Mr. Foveaux signed and filed with the Gas Committee.

EXPERTS' REPORT.

We the undersigned as gas engineers appointed by you to investigate the gas service of the gas companies to their consumers in this city.

From personal investigation and information supplied by gas companies' officials, we beg to report as follows:

We have gone through and examined the generating and purifying plant of L. A. Gas and Electric Company, at Aliso street, their storage and distributing plants at Jackson street and East Seventh street, and their distributing system in the city.

GENERATING.

In the generating department, during the winter of 1905-06, there was in operation seven water gas generators and nine oil gas generators. During the summer of 1906 there was built one large oil gas generator which should give an addition of 40 per cent. to last winter's capacity, or a total of eleven million feet per day; this generator going into service about the middle of November last.

Whether this new generator has failed to come up to expectations or whether the condition of repair of the other generators are such that they are not up to their former capacity, the result was, that about the middle of November last, when this city experienced a spell of extreme cold weather, and all other fuel being short at the time, there was a very great demand on the gas company for gas. To avoid a shortage, they began to overload their generators by forcing more oil into them. This method would have been effective if the bad weather had only lasted a few days, but is extremely risky for a long period, as the excess oil forms a carbon in the generators and washers which can only be removed by shutting down.

When gas company realized their condition, they let a contract with the Lacy Manufacturing Company for two standard size generators and with the Pioneer Boiler and Machine Company, for one large generator. One of the former generators was rushed to completion and was put in operation on January 21, this adds 1,000,000 cubic feet to the capacity of the plant. The second one is now being made and should be in operation in six weeks. This will also increase the capacity of the plant materially. Fair service should follow the installation of the first generator, but the seriousness of the situation will not be relieved until the second is put into use. When the last generator is put into service, which will be in the fall, the company will have a capacity of 15,000,000 cubic feet. Unless the city grows at a tremendous rate, the capacity will be more than ample to avert a famine.

What the gas company officials have done since the beginning of the famine, in our opinion, should have been done last summer. Because this was not done, we believe officials were careless and neglectful. We have not the power to enforce or advise a penalty.

The gas company should have a surplus of generating power so that in case of an unforeseen cause it would be in readiness when needed. The company may have been unfortunate in having two explosions and minor fires, but these were due indirectly by trying to force the plant to do overwork, when it could have been avoided.

The purifying and scrubbing capacity is sufficient for the generating capacity of the plant.

The company now possesses an unusually large amount of storage capacity, having built one gas holder of 5,000,000 cubic feet capacity during the past year. The holder is the largest, with one exception, in the United States. If the company had succeeded in getting this holder into its possession earlier, it would have helped materially.

The city has grown so much in late years and mostly in one direction that to give a satisfactory pressure at outlying points means have to be made for such conditions. The usual custom in such cases is either to have district holders, or to have high pressure pipe lines discharging gas into the low pressure pipes, through governors regulating the pressure.

The Los Angeles Gas and Electric Company has adopted the latter method, having electric motor-driven compressors for that purpose. This seems to be ample.

Right here it may be pointed out that the company has been lax in making provisions to prevent the possibility of a shortage of electricity. Occasionally through a shortage of electricity as happened when the electric plant was disabled by fire, the compressing plant was shut down causing an almost total lack of gas at distant points.

This might prove serious sometime. The company should have some provisions made at once to duplicate its electric service. No time should be allowed to pass before the provision is made. Gas company officials inform us that they have let a contract with Ladish, Dunn, Gordon & Co. of Cincinnati, O., for steam-driven compressors of about 1000 horsepower and the Stirling Boiler Company of Chicago for boilers for the same.

These contracts should have been let a year ago. Again the company officials are lax, negligent and careless in delaying so long a time.

The plant which the company is preparing will be depended upon for daily service, using the present electric-driven machines for auxiliaries.

If such installation is in operation October 1, this year, as is expected, the situation of enough pressure in outlying districts is assured for sometime. To meet the requirements of the center of the city a thirty-inch main has been laid on Seventh street from the holder on to Main street, and is intended to continue this line out of Seventh street. This will help the pressure in outlaying districts.

As to the modern part of the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Company, being modern, we state that all of the fifteen generators have been built since 1902, four-fifths of the purifying apparatus and seven-eighths of the storage capacity has been added since 1904. District holders would not relieve this situation, they are unsightly affairs and nothing would be gained by their erection. It would be merely a matter of economy for the company to consider in this matter. The service would not be affected.

So far as we have been able to ascertain from our brief investigation, we are of the opinion that the distributing system will be good for twenty years. Of course, it is to be understood, that it shall be increased according to the growth of the city. Compressors and governors will make the service, not the pipes. The pipes, so far as we have been able to ascertain are all right.

Increase in gas bills is due to two causes—low pressure and extra use of gas—during the cold spell, people used more gas than ordinarily, low pressure compelled the consumer to keep his gas burning longer. Indirectly the gas company is responsible for the high bills, for it compelled the consumer to burn his gas longer to obtain results. The legal department should inform the consumers whether they should be forced to pay the increase. We cannot.

To govern pressure we recommend that an ordinance be passed making it compulsory on the part of gas companies to keep not lower than one-inch pressure on at all times. Two-inch pressure would give extra good service. If one inch was required at all times there could be no cause of complaint.

We also recommend an ordinance creating the position of gas inspector. It should be the duty of this inspector not only to test meters, but to see that proper pressure is maintained. Only by rigid inspection can the consumer be sure of this service. Complaints could be made to him when pressure is low or gas is poor and he could get at the bottom of the trouble.

[Signed] F. FOVEAUX, Consulting Engineer, Mutual Gas and Engine Company, Oakland, Cal.

This report contains the name of Foveaux only. In construction of sentences and general "style" it is similar to certain productions from the typewriter of Mayor's Secretary Kennedy or one trained in his school.

The Gas Committee made to the Council the following report, under the signatures of its own members:

GAS COMMITTEE'S REPORT.

Gentlemen—The object of the investigation recently made by your Committee on Gas and Light was to get some knowledge of the conditions which caused the recent deplorable shortage of gas in this city, which has occasioned so much suffering to thousands of our citizens.

As your committee was unskilled in the manufacture and distribution of gas, it decided to secure experts for such work, and, after some inquiry, obtained the services of F. Foveaux, engineer of the Mutual Gas and Engineering Company of San Francisco, and of Roderick McKay of this city. Herewith we hand you their report, which is self-explanatory.

As a result of the various investigations made, we suggest to your honorable body that the evils complained of and actually existing might be lessened by the passage of an ordinance or ordinances providing for:

(1.) A minimum pressure of not less than one inch in all service pipes.

(2.) A suitable penalty for shutting off gas without notice, to overcome the evil of the "shut-off-and-on" conditions prevailing and so dangerous to the life and health of the consumers.

(3.) The appointment of a Gas Inspector, whose powers shall include the examination of meters and inspection of pipe lines to determine their efficiency, and who shall have authority at any time to examine the gas plants of this city to determine whether or not they have sufficient capacity for all their service connections and also to determine whether their machinery is sufficient and suitable to wash its product so that no gas shall be delivered to the consumer with an obnoxious mixture of sulphur therein.

Your committee is not certain that any plan can be devised that shall grade prices in relation to the units of heat, but, if possible, the gas consumers should be exempt from payment of bills where the pressure is such that the service is ineffective and, hence, value is not received.

Attorney Loucks, representing the Gas Consumers' Association, filed a draft of an ordinance which he thinks would improve fuel conditions materially. He asked that the officials of the gas company be forced to come before the Council, where the association can have an opportunity to cross-question them.

Councilman Wren called for Gas Inspector Read. Mr. Read criticized the methods of the gas company, but presented no new facts.

Then the reports were all referred to the Legislation Committee, to be considered jointly with the City Attorney.

The interest over the conflicting reports was so great that the question of an insufficient gas supply was apparently forgotten.

Representatives of the gas company hovered about the corridors, but they took no part in the discussion. The company was not represented by an attorney.

Apparently it will take something a great deal more severe than the present investigation to frighten the gas trust.

ANNEXATION DAY SET.

LEGISLATURE MUST HELP.

Formally the day has been set when an election is to be held for uniting Los Angeles and San Pedro. Acting on the advice of the City Attorney, the Council named March 14 as the date for the annexation election.

This action on the part of the Council is to be supplemented by the passage of a special annexation bill by the State Legislature. Mr. Hewitt will leave for Sacramento this morning to present the bill to the State Legislature.

EXECUTIVE FROST.

COUNCIL SHIVERING.

The committee of the whole decided yesterday to sidestep the petition from the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association, asking the Council to protest against an increase of $1 a day in the wages of laborers employed by California municipalities.

At Sacramento the biennial bill has been introduced, raising the State limit for wages of laborers from $2 a day to $3 a day. If this bill becomes a law all contractors working on streets or public buildings would be required to pay $3, as would the city for its employés in the street, park and water departments.

The Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association sought the aid of he city in defeating the bill, but the Councilman grew timid in executive session and sidestepped by referring the petition to the City Attorney. If the bill should become a law it would necessitate a charter amendment raising the tax-rate limit from $1 to $1.25 on each $100 of assessed valuation in Los Angeles.

It would be interesting to know what the Councilmen expect the City Attorney to do with this petition. The reference to the legal department is the only one on which the Council at executive session could agree.

DEFECTIVE MEASURES.

MUST HAVE CITY TESTER.

Mayor Harper sent a second message to the Council yesterday, requesting the creation of the position of sealer of weights and measures. He expressed surprise that the Council has delayed action so long. He refers to the recent fuel famine, saying that during that period it was not a matter of securing proper weight and measure, as it was of securing fuel at any weight, measure or price, but declares that it is manifest that during that time short weights and measures were given. He asks the City Council's help in his effort to prevent a "systematic robbing of the people," and says that his position is supported by scores of independent dealers, as well as by the Southern California Retail Grocers' Association, which has a membership of more than 400 retail grocers of the city.

Councilmen Wallace and Dromgold hastened to assure the Mayor that the Council is not unfriendly to the proposed ordinance. They said that the Mayor's first message on the question of short measures and defective weights is now under consideration by a special committee.

"We desire an ordinance that shall be legal," said Councilman Wallace, "and a position that shall be self-sustaining."

The Mayor's message was referred to a sub-committee of the committee of the whole, to be considered in executive session.

BILL BOARD TAX.

FOR CITY BOUNTIFUL.

A billboard inspector and a poster censor are regarded by Mayor Harper as necessary adjuncts to the city government. He suggests that the positions can be made self-supporting by fixing a license tax on billboards. Accompanying his message on the subject, is an ordinance drawn by the City Attorney, levying a tax of one-quarter of a cent per square foot per quarter on billboards. The ordinance also provides for a billboard inspector. The Mayor's message says that billboards are a nuisance, which should be done away with entirely, but it seems impracticable, at this time, to recommend an ordinance abolishing them. A system of license fees, he believes, will reduce the number and bring revenue to the city.

It has been estimated the city has twenty-five miles of billboards, a fee of 1 cent per square foot would bring the city a revenue of $52,800. This fee, the Mayor considers, excessive. He suggests a reduction to one-quarter of a cent, which will bring the city upward of $12,000.

THE INFERIOR COURTS.

BALLOON NOT A CRIMINAL.

MAY ALIGHT WHEREVER ITS FANCY DICTATES.

Man Under It Goes to the Office of the City Prosecuter With a Grievance Which Must Go Unredressed In So Far as the Police Court Is Concerned.

It is no crime for a balloon to persistently settle down in a man's front yard. This opinion was given by Assistant City Prosecutor Guy Eddy after an exhaustive search of legal authorities yesterday. R. W. Clark of No. 416 East Twentieth street must get his redress by civil suit. The point in question is a nice one.

The balloon belongs to the Chutes Park management. It goes up every Sunday and as regularly comes down again. For some reason it chooses Clark's yard for the return to earth—according to Clark, who should know. It does this itself, for the aeronaut, departing via a parachute route, leaves the big air bag to its own devices.

When the advent of the balloon happened the Clark family were rather pleased with the attention. It isn't every day a thing of this sort happens. It gave them and the neighbors something to think about for the time being, and helped while away a Sunday afternoon. The second Sunday the visitation wasn't so pleasant. Soon small boys became accustomed to picking out the Clark premises as a vantage point after the ascension, looking expectantly skyward and cheering loudly as the gas bag descended.

Last Sunday things reached a climax. Clark was in the front yard. He heard a flapping noise and looked upward. He was not a moment too early in doing this. About half a ton of silk and cording and wicker work was literally falling on him from the clouds. He leaped to safety and afterward spoke his mind to the park attendants who went to get the balloon. Yesterday he went to Mr. Eddy's office, asking for a complaint for trespass. The Assistant City Prosecutor did his level best to find some ordinance or statute under which the offense might fall, but all to no result. He was obliged in the end to tell Mr. Clark to go elsewhere for redress.

Mrs. Goytino Gilty.

Mrs. Constance Goytino will appear for sentence in Justice Chambers's court today for allowing filthy conditions in the Mexican quarter on Utah street. She was adjudged guilty yesterday as owner of the property. Her husband, who has no interest in the lots, was discharged. The case was brought by the health department and the municipal housing committee. Mrs. Goytino will appeal the decision to the Superior Court, according to statements made yesterday afternoon.

"Snowbirds" Prove Quail.

J. J. Lonergan of the Imperial Café was fined $50 in the Police Court yesterday for selling quail illegally. The birds were found by a deputy game warden. On the bill of fare they had been labeled "snowbirds." In court they were proven to be quail.

"Blind Pig" Fines.

Julius von Haach and John Waters, proprietor and manager of the Ascot Cafe at No. 3827 Central avenue, were fined $100 and $50, respectively, in Police Court yesterday for selling liquor without a license. The place has been run as a blind pig, according to evidence in the case brought by plain clothes patrolmen. Liquor was sold in bottles without any lunch.

Caught the First Time.

C. F. Stengel, who says he never stole before, yielded to temptation last month and took from a peg in his room at the Hotel Vendome, on East Ninth street, an old coat. It belonged to the proprietor of the place, who reported the matter to the police. Stengel was caught selling the coat yesterday, and sentenced to $30 or thirty days, in the Police Court.

MOVE TO QUASH.

Santa Fe's Attorneys Claim Indictments Should Not Hold and Give Various Reasons.

Responding to the date set for their client's answer, the attorneys for the Santa Fé appeared in the United States Court yesterday morning, and made a motion to quash the two voluminous indictments returned against the corporation.

They asked for a reasonable continuance to prepare their argument. As Oscar Lawler is absent from the city, Judge Wellborn granted the request. The next hearing will be Monday. The other allied cases also went over.

Attorney Camp, who, with his associates, Norton and Van Cott, is defending the railroad, entered the motion. He claims, among other things, that certain of the acts questioned by the grand jury are absolutely uncovered by law, since the passage of the Hepburn bill last summer nullified all other legislation on rates, and itself did not go into effect for sixty days, leaving a sixty-day period in which the country had no rate legislation.

It is further claimed that the search conducted by the grand jury was in violation of the fourth amendment of the Constiution, and that the fifth amendment was violated also, since the corporation was forced to bear witness against itself, and had its property taken (according to the attorney's claim) without due process of law; that the use of secondary evidence, the tissue copy-book, was not right; that the indictment does not charge any willful concession or any willful deviation from rate, or any exhibition of direct intent to do so.

The attorneys aver that they should be allowed to inspect most of the records of the grand jury, now in possession of the Federal Court.

Mr. Lawler is not expected back until Thursday, and was represented yesterday morning by his deputy, Mr. McCormick.

Upon the advice of School Superintendent Mark Keppel the Board of Supervisors yesterday refused to grant the petitions asking for the annexing of certain territory located in the Norwalk school district to the Artesia school district. Norwalk people opposed the plan.

PICO-STREET RAILWAY EXTENSION. A franchise is to be offered for sale for the extension of the Pico-street electric car line from the westerly city limits to a point about 2000 feet westerly therefrom. This advertisement was ordered yesterday by the Board of County Supervisors. The line will be an extension of the Los Angeles Railway system.

LIQUOR FOR PLAYA DEL REY. Frank Lawton, former manager of the Ship Hotel Cabrillo at Venice, was granted a retail liquor license for Playa del Rey yesterday by the Board of Supervisors.

NEW RIVER MAY GET WET. A delegation of El Monte citizens, including Messrs. Garner, W. J. Embree, Charles Pierson and J. D. Clemmson, appeared before the Board of County Supervisors yesterday and urged immediate action for the strengthening of the banks of the San Gabriel River in order to prevent its waters from cutting through to the channel known as New River. They claim that there is danger of this if there should come heavy spring freshets, and that if the current were turned down New River it would result in the loss of much property in rich farming lands and the flooding of a portion of the town of El Monte. The board will make a personal inspection of the territory next Saturday. It is probable a storm district will be formed to include the territory from the Santa Fé bridge to a point about four miles below, and bonds will then be issued for the carrying on of this levee work.

NEW COUNTY STATISTICIAN. W. H. Wright of San Gabriel was elected County Statistician yesterday by the Board of County Supervisors. This was to fill the vacancy caused by the death of the former incumbent, John O. Lowe, who was the first person to hold this position in Los Angeles county. The position was created by the State Legislature two years ago, and its purpose is to gather statistics regarding county products, etc., which are later turned over for State use. The position carries a salary of $125 a month.

VERMONT-AVENUE IMPROVEMENT. Oscar E. Schmidt, owner of extensive property interests on Vermont avenue, appeared before the Board of County Supervisors yesterday and asked the aid of that body in putting Vermont avenue between Fourth and Sixth streets in repair. Half of this street lies in the city and half in the county. The sum of $10,000 has been expended on a storm drain there, but the street surface is left in an almost impassable condition. The board ordered that the County Surveyor confer with the City Board of Public Works in order to reach a satisfactory plan for improvement. Schmidt offered to raise one-third of the cost of improvement by private subscriptions.

PROSECUTING OFFICER.

City Council Objects to Bill Before the Legislature—Salaries Raised.

Resolutions were adopted by the Council yesterday denouncing in drastic terms the attempt to transfer the city prosecutors in the Police Courts from the City Attorney's office to that of the District Attorney.

Under the terms of the bill now before the Legislature, the District Attorney of Los Angeles county would appoint four prosecutors at the Police Station, but their salaries would be paid by the city. Munificent salaries are provided in the new bill; the additional expense to the city would be $5000 a year.

Councilman Wallace introduced a resolution at yesterday afternoon's session of the Council asking the Legislature not to enact the proposed statute. The specific reasons advanced are that the City Council is strongly opposed to any measure that would require the city to pay the salary of a deputy who is not appointed by a city official, and that the proposed plan to remove the public prosecutors from the jurisdiction of the City Attorney's office is contrary to the spirit of municipal government under a freeholders' charter.

This resolution carries the approval of the Board of Public Works. Chairman Anderson has expressed the sentiments of the board on several occasions recently affecting this proposed change. He says that the transaction of business in the Department of Public Works would be hampered seriously by transferring the city prosecutors to the Courthouse. In matters affecting the preservation, maintenance and care of streets, parks and public places the City Attorney and the Board of Public Works are in almost daily consultation.

As evidence of its disposition to stand by the City Attorney, the Council approved yesterday afternoon, without division, a new salary ordinance affecting the legal department. Salaries are raised and some new positions are created.

Lewis R. Works has received the appointment as Assistant City Attorney. This was announced by Mr. Hewitt as soon as the ordinance passed the Council. Mr. Works is a son of former Judge Works, and is a member of the law firm of Works, Lee & Works.

By this appointment Mr. Harper loses one of his selections for the Library Board. The Mayor had expected to name Works as one of the Library Commissioners.

The other appointments are: Chief Deputy City Attorney, Emmet H. Wilson; Deputy City Attorneys, S. B. Robinson, John W. Shenck, Howard Robertson, Charles E. Haas; City Prosecutor, R. J. Adcock; chief clerk, George H. Welsh; clerk, C. B. Penn, C. D. Pillsbury; stenographers, Miss Beuhl Padgham, Miss Olive Dury, Mrs. Clark, Mrs. Connolly.

Opposed to the sentiment of the City Council, is the opinion of many citizens that Dist.-Atty. Fredericks, with his great experience, would be a more formidable prosecuting chief than Leslie Hewitt. It is said to be the intention of Capt. Fredericks to make Deputy District Attorney Fleming the city's prosecuting attorney, in case the Broughton bill becomes a law. Mr. Fleming has won his spurs as an expert prosecutor and a terror to evildoers, while Hewitt's choice, Adcock, is a fourth-rate politician, that's all.

MISCARRIAGE ALLEGED.

Husband and Wife in Collision on Salt Lake and Sue Road for Heavy Damages.

James P. Hayden and his wife, Charlotte Hayden, residents of New York, filed a heavy action for damages against the San Pedro, Los Angeles and Salt Lake road in the United States Circuit Court yesterday afternoon. They aver that on November 22 of last year they were passengers on a regular train running from Salt Lake City to Los Angeles, and that at Milford, Utah, a collision occurred in which they sustained bumps and bruises.

The most serious injury was done to Mrs. Hayden, who was thrown from her berth to the floor. The complaint relates that she was then in a delicate condition, and that the nervous and physical shock she sustained caused a miscarriage. The child died, and the woman was seriously ill for a long time She asks for $25,000.

The Famous Mason & Hamlin PIANO

And what a few prominent musicians say of it.

Harold Bauer says:
"I consider that as an instrument for bringing into prominence the qualities of tone and touch of the player the Mason & Hamlin stands absolutely pre-eminent."

Emil Paur says:
"It is unsurpassed, so far as I know."

Moritz Moszkowski says:
"It has a full singing tone and the action is most satisfactory. Taken as a whole, it is, I believe, an instrument of the very first rank."

Heinrich Gebhard says:
"The Mason & Hamlin pianos have all the elements which make for the perfection in a pianoforte—beautiful quality of tone, power, brilliancy, as well as an excellently working mechanism."

Elsa Von Grave-Jonas says:
"It is the artist's delight to feel the absolute evenness of action, the sensitive responsiveness, and with it all a tone of extra beauty—mellow, singing, yet powerful. The Mason & Hamlin pianos of today cannot be surpassed."

And hundreds of other prominent musicians have given voluntary testimonials equally as strong. The music-loving public can well afford to follow the choice of such leaders in the musical world.

WARM DAY FOR ICE TRUST.

Consumer Resents Increased Price and Finds No Other Company Will Sell to Him.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NORFOLK (Va.) Jan. 28.—The ice trust prosecution by the State of Missouri against the Polar Wave Ice Company, the Merchants' Ice Company and others, came up in Norfolk today for the taking of depositions made by F. A. Stillwell, formerly a restaurant proprietor in St. Louis, who declared that he had been buying ice from the Merchants' Ice Company in that city for 17½ cents per hundred pounds, when the price was suddenly jumped to 25 cents per hundred pounds. Stillwell said he refused to pay the increase and sought to buy from other companies in St. Louis, all of which refused to sell to him.

SHOWMAN BAILEY'S FOLKS.

They Are Trying to Prove He Was Insane When Leaving Five Millions to His Widow.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MT. VERNON (N. Y.) Jan. 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] In the contest brought by Michigan relatives to set aside the will of James A. Bailey, the showman, for the $5,000,000 estate which he left to his widow, the contestants, who are nephews and nieces, are trying to prove that he was mentally incompetent.

In their depositions they allege that all of the Bailey brothers and sisters became insane before they died.

Old Age

There are a class of fools who say they do not care to live to old age, while there are hundreds of men and women between the ages of eighty and ninety as lively and independent as the average person of forty. Old age is exactly what you make it. Taking care of your health while you have it, and by eating good, nourishing food, will prolong your days.

ENGLAND'S INTEREST IN PEACE.

During the past week Hon. James Bryce, the new Ambassador from England to the United States, in speaking to the business men of Manchester, England, laid great stress upon the cordial understanding between the two countries. He expressed a desire for the continuance of these amicable relations, and there is no doubt that this desire came from the depths of the speaker's heart and found a ready echo from his hearers. Of all the places in England, Manchester was just the one in which to give utterance to these sentiments.

It is but a few weeks ago that the English government was approached with a feeler as to how that country would entertain a proposition to be brought before the next meeting of the great international peace conference at The Hague, in June, looking to the limitations of military armament among the nations, the cessation of building ships of war and other steps in the direction of universal peace. The English government promptly put a veto on bringing that subject forward for discussion.

There may seem a divergence of sentiment between this action of the government of Great Britain and these utterances of that country's Ambassador to Washington. As a matter of fact, there is no lack of harmony necessary between the two views.

The English government undoubtedly desires universal peace for all time to come in so far as peace may be preserved among the nations with safety to all and also the preservation of the amour propre of each. Great Britain declines to accede to the discussion of elimination of armament because the time does not seem right yet for such action. Its discussion would probably bring out in bold relief the antagonism of several nations to such a proposition, and would only accentuate the possibility of war, which all sane people must recognize.

But whatever the governments of the world think, the people of all nations are becoming more and more profoundly weary of war. Mr. Bryce, at Manchester, was speaking to an assembly of business men. The age is above all things a business age, and business men control the things that are to make the history of these and future days vastly more effectually than do generals, kings and armies. War and business are as antagonistic as heaven and hell.

The great business of Manchester, as the world all knows, is cotton spinning and weaving. There is estimated to be $2,000,000,000 invested in cotton mills and kindred industries in Europe. England is the center of this business and Manchester its heart. There are nearly a million persons in England directly interested in the cotton industry. Some estimate that in Great Britain there are as many as ten million people dependent for their living directly or indirectly upon the cotton trade.

In case of war the United States could starve the million persons who operate these English cotton mills and at least another million who are just a little less than directly dependent upon them. The cutting off of the supply of American cotton would bring into the deepest misery at least two million more people of England.

The States along the Gulf of Mexico form the great cotton-producing belt of the world. These Southern States receive $600,000,000 a year for their cotton crop, and by the time this product reaches the consumers, it has been converted into a value of over $2,000,000,000. During the last three or four years Europe has been paying the United States as much as $400,000,000 a year for raw cotton. England takes by far the largest portion of this export crop. Within twelve months the city of Manchester added 6,000,000 spindles to its cotton equipment. At the present rate of development in cotton spinning and weaving, ten years from now the demand will call for perhaps 18,000,000 bales of raw cotton a year. At the present time a bumper cotton crop in the United States runs at from 12,000,000 to 13,000,000 bales. To meet the growing demand ten years from now, an increase in the world production of 5,000,000 bales, or nearly 50 per cent. of the American crop, will be called for. These figures indicate why the Hon. James Bryce was so emphatic when speaking before the Manchester audience that peace must be preserved between the United States and Great Britain. The cotton supply is only part of Great Britain's dependence upon the United States. There would be quite as great misery resulting from cutting off from the United Kingdom the supply of breadstuffs and meats.

Statisticians have figured that between the firing of the first gun on Fort Sumter and the close of the war between France and Germany, war destroyed the lives of 1,400,000 human beings and $6,000,000,000 worth of property. Two-thirds of all the moneys raised by taxation in the various States of Europe are devoted to the maintenance of war equipage. Nearly all the debts of all the countries of Europe were created by wars. Wars and preparation for wars are said to absorb half of all the wealth created in Europe by productive labor. The Boer war cost England nearly 25,000 men and $1,400,000,000. That war took away from productive industry 350,000 men first and last. During the last eight years, the United States, the most peace-loving of all the nations, appropriated for military expenditures $1,500,000,000.

It is said to have cost nearly $400,000 to keep the battleship Oregon in commission for a single year and that old bulldog of the seas is now out of date. To keep the Ohio, a more modern battleship, in commission for a single year, the Paymaster-General's report shows it cost the government $714,245. The Colorado cost $524,057 for one year, merely to keep her in readiness for an emergency. The total cost of maintaining our present navy for the past year ran close to $20,000,000.

These are arguments which make the strongest for peace.

AH THERE, MR. BRYAN!

The Times joins hands with the Mayor, Citizen Nathan Cole, Jr., Meredith Polonius Snyder, P. Sarsfield Clark and the populace generally in bidding William Jennings Bryan a welcome to Los Angeles. He comes on a good mission. His eloquence was put to good uses in raising funds for the Newsboys' Home. And aside from all that, Los Angeles is glad to get another look at a man who may again be a candidate for the office of President of the United States.

Mr. Bryan is not now a candidate for office, and it would not be exactly courteous to our guest to discuss him in that light until he has been officially designated to lead another hopeless fight at the head of his party.

As the distinguished Nebraskan came down the line, however, he has been voicing his ideas on public questions, and doubtless will repeat those utterances tonight when the forgathers with the Great Unterrified of this pueblo at the plutocratic banquet board where the plates are to cost $5 each.

Mr. Bryan was never safer in promulgating his advocacy of the initiative, the referendum and the recall than he is right here in Los Angeles. These Socialistic doctrines are not regarded seriously here. The people have tried at least one of them with the result that it produced nothing more than a miscarriage in the shape of a false alarm known as "Spook" Howton. The recall has therefore been relegated to John R. Haynes with the injunction that he lock it up in his bosom and throw away the key.

It is to be hoped that the gentlemen having our famous visitor in hand will not fail to point out to him that we have the same old climate here that we had on the occasion of his former appearance under the sunlit skies. The automobiles should be stopped frequently in order to give Mr. Bryan an opportunity to hear the mocking birds sing from the trees in the heart of the city, a treat that he can have in no other great metropolis in the world.

He should be given a chance to feast his eyes on the flowers that flame from our hedges and along our golden highways. These things ought to look good to a man from Nebraska about this time of the year.

By doing things like this for Mr. Bryan he may perhaps overlook the fact that the pictures printed in the evening papers were intended for him, and he will feel that not only do the people welcome him but that nature also does not refuse to be glad while he is here. He has lately been abroad and has hobnobbed with kings, but he should be made to know that nothing is worth while unless a man can spend at least eleven months and two weeks out of every year in Los Angeles.

FIND A WAY OR MAKE ONE.

The fact that difficulties lie in the way of our programme for better roads in Southern California must not hinder the campaign. These are not unsurmountable obstacles. It is the boast of the American character that through all difficulties it can find a way or make a way.

The most serious obstacles inhere in our present laws. Of course, these laws may be modified through the action of the Legislature. But the trouble with modifying the laws upon our statute books is that they apply generally to all parts of the State and while we might desire to reshape some of these laws, such changes might meet with decided opposition in other counties. If a bill were introduced in the Legislature authorizing counties, where such action might be desired, to organize a special road district and tax the property in that district, or bond it for the purpose of making roads, there could be no reasonable objection raised by counties which might be indifferent to the whole question of road-making. Such a law would be merely permissory and no community need avail itself of it or could avail itself of it against the objection of a majority of the people. Indeed, in many of the counties, and our own among these, there are portions of such political divisions where the property owners would be likely to oppose any general tax for the purpose of building good roads. The reason would be the selfish one that the road would not pass through a given district. Any proposition looking to the bonding of the county would have to be voted upon by the whole county and these districts not to be benefited by the tax might vote no. But by the organization of a road district, a portion of the county through which the proposed road would run might be segregated from the rest of the division and as almost all the people in a given district would be almost if not quite directly benefited by such a road the opposition would be reduced to the minimum. Under these conditions bonds might easily be voted.

This plan is suggested as one practical way of beginning the construction of good roads. If there is a better suggestion, by all means let the people have it. The demand is that we get at the work. We must not let obstacles, whether legal or of other character, stand in the way. The enterprise is particularly important for communities like our own, taking the whole upper mesa region from Santa Monica around by the base of the mountains to Redlands and Riverside. Such a road as contemplated would be of the greatest usefulness and add amazingly to the attractions of the country and to the comfort of those living here or of visitors. It is a rich, densely-peopled region. The property has a very high value upon the assessors' books, and the tax, whether for paying interest on bonds, or providing a fund for building the roads outright, would not be heavy. It will save the taxpayers money in time to come to have a thoroughly well made road running through the heart of these districts. It would cost much less in after years to maintain such a highway than it does at the present time to repair our makeshift roads.

THE UNLOVED SWEETENHAM.

PECULIAR CONDUCT AS JAMAICAN GOVERNOR.

Said to Be a Polished Product of British Civil Servicism, but He Has, According to All Accounts, Rather Proved Himself a Boor to the People of Jamaica.

[Baltimore American:] Sir James Alexander Sweetenham, K.C.M.G., Captain-General and Governor-in-Chief of Jamaica, is described by his near subjects as much like the sort of British official that William S. Gilbert had in mind when he wrote: "And I polished up the handle so carefulee that they made me the ruler of the Queen's nu-vee."

He is one of the most polished products of British civil servicism. He has been in the colonial service of Great Britain for nearly forty years, and residents of Kingston have learned that there is not an inch of red tape connected with his duties and his prerogatives that he has ever overlooked.

For if ever he had missed a little thing like a salute of courtesy which the regulations prescribed should be given only in time of peace, and which was actually given in times of distress and in the interests of humanity, the Kingston people who knew him well are positive that he would be disturbed greatly.

He is 61 years old, the son of J. O. Sweetenham of Belper Lodge, Derby. After graduating at Cambridge he entered the Ceylon civil service in 1868, and remained in various grades of Ceylon service for fifteen years. He was auditor-general of the Island of Cyprus from 1884 to 1891, and auditor-general of Ceylon from 1891 to 1895. Then he was made colonial secretary at Singapore, and from 1898 to 1900 was acting Governor of the Straits Settlements. Then he went to British Guiana as Governor and Commander-in-Chief, where he was kept until 1904.

"SIR ALEXANDER."

Sir Alexander got his decoration and his knighthood for colonial service, and then they sent him to Jamaica, where he arrived in the fall of 1904, took up his residence at King's House and was put up at the Isthmian Club.

The cable reports at the time stated that there was no demonstration in his honor on the occasion of his arrival. Six weeks later Secretary Taft, with Rear-Admiral Walker and Chief Engineer Wallace of the Panama Canal Commission, lunched with the new Governor and discussed with him the question of Jamaican labor for the canal construction. Arrangements were made for the employment of 3000 Jamaican natives, but a year ago the American government closed up the labor offices at Kingston because of the attitude of Gov. Sweetenham. He then demanded that a deposit of $5 a head be made for Jamaicans going to Panama to work on the canal.

During Gov. Sweetenham's incumbency a party of tourists arrived from England. They included R. P. Copeland of Kibbiestone Hall, Staffordshire, England. The Governor promptly fell in love with Miss Mary Emily Copeland, the eldest daughter, proposed, was accepted, and they were married August 26, 1905. The residents at Kingston had prepared to make a gala day of it. There were crowds on the streets, bands were waiting at the public square to salute the bridal party, and the occasion was to have been made one long to be remembered. But Sir Alexander put a slight upon them which they will never forget. Dodging the crowd and the bands in the streets he drove in a bus from the King's House, through the outskirts of the city, to the Half-way Tree Church, and only six persons were present at the ceremony. There was no public reception, and the people of Jamaica decided that their new Governor was distinctly "not neighborly."

WOULD PAY HIS "SCORE."

Gov. Sweetenham's unpopularity in Jamaica is laid to his autocratic manner, his militarism, his red-tapeism and his insistent refusal to make himself part of the life of the people. At the first large ball given in his honor, after his arrival in the colony, he affronted the flower of Jamaica's society by sending an aide-de-camp to represent him.

He accepted an invitation to attend the opening of the annual exhibition of the Port Maria Agricultural Association. He and an aide-de-camp drove to the fair grounds in a carriage. A deputation from the association begged that he would take luncheon with them. Word was returned through the aide-de-camp that the Governor had brought his luncheon in a basket in his carriage, and would prefer to eat it with his aide. And he did.

After luncheon he went so far as to consent to meet the Agricultural Society Committee and their guests for a social glass of champagne. Then he spoiled it by announcing that he would pay his score. It was in vain that the loyal residents expostulated, pleading that he was their guest, and that they were only too proud to have him there to grace the opening of their exhibition and represent His Majesty.

"I insist on paying my score," said Sir Alexander, severely. After that he was voted socially impossible.

PROMINENT PERSONS.

Isaac Seligman, the well-known New York banker and philanthropist, was asked several days ago why Jews invariably succeed, and his reply was: "My people keep their heads, work hard and spend their spare time in their homes."

H. G. Wills, the author, says Swift was his chief source of inspiration when a youth; Sterne is the most profitable English master, in his opinion, for a novelist to study, and as a thinker, Schopenhauer has impressed him more profoundly than any other.

F. Jerome Starek, who has been appointed private secretary to Secretary of the Treasury Shaw, is a native Chicagoan, who went to Washington five years ago after graduating from Harvard. During the last two years he has been studying law at the George Washington University.

John H. Thompson, an employé of the navy yard at Portsmouth, Va., is the oldest navy yard employé in the country. He took a position at the Portsmouth yard in 1854 and has remained there ever since, with the exception of a few years during the Civil War.

John Sharp Williams and Senator Daniel were discussing the fortifications bill and the former declared that there should be heavy fortifications along the Virginia capes, otherwise an invading fleet might get up to Washington. "Perhaps you are right," said the old confederate, "but I was trying to get into Washington from 1861 until 1865 and I never succeeded until 1884." It was in the latter year that Mr. Daniel was elected Congressman.

Rev. Henry N. Couden, the blind chaplain of the House of Representatives, recently conceived the idea that he would prefer to be the chaplain of the Senate and went to Speaker Cannon about it. "What do you want to go over there for?" inquired Mr. Cannon. "The House is a flower garden and the Senate is a graveyard." "I know," replied the chaplain gently, "but one stays longer in a graveyard than in a flower garden."

Someone asked L. W. Busby, private secretary to Speaker Cannon, how the latter's Presidential boom was getting along. "Not much doing in the matter," was Busby's reply. "In fact, I have received Mr. Cannon's positive orders to hold it in check and not to permit it to get beyond control. I am sitting on the lid, so to speak, of his Presidential boom. The seat is not very uncomfortable as yet, and you know I can get off at any time if it gets too hot."

Unlucky Good Luck.

We've always been too lucky—though we're poor as poor can be,
And when it ain't the children that is sick, it's her or me—
But we don't send waves of feeling through the kindly strangers' blood,
Like as if we was the victims of a earthquake or a flood.

Just live on the same as always, with an odd job now and then,
Lose my grip and give up hoping, then get up and try again—
Just the common run of people, living on from day to day,
Wishing that a flood or earthquake would arise and come our way.

Sympathy? We get lots of it, with a layer of advice,
And to make sure that it fits us, they will come and give it twice—
But the children go in tatters, and there isn't much to eat—
And no earthquake ever throws us to the middle of the street.

Mebbe it is wrong to wish it, but sometimes I kind of think
That a earthquake would do wonders—do them quicker than a wink;
That calamity of some kind might induce the folks to give Food and clothing to the poor ones that is close to where they live.

NOTES OF THE FAR EAST.

BY WALTER J. BALLARD.

The State of Victoria, Australia, is breaking records in exports of butter. For the first four months of the season (from July 1) the increase was 1,455,802 pounds. It is sent chiefly to Great Britain, Cape Colony and Natal.

The Government Savings Bank of New South Wales, Australia, is a popular institution. In the fiscal year 1906 the deposits were $22,449,150, and the total deposits remaining at the end of the year were $45,232,256.

The London Consulate-General of Japan gives the empire's foreign trade for the ten months ending October, 1906, as $337,718,553, an increase of about 3 per ment. over 1905, ten months. Exports were $164,000,000, a gain of $41,000,000, and the imports were $173,000,000, a decrease of $32,000,000, giving Japan a balance of trade gain of $9,000,000.

During next summer the Secretary of State for India will make not less than twelve appointments of assistant engineers in the Public Works Department of India.

China's maritime customs collections in 1906 reached $30,000,000, the largest amount ever received.

The treasury of the State of Queensland, Australia, shows a surplus of $680,000 for the last six months of 1906, as compared with $300,000 for the first half of 1905.

Opium preparation and selling in the Straits Settlements is a monopoly which is leased out to the farmers for periods of three years. It brings the government a revenue of about $3,000,000 a year, unfortunately.

In the eight months ended February of 1906, India's exports of cotton were fortunately $3,500,000 less than in the same period of 1904, and $1,250,000 more than in 1905, owing to the decrease in Chinese demand. Tea exports increased by $2,500,000.

India's famine relief list is now small—a large reduction from last year.

Carrier Pigeon Beats a Train.

Neff, a carrier pigeon owned by M. Webb, a policeman of Colorado Springs, has established a new record. It escaped from its home there and returned to the home of its former owner, Mrs. L. M. Bolles in Boston, time being four days.

Mrs. Bolles, however, had removed to Eureka, Cal., to which Neff had accompanied her on one occasion. After flying about Boston two or three days the bird started for California. The time consumed in the trip is not recorded, but Neff showed up at Eureka, flying in at the Bolles kitchen door, according to a wire received by her Boston friends.

Puzzled the Bishop.

Dr. Ingram, bishop of London, is a learned ecclesiastic, but he doubts that at times young children, of which he is extravagantly fond, quite badly with their questions. One was addressing a gathering of children, and at the close of his remarks invited any boy or girl to ask him questions. The bishop was overwhelmed, but was finally floored by a little girl, who asked: "Please, sir, why did the angels walk up and down Jacob's ladder when they had wings?" Dr. Ingram escaped by blandly replying: "What little boy or girl would like to answer that question?"

"Story of a Sixteen Years' Battle"

The True Attitude of "The Times" in the Labor Question.

Authoritative Narrative of the Unique and Victorious Contest for Industrial Freedom.

The Los Angeles Times, responding to numerous applications for a connected narrative of the extraordinary battle begun August 5, 1890, when it was compelled to wage against a defiant and lawless trades-union, for the sake of maintaining its right and its position as a free American journal, has prepared a succinct account of the contest from beginning to end, hitting the high places and giving the main points of the distinct victories won by it. The account (which is now ready in the form of a convenient booklet) deals with principles as fundamental and sacred as anything in the Constitution or the Declaration itself, and dear to every American patriot, opens with these strong and unmistakable words:

"We stand for the vital principle that every citizen has the lawful right to pursue, unhampered and undisturbed by any lawful occupation of his choice in a lawful way, and to be protected in that right by the whole power of the State and of the nation, if need be."

The full title is: "For Liberty and Law! For Industrial Freedom! Against the Closed Shop! The Story of the Distinct Victory Over Misrule, Despotic Trades-Unionism and Anarchy! The Los Angeles Times in a Sixteen Years' Battle, Showing the Vital Issues Standing Fast."

Copies of the pamphlet will be furnished on application at The Times office, or will be sent by mail to any address upon the receipt of the price and postage. Address The Times-Mirror Company, Times Building, Los Angeles, Cal.

PLAYHOUSES AND PLAYERS.

BELASCO. Lillian Albertson will re ld you of Eleanor Robson. Perhaps u can't quite place the resemblance—e it's there—elusive, haunting, ever ent. The comparison is not with leanor Robson the finished artist, but the Robson elemental traits—her weetness, her facial expression, her ladness and sweetness of manner, ested all the while by an under-trace tense nervous force and passionate oetry.
Times without number it has been id in these columns: "don't judge an ist on one performance;" and, not ssing final opinion on Miss Albert
's possibilities at all, it may be said at in her present role at least she ows strong traits of talent—talent metimes misdirected, always quite ithful, but nevertheless talent found on genuine soul and temperament, something that counterfeits these th startling surety.
The current play at the Belasco is rcely of passing interest. It is Henry rthur Jones's "The Masqueraders," d might be simply chronicled the lapse of a brilliant nd. Only in one places does show spontaneous life. Its action is gging, its conversation themes triv
, its imaginations frequently silly, plot spineless. Only in one place es it show virility and actual life, d this is in the degenerate, repulsive ale — the third act.
The trouble with "The Masqueraders" that it is a play of a species that has olved its effectiveness—usefulness is the word, for it never had any. So al tuberculosis was once theatrically ong, but even that day is passing.
The principal characters are a moon and placidly good astronomer, a rvous and all-enduring lady, who eals her passion with her intellect, d an inebriated knight, with a title d clapped over his stinking soul to p it from contaminating the jeweled ase in which he grates.
Dramatically considered, the strong t performance of the piece is Harry auter's, as the worthless aristocrat, Brice Skene. Mr. Glazier is artisti ly hideous, and restrains his loath omeness in a decidedly appropriate anner. His use of his voice is beau fully commendable, and might be held example to a number of others in e company.
Mr. Stone, with few real opportuni s, pleases his admirers as David Be n, the astronomer, and Miss Albert n is cast as Lady Skene.
The best small bit in the list is How rd Scott's Hon. Percy Blanche Flower n apt and ridiculous portrayal of a ly, cackling nobleman.

BURBANK. "We-Uns of Tennes ee," Lee Arthur's pretty little war ama in four acts, as presented by e Burbank stock company, is a well anded, dainty performance. Not the st charming episode of the evening Miss Elsie Esmond's fording of the ek at Chicamauga camp. With all e naivete of a girl in her first long rt, she doffs her hosiery and foot ar and trips over the rocks and rough the water, just as Sapho ampe might be expected to do in veryday life.
Sentimentally the play is, of course, sure winner. It breathes the pa iotism of a reunited North and South d is full of homely natural incidents.
e smoothness and perfection in his es, Arthur Rutledge, as Lige Mun
, the mountaineer, leads the com ny. This actor shows a growing ecuity and ability in each new part.
esmond, Harry Mestayer and the rest the company take their roles with eir usual adaptibility.
The play as a whole is good. The enium of Camp Chicamauga, with its aterial, natural foliage set in per ect environment, is worthy of all aise, but it may also be said that ere is no good reason why a com any of such taste as the Burbank ould commit such an ana ronism as garbing military officers uniforms improper for their grades any era, and while the drama is of e Spanish-American War, Col. Bill oel's sash must have been saved from e and worn for fond reminiscence ke.
It might also be suggested Miss Elsie esmond spoils the piquancy of her ky wading scene by her improvised ndage for Jack Gray. It was some atinine unmentionable, produced illy and handled daintily by her her f and Mestayer; but would not a

The Congo Free State.

HAS DONE MUCH FOR SCIENCE AND CIVILIZATION—PROCESS OF ELEVATING THE NATIVES NOT A HAPPY ONE.

By Frederick Starr,

Professor of Anthropology in the University of Chicago.

WHAT has the Congo Free State done during its twenty-two years—almost—of existence?

It has taken possession of a vast area of land, 900,000 square miles in extent, and dominated it. It has most skillfully developed a mighty waterway. We are already familiar with the simple and original method of development which has been and is being pursued. We have already called attention to the fact that notwithstanding interruption to navigation here and there in the Congo and its larger tributaries, there are long stretches of navigable water above the obstacles. The plan of utilization and development has been to occupy directly the natural stretches of navigable water and to get around the cataracts by the shortest railroad lines possible. This has been done already at two points and will be done at others in the near future. It is the most economical manner of developing a way of penetration into the great area to be developed and exploited.

It has continuously carried on geographical explorations by which the world's knowledge of African geography has been profoundly increased. We have already called attention to the fact that during the eight years when the A.I.A. was in existence, Belgium equipped and maintained six expeditions; during the same period France maintained but two, Germany one, and England none.

In other words, Belgium did more for geographic science during that time than the other three great nations combined. It has put an end to intertribal wars, to execution of slaves at funerals and festal occasions, and to cannibalism in all those districts to which its actual authority extends. It is understood, of course, that twenty years is a short time for the penetration of the state's authority into remote parts of its territory. There are still inter-tribal wars in remote parts of the Congo Free State: executions and the eating of human flesh are no doubt still common in districts which have but little felt the influence of the white ruler. With the extension of the definite power of the state into these remoter sections, these evils will disappear as they have disappeared in the more accessible portions of the country. It has developed a native army which is available in case of attack upon the integrity of the state, and which serves as a policing party within its territory.

In the first days of the State's history its soldiery was drawn from the Zanzibar district, and to a less degree from the English possessions along the western coast of Africa. It soon was realized that from every point of view this condition was undesirable. Between the foreign soldiery and the native people there were no common bonds of interest. No national feeling or spirit could develop among them. From the point of view of expense the foreign soldier was extremely costly. For these different reasons the State early developed the idea of an army made of Congo natives. Today there are but few foreign soldiers in the public force.

If there is ever to be a real nation in the Congo district there must develop in some way a feeling of unity of blood and interests among the people. In tribal life each tribe is absorbed in its own interests—petty, of course—and looks upon all other tribes as enemies. Many of the tribes were insignificant in number and in the area which they occupied. Nothing but an outside influence can unite into one useful whole such a multitude of petty, distrustful, hostile groups of men. In the public force there are soldiers from almost every tribe within the Congo. At the great training camps men are brought together who speak different languages, have different customs, and come from widely separated areas. Under the military discipline these men are brought into close and long continued relations. They must accommodate themselves to one another. They must respect each other's way of thought and doing. At the end of his term of service the soldier goes out necessarily broadened in his ideas, necessarily less prejudiced and more tolerant. The army is the most important influence toward arousing national existence.

It has conducted many interesting experiments and researches along scientific lines. While these had frequently practical ends, they were in themselves worth doing, and their beneficent results are not confined to the Congo. Thus, at Leopoldville there is a well-equipped bacteriological institute for the study of tropical diseases. Naturally most of its attention at the present has been given to the subject of sleeping sickness.

The experiments upon the utilization of the African elephant and the zebra have general interest; if they fail, the warning may be useful; if they succeed, their results will be by no means confined to the Congo Free State. At Eala is a botanical garden, creditably devised and well conducted. Six hundred species of plants are there in cultivation, something more than half of them being foreign species. Their experiments are being made upon a broad scale to discover the uses of native plants and the possibility of cultivating them to advantage; forty species of African plants yield rubber; those the product of which is of a quality to warrant experimenting are here being cultivated with reference to ascertaining their value in plantations. Foreign rubber producers, coffees from different portions of the globe, medicinal plants, dye, and other useful plants are being tested to find out how they flourish in Congo.

Nor is the interest of the Congo Free State in scientific investigations limited to its own enterprises. Some time ago a British commission, consisting of three specialists in tropical medicines, visited the Congo with the purpose of investigating the sleeping sickness. Not only were they given every facility for their investigation, but after they returned to England the total expenses of their expedition were returned with the compliments of the State government, in recognition of the general value and utility of their investigations. Individual investigators and expeditions of a scientific character within the Congo State always have found the government interested in furthering and aiding their studies.

It has developed a significant and growing section of the world's commerce. When Stanley came down the Congo the value of the exports from that region was so small that it might be neglected. Today, the Congo furnishes the world with ivory and supplies a most significant portion of the rubber which is used. Today Antwerp is the greatest market for these two products. That Liverpool should lose in relative importance in the matter of West African trade is, no doubt, hard for Englishmen. But the world gains by having several great trading centers in place of one.

It has checked the extension of the Arab influence with all its horrors. To one who reads Stanley's description this means much. With this checking, the foreign slave trade ceased. Do not misunderstand me, there was much admirable in the Arab culture. There is no question that the practical man, whose views we always keep in mind, and to whom we make our argument, would approve the substitution of it for the barbarism that existed before. But it is certain that it stood in the way of European influence; that it came into conflict with European ideas, and if it were desirable that these should ultimately prevail, the Arab life and culture must disappear.

We might, of course, continue and extend our list of the achievements of the Congo Free State. We have said enough, however, to show that it has done much toward carrying out its promise to civilize and modify the native population in the direction of our own ideals. Even the bitter enemies of the Free State government will admit all this, and more. But they claim that all the credit of it disappears in view of the atrocities, the cruelties and horrors connected with its own administration.

Atrocities no doubt exist; they have existed; they will exist. They are ever present in cases where a population of natives is exploited by an active and aggressive "higher race." The process of elevating natives, of making them over in new pattern, is never a happy one for the native. The wrenching of old ties, the destruction of old ideals, the replacing of an ancient life by one different in every detail, is a painful thing.

WOMEN'S CLUBS.

Kingsley on "Holy Grail."

One of the largest audiences ever assembled in the Ebell Club House listened with great interest yesterday to Bruce Gordon Kingsley's lecture and musical description of that historic story of the "Holy Grail."

Through myth and legend it has come, and Kingsley treated it as Wagner did, and told the story of "Parsifal" in words and music to a charmed audience.

The story of "Parsifal" is as old as the hills, and still as full of human interest as any ever told. Wagner took this thrilling tale and made music to suit it. Not disconnected is the music either, as Kingsley made plain. He showed the different themes running through the story and the music; the "Kundry" motif and the "Parsifal" motif, and how Wagner in his master conception of the tale, has these themes running through, modified and varied, to suit the spirit of the person at the time.

The music of "Parsifal," is at all times mystic and beautiful, though in the first scene it is light and happy and yet beautiful; picturing the coming of Parsifal, suddenly, and the happiness of the knights of the Grail. The second scene is less happy, for it is full of the great temptations which Klingsor, the sorcerer, throws before him, and ending, as it does, with the destruction of the rose maidens and the garden, when Klingsor attempts to kill Parsifal, the music is tempestuous and full of vigor; yet always beautiful.

The same themes run through the entire story in variations, and in the ending the music is most inspiring, where Parsifal returns to the Grail and is made head of the knights. He has never once fallen, even though sorely tempted, and at last is enabled to heal the terrible wound of the King Amfortus, which was inflicted through his fall. The pictures with which Kingsley illustrated his lecture were extremely beautiful and moved along as the music and story moved, making it almost like the living opera.

Kingsley is a speaker who knows well his subject, and his conception of the story is wonderful in its intuition, and in the poesy with which he told it. His enunciation is splendid, and the lecture was told in most interesting and artistic manner.

GAS KILLS BABY.

Defective Pipe Attached to Heater Causes Asphyxiation—Coroner Makes an Investigation.

While Mrs. John Bain of No. 217 East Twelfth street was cleaning clothes in her kitchen on Saturday afternoon her baby girl was suffocating in the parlor. When the father returned he found his child dead on the bed. Escaping gas had caused asphyxiation.

Baby Catherine was only sixteen days old. Mrs. Bain had laid the child on a bed in a front room of the house before going into the kitchen. Near the bed she placed a gas heater which was connected to the gas pipe by about four feet of tubing. The rubber tip attached to the stove was defective, and Mr. Bain had wrapped it with wire to stop the leakage. This tip was found to have broken short off. Both doors of the front room and the windows were closed.

Mrs. Bain was using gasoline on the clothes in the kitchen and the odor was so strong that she did not detect the fumes of escaping gas.

Catherine was the Bains' only child, and he sad death has shocked the community.

Coroner Lanterman made an investigation into the cause of the child's death yesterday morning. The father was called to the Coroner's office and questioned as to the facts in the case. He could add nothing to what was already known.

No one was blamed for the death of the child. Death from accidental gas asphyxiation was the finding of the Coroner.

AGED MAN SLAYS SELF.

Death from Peritonitis Comes to Thompson Who Stabbed Himself on Sunday Night.

William A. Thompson, who attempted to kill himself at his home at Graham station Sunday night, died at the County Hospital yesterday afternoon at 12:30 o'clock. He was aged 75. His son, with whom he lived, was with him when he passed away.

Despondent because of continued sickness, Thompson stabbed himself in the abdomen. He was found by his son wallowing in his blood, and was loaded into an express wagon and hurried to the County Hospital. He arrived there at midnight, and doctors worked the remainder of the night trying to save the desperately wounded man. Three separate incisions in the intestines were sewn up.

Though his wounds were dressed successfully, and there seemed a chance for his recovery, peritonitis set in, and he became rapidly worse yesterday morning. He had been paralyzed for several years.

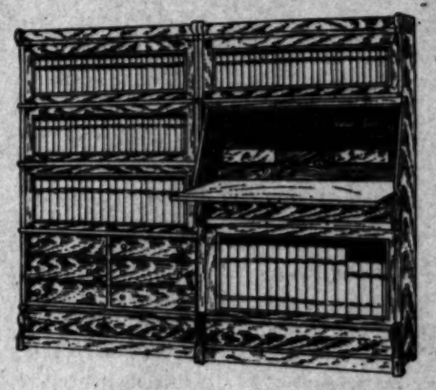
We Have Just Received Two Cars of Macey Sectional Bookcases

These are the Sectional Bookcases with the perfect working doors—the device being patented in this and foreign countries; owned and used exclusively by The Macey Company. The entire device is of metal, is very strong and cannot get out of order. When the door is raised to a horizontal position it automatically recedes into the case. No care is required in opening or closing the door—it cannot be made to stick or bind in any climate.

Any sectional bookcase without the "Macey" non-binding, self-disappearing door will, in time, prove a disappointment.

We are always pleased to demonstrate this very important feature. Macey Sectional Bookcases are good—we know they are and thousands of customers will give the same testimony.



The above illustration serves to give you an idea of the desk section. It is a complete ladies' writing desk, irrespective of its combining feature. It is strictly high-grade in all of its details, stands very rigid upon the floor, which is essential in writing desks. Note the complete pigeon-hole interior, which is also handsomely finished. This feature is very much appreciated when room has to be considered, and adds much to the worth of Macey Sectional Bookcases.

The Macey Guarantee

"We guarantee the furniture in this catalogue to be manufactured of the best quality of material of its respective kind, that the workmanship and finish cannot be equaled elsewhere and that every article is of the highest type of excellence."

Macey Sectional Bookcases may be had in genuine solid mahogany, genuine quarter sawed oak in both the golden and weathered finish, solid birch finished in imitation of mahogany. Special finishes can be furnished upon order.

The cost of Macey Sectional Bookcases is trifling when their quality and the service they give is considered.

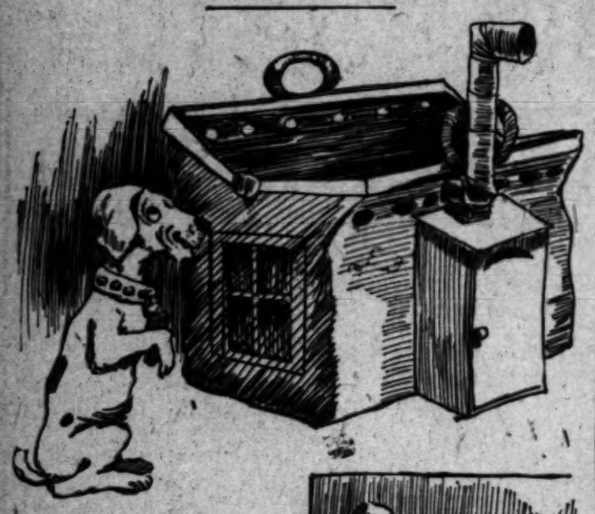
DOG-GONE MAIDENS CRUEL TO ANIMALS.



Hot canines now visiting Los Angeles. Above is the dog carried in a valise by an actorine; below, the pup clothed by a rich tourist girl in an overcoat with a pocket handkerchief.

OUT of the frozen but fashionable East have arrived some girls and some dogs. They are the wonderment of Los Angeles society people who have seen them. They have thrown the Teddy Bears into the dull gray background of obscurity. Oh, skish!

Undoubtedly they are the most fashionably-attired doggies that ever trod a miserable existence.

On the occasion of their parade from the fashionable hotel yesterday they were in charge of a maid. Both dogs wore little "spats" or leggings to protect their feet. Their none-too-beautiful carcasses were encased in delicate blue sweaters with monograms on the breasts. Each wore a little tan overcoat with a tiny white handkerchief thrust jauntily in the upper coat pocket—like little chappies.

When either of the unhappy curs soiled its muzzle the maid hurried to the scene and wiped off the snout with the little white kerchief and replaced it in the upper coat pocket.

Whenever they passed a nice, dirty, tumbled and rumpled street dog emerging from an alley with a bone, each of the two cast upon him a look of wistful longing.

And the street dog cast back a look of heart-rent pity at this cruelty-to-animals exhibit.

For sheer damphoolishness, this dog-gone girl tourist has probably broken all the records.

Mrs. McIntyre, the wife of one of the comedians in the "Ham Tree," brought to this city last week a dog fad hardly less absurd.

Every afternoon she could be seen carrying a stylish-looking valise. On close examination it could be seen that one side was ventilated by a tiny screen so nearly the color and texture of the bag as not to be noticeable.

When she sat down at dinner the bag was placed tenderly on a chair and carefully opened. Out of it popped the head of a woe-begone, meek-looking poodle who seemed to have just about spirit enough to look hungry, but certainly not enough to say so in any known dog language.

In the bottom of the bag was a cloth to prevent His Highness, the perp, from soiling the leather of the valise. This cloth was felt, and was decorated with a monogram.

The Irish waiter who was detailed to attend the wants of the dog made several terrible mistakes in diet, and had to be frequently admonished.

"Be damned," he growled, "if I like this job. I don't mind feeding mashed potatoes to a little baby; but I strike on pups."

The tourist maiden is highly indignant when any one remonstrates with her for extravagance.

"These poodles have to have some sort of covering during the cold weather," she said. "I merely choose to have a little overcoat made with pockets and a handkerchief instead of an inartistic old rag."

Oh, mercy!

OBSTACLE TO BETTER ROADS.

INCORPORATED TOWNS MAY STOP ALL IMPROVEMENTS.

Good Roads Legislative Committee Considers Ways and Means of Securing Passable Highways Throughout All Country Districts. Cities May Prevent Success.

The Good Roads Legislative Committee had its first meeting yesterday. All the members not being present, it was somewhat of an informal discussion of laws that should be made.

F. W. Blanchard, Hartley Shaw and Emmet Wilson were the members present.

"We were not able to do more than lay out a general plan of work. If we are to do anything during this session of the Legislature, there is no time to be lost," said Wilson, after the meeting.

"It was arranged that Mr. Shaw and myself should constitute a sort of subcommittee to look up the exact legal status of the roads at the present time. Also to see in what direction we ought to direct our efforts.

"There seems to be two ideas at the present time to correct the road laws. One is to make a law whereby the Supervisors can call the bond election and expend the money, when voted, as a whole board, without regard to the road districts; let them establish certain road plans and spend the money on these without regard for the particular districts through which the roads pass.

"The other idea is for the establishment of a highway commission which shall examine into road propositions and designate which shall be developed. The Supervisors will then call the bond election. Under this plan the money will be expended, after being raised, by the highway commission.

"We find one difficulty in the way that seems to be almost insurmountable. This might be called 'The problem of the incorporated city.'

"For instance, suppose we are building a great highway and come to a small town which has been incorporated. No matetr if we do establish a highway commission, we cannot build a road through this incorporated town. Its streets may be in such vile condition that no auto can pass them, yet we would not be able to touch them. The town has absolute control over its own streets. We could not get around this difficulty unless the Constitution were amended.

"It has been suggested that we do our road work under the boulevard act. This provides that a boulevard district may be formed, and the people taxed to build and maintain it. This, at first glance, would seem to be the easy way out of the difficulty.

"Yet we have not seriously considered that at all. It does not provide the right kind of road. The boulevard for which it provides is 100 feet wide, and no heavy teaming is allowed. In fact, we do not feel that we want to tax the people for any aristocratic, ornamental sort of road. We want a good, old, rock-bottomed road that any sort of team can ride on and not sink out of sight in the ruts. Although we cannot say so definitely yet, it seems to me that we will not be able to get around that incorporated towns' law.

"We can only provide for the expenditure of this money, either by the highway commission or by the Supervisors; take the road up to the borders of the various incorporated towns and trust to the towns themselves to do the right thing."

There will not be any further meetings of the Legislative Committee for some time, until the law has been thoroughly looked up.

LAND ENTRY ORDER.

President Causes Radical Change in Procedure—Government Agent Must Inspect All Property.

The President has just caused an order to be issued, which involves a radical change in the procedure of land entry.

All lands entered must be inspected personally by a special agent of the government before a patent will be given. Heretofore, personal inspection has only been made in doubtful cases, when the government agents suspected fraud.

The new system will safeguard the government against imposition. Hundreds of thousands of acres are taken up in Southern California every year.

DIABETES IN CHILDREN

We have before us a letter announcing failure in the case of a child in Virginia. The distracted father reports that Fulton's Compound helped the child more than anything else, but that it did not arrest the progress of the disease, and in announcing the fatal termination he thanks us for the effort we made to save the little one's life. This and several other failures in Diabetes in children accent the necessity for a statement that has already been made public, but that we feel should be given further publicity.

Before the formulas for Fulton's Compounds for Bright's Disease and Diabetes were purchased of the late John J. Fulton, tests were made to determine their efficiency. (Thirty-six page pamphlet, giving many of these tests will be mailed on application.) The investigation showed favorable results in eighty-seven per cent. of the cases treated and we were enthusiastic in the belief that this percentage of all cases of Bright's Disease and Diabetes could recover. But these tests did not include any cases of Diabetes in children, and a half dozen recent failures compel the writer to say that he does not believe that it is a specific for Diabetes in children. One physician announces the recovery of a case of Diabetes in a child thirteen years old, but her death a few months later (although attributed to an inherited intermittent heart by the same physician,) causes great doubt in our minds as to the character of the recovery. And we make this plain statement, that we feel is due to every father and mother who has a child with Diabetes, for we do not want to be put in the position of giving hope to parents who have little ones stricken with this disease. If the writer had a child with Diabetes he would put it on the Diabetes Compound simply because it helps these cases for a while, and he knows of nothing else that does; but he would call in the best doctor obtainable to attempt to keep the acetones down, in the hope that it would be one of the exceptions that would recover, yet with small confidence as to the outcome.

Diabetes in children is rare, and our observation has been limited to but few cases. Nearly all made distinct progress for first few months, but later the Compound seemed unable to arrest the disease. While we have had word of two or three recoveries, they lack confirmation and are not satisfactory. Hence, it always distresses us to receive a letter from a parent, who, upon hearing of this discovery, writes full of hope, asking for details, for we are compelled to write as above in all cases that involve Diabetes in children.

In Diabetes in forty and over results are almost certain, nearly nine-tenths recovering, and at fifty and over, where there are no complications, the failures are rare.

In Bright's Disease, all ages yield from infancy to old age in nearly nine-tenths of all cases.

Crowds of People See the Rotary Engine at 212 Mercantile Place

Declared by Steam Men to Be the Greatest Invention in the World

No mechanical device has ever attracted such attention in Los Angeles as the Crescent Rotary Engine, on exhibition at 212 Mercantile Place. Hundreds of men saw and marveled at the simplicity of the little engine.

"It will revolutionize motive power!" "It beats anything I ever saw!" "The greatest invention of the century!" "Wouldn't that be a crackerjack for automobiles and boats?" were expressions that were repeated time and again during the day.

Spokane Chamber of Commerce
L. G. MONROE, SECRETARY

COPY. Spokane, Wash., Aug. 14, 1908.

To the President and Trustees,
Spokane Chamber of Commerce.

Your special committee, in company with several members of the Chamber of Commerce, visited the workshop of Mr. H. I. Call in Lidgerwood Park on Wednesday last and there inspected the rotary steam engine which he has invented and built.

After careful examination and explanation by the inventor, our committee believes that Mr. Call has devised a great improvement over the reciprocal steam engine and over any other rotary engine with which we are familiar. The chief points of advantage are simplicity, compactness, cheapness of construction, freedom from vibration, no foundation being required, easy control of speed and easy reversing.

This engine we believe, has a wide range of usefulness in which it will take the place of the new prevalent type, and if the claim of the inventor, that it will develop power with three fifths of the steam per need, can be substantiated, the demand will be enormous.

We heartily commend the effort to develop the manufacture of these engines in this city, believing that a great industry will thereby be built up.

Respectfully,
C. H. Russell,
J. K. Fitzpatrick,
S. Glasgow.

Attest: L. G. Monroe, Secretary.

To the Board of Trustees,
Spokane Chamber of Commerce.

Gentlemen:—

Your special committee on investigation of the Crescent Rotary Engine begs leave to report that on the above date, in company with several business men of Spokane and Coeur d'Alene City, it made a trip on Coeur d'Alene Lake in a 33 foot steam launch propelled by a 6 horse power Crescent Rotary Engine. Steam was furnished from a 10 horse power boiler. There were twelve people in the boat which is estimated carried about 2,000 pounds. The engine was operated by Mr. H. I. Call, the inventor. A trip of about six miles up the lake and return to the dock at Coeur d'Alene City was made with the steam gauge at 80 to 100 pounds. While no cyclometer was used, the speed developed was variously estimated at four to eight miles per hour. The engine propelled the boat at a speed of about three miles per hour with 40 pounds of steam. The fuel used was drift wood.

A demonstration was made at low speed of the reversing apparatus, which is one of the marked features of the engine. The demonstration was very satisfactory to your committee.

Respectfully submitted,

If you want any of the stock at $1.00 a share, don't wait, but fill out the coupon and mail at once. Such a demand as existed all day Monday will soon exhaust the entire issue of treasury stock.

If you live out of town, have a steam expert come and investigate this engine.

This stock participates in the dividends from royalties from all countries. It is non-assessable. It is an industrial stock—and the industrial stocks are what pay.

Don't Speculate

But invest your money in an industrial necessity. We have the greatest industrial necessity in the world.

WATER-ROAD FEUD HOTTER

FERNANDO OVERSEER ORDERED TO ARREST FACTION.

Lopez Kept Busy Maintaining Peace Near Old Mission Town Where There's a Three-Sided Dispute Because Floods Tear Up Lands—Ordinances to Go on Battleground.

Like a chapter out of a real Kentucky feud—with the guns thus far left out—the stormwater "scrap" in progress in historical old San Fernando. The whole neighborhod is lined up on one side or the other. Affairs have reached such a stage that it takes practically all of Road Overseer Pete Lopez's time to keep peace.

Pete says so himself, and he ought to know.

The muddle came up again yesterday before the Board of Supervisors. Lopez was there to report the situation. After the second command of the Supervisors that he must clear the roadway on Seventh street, and Wilson avenue, San Fernando, from obstructions placed there which would prevent a free flow of the storm water, Lopez got busy and tore out the piles of cacti, brush and earthen embankments which had been erected, for a distance of fully 500 feet.

When he discovered that the anti-Lopez faction had undertaken to place a berm on Seventh street on "a natural grade," whatever that may mean. In other words, with plow and scraper the men were attempting to accomplish what they had failed to do by cacti and brush.

Lopez remembered his explicit instructions from the Board of Supervisors, by which he was appointed, and promptly told the road workers that they would have to desist or he would have to order their arrest.

"ARREST US," THEY SAY.

"Go ahead and arrest us; that's just what we want," came the unexpected reply.

Then Pete begged the men to be good fellows and quit their digging.

"You know I don't want to agrest you," he said. "Youse fellers is bound to get me into hot water. Aw, go on and quit your diggin'." But he says that the volunteer road-makers, headed by J. Walker, have kept right on with their construction according to their notion of "a natural grade."

In the meantime the clan of Burr is waiting at least a wordy war, and Pete is fearful there will be "something worse?" if there is not a breakaway at once.

The Board of Supervisors says the roads must be kept clear of obstructions, let the storm waters flow where they may. The members were reinforced in this statement yesterday by the advice of Assistant District Attorney Hartley Shaw.

Shaw brought forth County Ordinance No. 123, and read it to the Supervisors, with appropriate comment. Then Chairman Patterson took the ordinance, and with solemn voice read it from to Lopez, who was standing by, scratching his head in perplexity. Then he was given a printed copy of the ordinance, and read it for himself, and lastly he was given enough of the ordinances, printed on cloth, so they could not be easily destroyed to fill his hip pocket, and was instructed to tack them up on every possible point of the so-far bloodless battlefield. Remove all obstructions from the roadways, and order the arrest of every

With denatured alcohol—on the free list January 1st—such a locomotive will run a sharp race with electric power. But the Redondo Villa Tract will not depend upon it alone, for it will also enjoy the well known advantages of electricity as a motive power for transportation. The Edison Electric Company now furnishes the Redondo Villa Tract with electric light and power from their 10,000 horse power lines. The Adams Pipe Company have just completed laying 25,000 feet of water pipe over the Redondo Villa Tract. Three Double Track Electric Railroads are now being built to Redondo. WATER-ROAD FEUD HOTTER.

FERNANDO OVERSEER ORDERED TO ARREST FACTION.

Lopez Kept Busy Maintaining Peace Near Old Mission Town Where There's a Three-Sided Dispute Between Floods Tear Up Lands—Orchardists to Go on Battleground.

Quite a chapter out of a real Kentucky feud—with the guns thus far left out—is the stormwater "scrap" in progress in historical old San Fernando. The entire neighborhood is lined up on one side or the other. Affairs have reached such a stage that it takes practically all Road Overseer Pete Lopez's time to keep peace.

Pete says so himself, and he ought to know.

The muddle came up again yesterday before the Board of Supervisors. Lopez was there to report the situation. After the second command of the Supervisors that he must clear the roadway on Seventh street and Brand avenue, San Fernando, from the obstructions placed there which would prevent a free flow of the storm waters, Lopez got busy and tore out miles of cacti, brush and earthen embankments which had been erected, for a distance of fully 500 feet.

Then he discovered that the anti-road faction had undertaken to place a block on Seventh street on "a natural grade," whatever that may mean. In other words, with plow and scraper the men were attempting to accomplish what they had failed to do by cacti and mud.

Lopez remembered his explicit instructions from the Board of Supervisors by which he was appointed, and promptly told the road workers that they would have to desist or he would be forced to order their arrest.

"ARREST US," THEY SAY.

"Go ahead and arrest us; that's just what we want," came the unexpected reply.

Then Pete begged the men to be good fellows and quit their digging.

"You know I don't want to agrest you," he said, "Youse fellers is bound to get me into hot water. Aw, go on home and quit your diggin'." But he says that the volunteer road-makers, headed by Thomas Walker, have kept right on with their construction according to their ideas of "a natural grade."

In the meantime the clan of Burr is waging at least a wordy war, and Pete is fearful there will be "something doing" if there is not a breakaway at once.

The Board of Supervisors says the roads must be kept clear of obstructions and let the storm waters flow where they may. The members were reinforced in this statement yesterday by the advice of Assistant District Attorney Thomas Shaw.

Lopez brought forth County Ordinance No. 133, and read it to the Supervisors, with appropriate comment. Chairman Patterson took the ordinance, and with solemn voice read it back to Lopez, who was standing by, scratching his head in perplexity. Then Lopez was given a printed copy of the ordinance, and read it for himself, and after he was given enough of the ordinance, printed on cloth, so they could not be easily destroyed to fill his hip pockets, and was instructed to post them up on every possible point of the no-far-bloodless battlefield. Remove all obstructions from the roads, and order the arrest of every man who makes further unlawful use of the roads," is the direct instruction delivered to the road overseer.

Pete sees a mighty task looming up ahead of him. He is afraid that he will have to bring down to the county bastile about half the population of the old mission town if he makes the arrests, and he's afraid to ignore the direct orders of the Supervisors to proceed with the arrests in case the changes in the highways continue.

BUSY KEEPING PEACE.

"It actually takes all my time to keep armed peace," said Lopez yesterday. "I don't want to have to arrest a great gang of my neighbors, but they seem bound to bring this about. I thought I'd just pass up the thing to the Supervisors, and now you see where I am," and he started for San Fernando wrapped in deep gloom.

Lopez says the only practical way to permanently dispose of this stormwater trouble is to carry the floods by ditch over along Ninth street to a point where they will flow into the Pacoima wash.

The waters which cause the ruction rush out of Wilson Cañon in times of storm, and spread out in most unruly fashion. They have no clearly defined bed. Some seasons they cut down through one ranch, and then as clearings are made on the higher lands the waters next time take a new course. Nobody wants them, and all sorts of expedients have been resorted to in the attempt to turn the waters into other channels.

It was from this cañon that the old padres secured the water for their irrigation and domestic use in the palmy days of the mission. Along the route from the cañon to the mission are dams and aqueducts that still stand in fairly well preserved shape, although some of the work was destroyed by earthquake in early days. A short way above the mission there still exists a fine piece of masonry in the shape of a reservoir dam, below which a mill was operated for corn grinding.

THE LAW OF IT.

The county ordinance under which the Board of Supervisors ordered Lopez to make arrests if there are further violations provides:

That it shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to dig in, excavate, plow up, tear up, fill, cover, disturb, or change any portion of any public highway in the county, or the surface thereof, without first obtaining a permit from the Supervisors.

That it shall be the duty of any one digging, excavating, plowing up, tearing up, filling, covering, disturbing or changing any portion of any public hihway, to repair the highway wherever disturbed or affected by the work, and to restore it to as good condition as before work was begun.

That any person violating the ordinance shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be punished by a fine of not less than $5, nor more than $100.

PARSONS A DISCOVERER.

Chamber of Commerce's Commissioner to Rhyolite Thinks Los Angeles Should Cultivate That Section.

George W. Parsons, special commissioner of the Chamber of Commerce to Rhyolite and the great Bullfrog district, which is tributary to it, returned home yesterday.

Mr. Parsons made several discoveries of the greatest interest to local merchants. Chief of these is the fact that it is San Francisco, not Salt Lake, which is the principal rival to mercantile Los Angeles.

"It has been supposed," said Mr. Parsons yesterday afternoon, "that we would have to fight Salt Lake. I found that Utah gets so small a proportion of the wholesale purchases that it is quite unimportant. It is San Francisco, however, that is insidiously creeping up on us.

"At the present time, I can safely say that Los Angeles is getting the lion's share. But San Francisco enterprise is running a railroad toward Rhyolite, and it is now only a short distance away. When that is finished, there will be direct communication.

"And I need scarcely add, that at present San Francisco men are making every effort possible to establish commercial supremacy. They need it, and consequently have gone into Rhyolite, chief business men and all, and have offered every courtesy and hospitality.

"That's what makes the Rhyolite folks feel a little more kindly toward San Francisco than they do toward Los Angeles. They feel that we have slighted them, and, though they never mention it, I could see a slight hurt at our imagined indifference. There is a cause for this, for the chief spirits of our business field have not visited Rhyolite, after all.

"They want a little kindness, a little good-fellowship, a little 'jollying by the boys,' in the 'you-are-one-of-us-spirit. This sort of thing, in time, would make many of them turn their trade toward us, as soon as it is convenient to do so.

"What does the trade amount to? It amounts to a great deal. Two of the leading firms there do an aggregate business of almost $100,000 a month. This is worth looking after. And the business, of course, is constantly increasing. Rhyolite is the sole supply for an inestimably rich territory seventy-five miles around, into which men and money are pouring every day.

"There are now in this region thirty-three power plants, 1000 miners, one reduction plant up and two projected, and scores of other enterprises.

"This trade is worth keeping, by all means, and the powers on Los Angeles street should consider Rhyolite in an intimate and friendly spirit."

Mr. Parsons will make his official report to the Chamber of Commerce in a short time, and in all probability steps will be taken immediately to increase the cordiality of relations between Rhyolite and Los Angeles.

PRISONERS DISAPPOINTED.

District Attorney Advises That They Must Work Roads to Get Sentences Shortened.

"Trusties" in the County Jail have heretofore been men of some importance in the small community where they held sway. Yesterday their pedestals were somewhat shortened by a ruling of the District Attorney.

Recently there have come to the Board of County Supervisors many applications for a shortening of sentences on account of good behavior while in jail. The State law makes provision for the curtailment of one week on each month of the sentence for good behavior in certain cases.

The favorite plea of many of the persons asking for benefits under this law was that they had been serving as "trusties" in the jail. Dist.-Atty. Fredericks yesterday advised the Board of Supervisors that the curtailment of sentence clearly applies to only those cases in which the prisoner has worked on the county highways or other public works of a similar nature, and that prisoners retained in the jail as "trusties" would not come under this provision unless they had actually so worked. This kills the hopes of shorter jail time for at least a half dozen men now in the County Jail. Acting on the District Attorney's advice the Supervisors yesterday denied several applications from prisoners.

WOULD BUILD FOR COUNTY.

Offers for Erection of Structures to House Offices Are Made to Supervisors.

Two propositions to lease the county space in new buildings for county offices came before the Board of Supervisors yesterday. Both were taken under advisement.

One of these was from Charles F. Cole and T. F. Joyce, who plan to erect a new structure on lots 5 and 6 of the Courthouse block. They offer two propositions. One of these is for a five years' lease on a one-story and basement building, 65x112 feet, and the other is for a two-story structure of the same outside dimensions. For the one-story building they wish a rental of $500 per month for the first year, and an increase of $100 per month on the second year.

Warren Wilson offers to erect a building for the county on his property at First and Hill streets, 120x120 feet, making it three stories or more, and leasing it at a rental of $900 per month for each floor.

NEWS REPORTS FROM CORRESPONDENTS OF THE TIMES.

GURGLE SCHEME DOESN'T WASH.

LIQUOR DEALER IS CONVICTED BY PASADENA JURY.

San Fernando Man's Plea That He Was Merely Delivering Wet Goods to People Who Had Ordered It Does Not Prove Effective—Twilighters Will Entertain Tonight.

Office of The Times, No. 25 S. Raymond Ave.

PASADENA, Jan. 28.—Carl Kissner, one of the trio of San Fernandans arrested at the instigation of the District Attorney's office on a charge of illicitly selling liquor, had his hearing before Justice Klamroth yesterday. The trial dragged over the entire day and it was not until late in the afternoon that the jury brought in a verdict of guilty.

No denial was made to the accusation that Kissner had dispensed liquor, but the claim was made that he had simply acted as the purchasing agent for certain people who commissioned him to buy liquor for them in Los Angeles and deliver it to them. The prosecution brought on witnesses who testified that they had had no such arrangement with the defendant, but that they had bought bottles of liquor from him. Sentence will be passed Saturday morning.

QUARTETTE MERRILY MIXED.

Mrs. Bud Lewis, who was Nellie Mundell, came into the limelight again yesterday afternoon as one of the chief actresses in an exciting neighborhood row. As a result of the disturbance, Mrs. Lewis is charged with disturbing the peace, her husband is facing trial on a like charge as is also Mrs. Fred Pahl and Pahl is charged by Lewis with battery.

Particulars concerning the trouble are few and hard to get, but it seems that Lewis and Pahl got into an argument. The women sided with their husbands and there were lively times for awhile it finally ended by the whole party adjourning to Justice McDonald's office where each one of the contestants swore out a warrant for some other one. The cases will be heard later.

TWILIGHTERS WILL ENTERTAIN.

The Twilight Club of Pasadena has arranged an exceptionally interesting programme for the meeting which will be held this evening at the Shakespeare Clubhouse. Lieut.-Gen. Chaffee will be the guest of the club at the meeting.

One of the interesting features of the evening's entertainment will be a talk by E. W. Camp, counsel for the Santa Fé Railroad Company. Mr. Camp will take as his subject, "Our Constitution and Its Relation to a Developing Nation."

RE-ELECT OFFICERS.

The annual election of officers by the Pasadena Lake Vineyard Land and Water Company was scheduled for yesterday afternoon, but few votes were cast, and the old officers will hold over because no successors have been named. This was not caused by any lack of interest on the part of the stockholders, but rather by the fact that the incumbents have pleased everybody in their administration of the affairs of the company, and it was not thought wise to make any change.

GOING TO SAN DIEGO.

That the pilgrimage of the Pasadena Board of Trade to San Diego on Washington's birthday will be a success seems to be assured. A formal invitation from the civic bodies of the southern city have been received and arrangements are under way to take a large-sized party down. Advantageous rates have been secured from the railroads, and everything will be done to make the travelers as comfortable as possible.

Secretary Coolidge of the Board of Trade has charge of the arrangements, and upon his shoulders falls most of the responsibility. A large number of the members of the board have announced that they will be on hand when the time arrives and, as it has been decided to limit the size of the excursion, all of the accommodations will probably be spoken for long before the day set for the journey.

METHODISTS HAVE SURPLUS.

The call for $12,000 sent out to the congregation of the First Methodist Church was promptly responded to, and at the services Sunday the amount was overcontributed to the extent of $250. The total collections for the day amounted to $12,250, while several people promised to make further contributions were the money needed.

The $12,000 asked for was to be evenly divided between the Methodist Church in San Francisco, the Lake-Avenue Methodist Church of Pasadena and the First Church. The Lake-Avenue Church had asked for assistance to pay for the new building, the San Francisco churches were in need of money, and the home church had a debt of $4000 hanging over it.

Next Sunday was the day set aside for the collections to be made for the San Francisco churches, but the members of the congregation of the First Methodist Church concluded to start the ball rolling a week earlier. So satisfactory is the outlook and so spontaneous was the response of the congregation that it has been decided to continue taking subscriptions, and it is likely that fully $5000 will be sent north for the relief of the churches of San Francisco.

TOLD ABOUT TOWN.

William Jennings Bryan was the guest at dinner at Hotel Maryland yesterday afternoon of Mr. and Mrs. George B. Kerr. A delightful menu was served, after which the party took vehicles and made a trip through the city.

The announcement was made yesterday afternoon that Monk Hill, the sightly eminence in North Pasadena owned by Gen. M. C. Wentworth, had been sold to J. S. Pashgian. Monk Hill has long been the favorite site for celebrations and pyrotechnic displays and North Pasadenans will miss their lookout. Although no definite announcement has been made by Mr. Pashgian, it is generally understood that he intends to erect a handsome residence upon the property.

Capt. Lyman N. Sawyer, a veteran of the Civil War and for twenty years an honored resident of Pasadena, died yesterday at his home, No. 601 North Raymond avenue. Some time ago, Capt. Sawyer suffered from an attack of paralysis, and failed to rally. He was 69 years old. Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon in the parlors of the Reynolds and Van Nuys Company, Rev. John Henry Douglass officiating. John S. Godfrey Post, G. A. R., will have charge of the ceremonies.

So successful was the children's pilgrimage to Long Beach given for the guests of Hotel Maryland, under the direction of Assistant Manager Dame last week, that it has been decided to allow their elders to take a trip over the same route. A private car has been chartered for Friday, and on that day Mr. Dame will take the grown-up guests of the hotel to the seaside.

BRIDGE PARTY.

Mrs. L. H. Root and Miss Ethel Warner gave a delightful bridge party yesterday afternoon at the Shakespeare Clubhouse, complimentary to Mrs. Harry Gray, who leaves this week for an extended European trip, and her guests, the Misses Gardner of Evansville, Ind. Asparagus plumosus, Boston ferns and acacia were used in decoration, and a dainty basket of jonquils arranged on the card tables at the place of each player enhanced the springlike effect. The score cards carried out the motif, being ornamented in water colors, with spring blossoms. Mrs. Root and Miss Warner were assisted in receiving by Mrs. E. J. Warner, Mrs. Frank Warner and Miss Meach. After the games a collation was served in the tearoom, and the table was presided over by Mrs. Robert T. Vandevort and Mrs. J. Foster Rhodes, Jr. Miss Granger and Miss McGilvray assisted in serving. The prizes were won by Mrs. Joseph Foster Rhodes, Jr., and Miss Cuddahy. Stevens Halsted, Tracy Drake, Tod Ford, Harrison I. Drummond, Lawrence Newman, Carter Harrison, Freeman Ford, Charles C. Perkins; Misses McGilvray, Dwight, Ranney, Saver and the Misses Gardner.

BOLD HORSE THIEF.

Enters Two Stables at Huntington Park—From One Secures Horse, Buggy and Harness.

HUNTINGTON PARK, Jan. 28.—A horse thief was bold here last night. Clarence Whipple, of the firm of Whipple & Roach, grocers and butchers, had fed his horses and was returning to water them about 6:30 o'clock when he saw a man leaving the stable.

He gave chase but presently thinking he recognized the intruder as an acquaintance, he gave up the pursuit. An examination of the stable showed that the thief had dropped a bridle and collar in his flight.

An hour or so later, a horse, buggy, and harness, valued at $85, and belonging to W. Alexander of Malabar street, were stolen, presumably by the same thief.

SANTA MONICA GOES ALONE.

ENTERS FREEHOLDER DIVISION OF CITIES.

Legislature Adopts Concurrent Resolution Bearing Upon Coast Town's New Charter — Senator Savage Sends News by Wire—General Reconstruction of Ordinances Will Follow.

SANTA MONICA, Jan. 28.—A telegram has been received from State Senator Savage, who is at Sacramento, announcing the adoption by both houses of the State Legislature of the concurrent resolution bearing upon the Santa Monica freeholder charter. This means that as soon as the document can be properly enrolled and certified to by the Secretary of State, Santa Monica will advance from the list of cities of the fifth class to those of the freeholder division.

Although the city officers provided for under the new document are not to be elected until next April, a provision of the charter provides that "if the Legislature approves this charter, it shall thereupon become the charter and organic law of the city of Santa Monica." The construction placed upon this by the framers of the charter and lawyers who have studied it is that as soon as the approval of it by the Legislature is certified by the Secretary of State, the new organic law becomes operative, succeeding the present fifth-class charter.

The going into effect of the new charter will call for the passage of many new ordinances and a general reconstruction of the city statutes on a number of important subjects.

SANTA MONICA NOTES.

W. A. Sprague, while at work on a Twelfth-street residence today, fell to the ground and sustained the fracture of two ribs.

Mrs. Emma Hobbs, who died this morning at the residence of F. M. McKnight on Olive and Twenty-sixth street, was a resident of Lawrence, Kan. Her body will be given burial tomorrow in Woodlawn Cemetery.

CHARGES MURDEROUS THRUST.

Mexican With Punctured Throat Makes Complaint Against Countryman in Monrovia.

MONROVIA, Jan. 28.—On a charge of "assault with intent to commit murder" Charles Ramaes is being held in the City Jail. The charge is made by Albert Seradel.

He avers that about a dozen of his countrymen (Mexicans) went to Arcadia on Saturday and drank heavily. They had returned to the city limits of Monrovia when a quarrel started which led to Ramaes pulling his knife and slitting Seradel's throat, opening a wound about eight inches long. He also inflicted a knife wound about four inches long on the left cheek.

Ramaes made no attempt to escape. He went directly to his home and this morning was picked up by Marshal Miller and Constable Thomas. Seradel is said to be in a critical condition from an excessive flow of blood. It was a long time before the flow could be stopped. The wound just grazed the jugular vein, Ramaes was brought before Justice Holloway this morning and was held awaiting the convenience of the prosecution.

Experts Examine Ocean Park Building in Preparation for Suit in Superior Court.

OCEAN PARK, Jan. 28.—A number of beach residents have been subpoenaed to appear before the Superior Court tomorrow as witnesses in the Seaside Operahouse suit. This is the case of Wyatt vs. Brundage and the hearing will be before Superior Judge Hutton.

Wyatt is the lessee of the house, at a rental of $300 per month, although the building has been standing idle for many moons. His contention is that the structure is unsafe, and for that reason is seeking to have the lease set aside.

Experts among builders and architects have been busy during the past few days in making investigations and examinations of the building. The case is being vigorously contested by both sides.

SAND CITY WHIFFS.

The series of revival meetings at the Methodist church, in progress during the past month, has been concluded and Rev. Mary Dennis will go to Redondo to assist in meetings to be conducted there.

In accordance with his promise, J. O. Wade, the contractor who has been missing from his Fourth-street home for several months, has returned. He went to Turlock from here, to remain a few days, but was not heard from until a letter came from San Francisco a few days ago stating that he was en route home. Foul play was suspected at the time of his disappearance.

COVINA.

COVINA, Jan. 28.—The Farmers' Club has ordered an expenditure of $350 for literature for the purpose of advertising Covina and the surrounding country. The book which is now in the hands of the press, will be twenty pages, and will have sixteen half-tone cuts. There have been 20,000 books ordered by the club.

The Woman's Club held its regular club meeting in the Woman's Club House this afternoon. Mrs. R. M. Douglas delivered an address. A paper on "Current Events" was given by Miss Lucy Matthews and there were several choice readings by Mrs. E. G. Prather.

Hugh C. Gibson, general secretary of the Sunday-schools of Southern California, who had charge of the convention of Sunday-schools which was held in Covina Saturday, delivered a special sermon Sunday morning in the Methodist church.

CARS CRASH IN FOG.

Rear-end Collision Occurs Near Long Beach—Cold-Handed Blonde Flees.

LONG BEACH, Jan. 28.—Two interurban cars from Los Angeles, both south bound, came together in a rear-end collision this morning, but the cautiousness of Motorman Summers averted a tragedy.

The accident happened at 7:30 o'clock at Domingues station, three miles north of this city. Cars 291 and 275 were south bound, and running slow because of a heavy fog which enveloped the face of the country for miles around. Car 291 was in charge of Motorman Heckel, a new man, who has been in two slight wrecks in the past two weeks. The conductor had just remarked that there were thirteen passengers aboard, when Heckel ran over two torpedoes, which he interpreted to mean a quick stop, and he shut down in a hundred feet. Scarcely had he done so when car 275 loomed up in the rear, and crashed against the stationary car, shivering headlights and windows and forcing the front car partially off its trucks and disarranging its motors.

Motorman Summers, just before the cars met, set his brakes, reversed the motors, and then leaped to the step, and, swinging out, escaped the shower of glass that filled the vestibule.

With motors reversed his car sped backward several hundred feet, and then returned slowly to the scene of the wreck, and pushed its companion into town to the barn, when the passengers were obliged to walk to their destination. Of the twenty passengers aboard the cars only one man suffered injury, having his finger mashed under a seat. The blame for the wreck is laid to Motorman Heckel, who failed to blow a warning whistle when stopped by the torpedoes.

COLD-HANDED BLONDE FLEES.

W. H. Herman, the young Canadian who fell victim to the jolly blandishment of two pretty strangers three weeks ago, and in allowing one of them to warm her hands in his overcoat pocket lost his purse and money, has another tale of woe to relate. He was in Los Angeles Saturday night, and with a friend attended Adams dance hall, where he came face to face with the demoiselle who had lifted his money. He charged her with the theft, but she denied it, and said it was the other girl. "It was all a jolly," she told him, and as they mistook him for a rich man, thought he wouldn't mind the joke. Herman didn't appreciate the joke, and the girl said her companion was in the hall and would return the money if he felt so sadly about it. Herman allowed her to go in search of the real culprit, and is still waiting, as she didn't return. Herman is going back to Winnipeg this week, and says he will warn his friends contemplating a trip to the sunny southland to beware of the girl with cold hands.

LONG BEACH RIPPLES.

Francis L. Stansbury, who two weeks ago assumed the duties of assistant secretary of the Bixby Hotel Company, will give up his position February 1 to accept a flattering offer in Los Angeles, which will give him large opportunities in his field of expert auditing. Contractor Spaulding has his forms set for the first story of the center wing of the hotel, and will begin pouring concrete Tuesday morning. The work of placing the tile roof on the east wing began this morning.

The Ministerial Association, which comprises the pastors of all Protestant churches, this morning discussed the charter and adopted the following resolution: "That the Ministerial Association indorses the charter and alternative proposition No. 2 (the clause relative to prohibition,) and will use our utmost endeavor to secure its adoption." Thirteen of the sixteen local pastors were present at the meeting.

Mrs. George Colton last night left her pocketbook, containing $45, on a drug store counter, but although she missed it two minutes after leaving the store the purse and money had disappeared.

Oscar Cobb, a noted theatrical architect of Chicago, who is spending the winter in Long Beach, was painfully injured last night by slipping off the step of a Long Beach car, on American avenue. He was rendered unconscious by his fall on the hard pavement, and sustained bad cuts and bruises about the head and body.

George Nichol, building a shed on his property, fell from the roof this morning and dislocated his right shoulder.

Alice, the ten-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Walker, died yesterday, the result of shock following an operation for appendicitis, which had made great inroads on her system before the nature of the ailment was discovered.

Mrs. Mary Ann Bailey died yesterday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. George Webber. She was a native of Rhode Island, 83 years of age, and a resident of California thirteen years.

George Bartlett died at the hospital today, after several weeks' illness. He was 35 years old, and a native of Newfoundland.

GENERATE HIGH VOLTAGE.

Remarkable Features of Electric Plant Now Under Construction at Redondo Beach.

REDONDO, Jan. 28.—The installation of four three-phase generators by the General Electric Company for the Pacific Light & Power Company here, is attracting a good deal of attention in the engineering world. These generators are of 5000 kilowatt or 6700 horsepower capacity each and are unusual because they are built to generate a current of 13,000 volts, being the first of large units ever constructed for so high a potential. They are to furnish power for the Los Angeles railway system. The installation is also unique because cheap oil fuel will be used under the boilers and sea water will be utilized for condensing purposes.

D. H. Baldwin & Co.

This piano concern is the oldest and largest of its kind in the United States today. Their product has a national reputation which is envied even by their competitors. The Baldwin is the only piano made in the West used in the New York Philharmonic and Boston Symphony Orchestra Concerts by artists of international reputation. It is also the only piano which has received such distinct honors the first time it was exhibited, for it received the "Grand Prix" at Paris Exposition in 1900, and "Legion of Honor" was conferred upon the head of the house, Mr. Lucien Wulgin.

The "Grand Prix" is a particular distinction conferred upon an exhibitor only when the unanimous vote of the jury declares that his work reaches the highest standard of excellence and contains inventions and improvements of superior value. The question of competition does not enter at all, but the work must stand by itself. The Baldwin piano stands today at the head of the artistic pianos of the world. The local business of this company is in charge of O. Vargas, a very able piano salesman of twelve years' experience. The firm has for some months maintained sales rooms in the Byrne Building, but will be in their new quarters in the Auditorium the 1st of February. They will then have the most complete stock of pianos, organs and piano-players in Southern California. The Baldwin Company has a department devoted to artistic creations, and is prepared to submit sketches of styles of former periods or to meet individual tastes where special treatment is desired.

Mr. Vargas opened this agency for the Baldwin Company about one year ago and has had charge of it ever since. Pacific headquarters are located at San Francisco in charge of W. E. Brown. The business at present is more than satisfactory, but will be greatly increased as soon as the new location is occupied.

Ranch North of San Bernar Purchased for That Purpose Will Be Used Also for Growing Rhubarb—Bar Association In tigating Charges Against Attor

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIM

SAN BERNARDINO, Jan. 28.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) A twenty-acre berry and rhubarb ranch for San Bernardino is assured through the purchase by Grant Price and Andrew D prominent agriculturists, of the ranch on Base Line, for $4000. The owners have already secured thousands of berry plants and rhubarb roots, and tomorrow will commence setting them out.

An analysis of the soil shows most of the valley suitable for rhubarb and berry culture although never before has such a venture been made on large scale here.

BAR ASSOCIATION INQUIRY

The Bar Association this afternoon began an inquiry into the charges made by the late grand jury against Attorney C. B. Morris. The latter explained in detail the circumstances under which the charges grew. All of which prevented the association repudiating the charges was the insistence of Mr. Morris that a thorough investigation should be made, and that he be exonerated or not whitewashed.

A resolution was adopted continuing the hearing to next Monday afternoon and asking the grand jury to place all evidence before the association, also instructing the secretary to notify Mrs. Moreno and her daughter to appear. The charge is that Morris drew up a document by the terms of which Mrs. Hughes, an ex-convict, agreed that she would marry Kate Moreno after securing a divorce from another woman. The testimony before the association shows that Morris acted in good faith.

SAN BERNARDINO JOTS.

James McNair, a local contractor whose wife makes sensational charges in a divorce suit, today arranged a settlement of their property interests by the terms of which Mrs. McNair gets the sole ownership of their beautiful home on Second street, together with all its furnishings. A demurrer to the complaint was to have been heard before Judge Oster today, but owing to the Morris investigation before the Association, was continued until next Monday.

Financial troubles have overtaken the New York Kitchen, which for years has been one of the most popular restaurants here. Today A. D. Frank signed an agreement to next Monday turn over the business to George Kendall, as trustee for the creditors, for consideration for a discharge from all his liabilities. For weeks it has been noised that the restaurant was financially involved.

A. R. Davis, who last Saturday assaulted Frank Smith, a rival business man, today pleaded guilty and paid a $5 fine. Bottoms, who the day before assaulted a Salt Lake hoodlum named Jackson, also pleaded guilty and paid a $5 fine.

Complaint was made today to the District Attorney that an unknown man drew a revolver on Mr. and Mrs. H. H. McCord and John D. Reavis of Los Angeles and Mrs. Woods Hutchinson of Arrowhead, as the party was returning to town in an automobile from Arrowhead. It is alleged that the man charged their automobilists with trying to crowd him into a ditch. The women of the party were greatly frightened and screamed.

REDLANDS HAS A BURGLAR.

Confesses His Crime and Will Waive Preliminary Examination—Gets Pearls and Diamonds.

REDLANDS, Jan. 28.—Bernard Tennes, aged 18 years, who confesses looting the residence of G. Gerber Saturday evening about 8 o'clock, was captured at 2 o'clock Sunday morning by the San Bernardino police. He was brought to this city this morning for examination.

After the burglary, he said, he went to the skating rink for a while and then went to San Bernardino. There he got drunk and was arrested in the red-light district for disturbing the peace. While being searched the stolen articles were found upon him. His loot included a $5 gold coin and $6 in change, a pearl and diamond necklace, a pearl necklace, and a watch set with a diamond.

The only excuse made by the youthful burglar was that he was out of funds. He will waive all preliminaries and plead guilty.

MEDAL GOLF PLAY.

The prize in the A. G. Hubbard monthly medal golf contest at the Country Club links was captured by Albert Will, he having the best net score because of the large handicap given him. The gross scores were comparatively close. Had there been no handicapping, the medal would have gone to M. E. Ginn, winner at the contest a month ago, he having the largest number of strokes Saturday. W. Wilson was only three strokes above him.

The Redlands Country Club links are in fine condition. Golf is very popular this winter, many tourists, as well as local players, being seen on the links daily.

REDLANDS BREVITIES.

Something over $3200 was received as the result of the two nights' presentation of the Japanese opera "The Geisha," by the society and musical people of the city. Of this amount more than half will be net. The company of amateurs is being besieged with offers from neighboring towns.

A party of about twenty-five Redlanders from the Riverside lodge arrived this afternoon to attend the grand annual ball this evening.

The Redlands High School basketball team was both defeated at the double game played with San Bernardino Saturday. The boys' game resulted in a score of 31 to 21, while in the girls' game the score was 23 to 7.

Dr. John Willis Baer, president of Occidental College, will address a union meeting of the Senior Christian Endeavorers of the city next Sunday evening in the Presbyterian church. In the afternoon a meeting of the Intermediate Endeavorers will be held in the First Methodist Church, which will be addressed by Miss Skinner of Pasadena.

METHODISTS MAY BUILD.

Several Buildings Contemplated by them for the City of Colton.

COLTON, Jan. 28.—At the quarterly conference of the Methodists here, Saturday night, the three following propositions were brought before the Trustees:

Second. A new auditorium to cost $5000.

Third. A pretty Gothic style building

The only excuse made by the youthful burglar was that he was out of funds. He will waive all preliminaries and plead guilty.

MEDAL GOLF PLAY.

The prize in the A. G. Hubbard monthly medal golf contest at the Country Club links was captured by Albert Will, he having the best net score because of the large handicap given him. The gross scores were comparatively close. Had there been no handicapping, the medal would have gone to M. E. Ginn, winner at the last month ago, he having the least number of strokes Saturday. W. Wilson was only three strokes behind him.

The Redlands Country Club links are in fine condition. Golf is very popular this winter, many tourists, as well as local players, being seen on the links daily.

REDLANDS BREVITIES.

Something over $2200 was received as result of the two nights' presentation of the Japanese opera "The Geisha" by the society and musical people of the city. Of this amount more than half will be net. The company of amateurs is being besieged with offers from neighboring towns.

A party of about twenty-five Redmen from the Riverside lodge arrived this afternoon to attend the grand annual ball this evening.

The Redlands High School basketball teams were both defeated at the double game played with San Bernardino Saturday. The boys' game resulted in a score of 31 to 21, while in the girls' game the score was 23 to 7.

Dr. John Willis Baer, president of Occidental College, will address a union meeting of the Senior Christian Endeavorers of the city next Sunday evening in the Presbyterian church. In the afternoon a meeting of the Intermediate Endeavorers will be held in the Methodist Church, which will be presided by Miss Skinner of Pasadena.

METHODISTS MAY BUILD.

Several Buildings Contemplated by them for the City of Colton.

COLTON, Jan. 28.—At the quarterly conference of the Methodists here, Saturday night, the three following propositions were brought before the Trustees.

First. The erection of a new $10,000 building.

Second. A new auditorium to cost $3000.

Third. A pretty Gothic style building to be erected on the south side of the old church. This to be 30x35 feet, with a seating capacity of 400.

No decided action was taken, but J. B. Hanna, C. B. Hamilton and W. H. Wright were appointed a committee to report on which plan to accept. Two lots, 135x136 feet, located at the corner of Redlands and Lemon avenue, in the La Cadena tract, donated by Cochran & Ridenbaugh were accepted in trust. A chapel will be built on these lots.

OLD RESIDENT DIES.

Fred W. Reakirt died this morning from a stroke of paralysis received several days ago. He was 49 years of age, and had been a resident of Colton for twenty years. Mr. Reakirt leaves a mother and two sisters, Mrs. C. B. Hamilton of this city and Mrs. D. A. Bruce of Coronado. Rev. J. H. Sampson will conduct the funeral services, which will be held Wednesday morning at Swarts's undertaking parlors.

SELL ACRES NEAR FAIRVIEW.

Orange County Ranch Property Is Taken by Long Beach Man—Subdivision Expected.

SANTA ANA, Jan. 28.—A deed of interest because it indicates the breaking up of a tract that has produced nothing but grain and beans when it might have produced fruits, nuts and garden truck, was filed today. The Banning Company has sold to Stephen Townsend of Long Beach 691.76 acres southeast of Fairview and a short distance from Newport Beach, adjoining the tract recently put on the market by the Townsend-Dayman Investment Company. The consideration named is $27,676.40. A mortgage for $15,000 has been given on the property.

BALANCES THE BOOKS.

The books of the County Superintendent of Schools have been balanced by the former Superintendent, Prof. J. B. Nichols, and a statement has been left by him with the incumbent, Prof. W. B. Carpenter. Prof. Nichols was here Saturday from Oxnard, where he is employed as Superintendent of Schools. He went over the papers of the office and has left everything in satisfactory condition.

Owing to the pressure of work at the close of his term the outgoing Superintendent was unable to get out his statement at that time. Because he was compelled to leave without making his balance, there was some criticism offered, by outsiders. The fact seems to be that Prof. Nichols, lacking an assistant in his office, simply had too much work for one man to do and his new position at Oxnard took him away from Santa Ana sooner than he had expected. There is nothing but good feeling between Prof. Carpenter and Prof. Nichols, the outcome of the work Saturday being perfectly satisfactory to both.

RUNAWAY HURLS THREE.

Orange Woman and two Children are Thrown from Carriage—Dedicating New Church.

ORANGE, Jan. 28.—An accident, which narrowly missed being a serious one, took place here last evening. As Ed Honey was untying his horse it was frightened by a passing automobile, broke loose from him, and, as it dashed around the corner, collided with a rig in which were Mrs. Rev. A. N. Glover and two little children. Mrs. Glover's horse was knocked down and her buggy was overturned and broken, the occupants being thrown out. The little boy, who fell almost under the feet of the struggling horse, escaped entirely unhurt. The mother, who was unconscious, and the little girl were carried into Dr. Royer's office. It was found that no bones were broken, although the little girl's face was severely bruised and Mrs. Glover's shoulder was much bruised and she also sustained a great nervous shock.

Times' New Year's Annual.

The Midwinter Number of The Times has had an unprecedented sale; more copies have been mailed away by enterprising Los Angeles citizens than ever before. It is a great missionary to send friends, and a thousand personal letters could not give them as much concise information about this great land of ours. It will add the whole country if business men will send a copy to their customers and correspondents. Real estate dealers can help themselves in no better way than by supplying clients living at a distance with one of these great papers. Anybody, anywhere, will surely be delighted to receive a copy of these "Land of Sunshine" publications. Mail orders promptly filled.

CRACKLE ROAD IS THEIR AIM.

WESTERN TROLLEY EXTENSION TALKED AT RIVERSIDE.

Chamber of Commerce and Business Men's Association Discuss Electric Transportation Between Their City and the Sky Blue Quarries.

RIVERSIDE, Jan. 28.—Trolley connection between Riverside and the Sky Blue quarries at West Riverside is the topic of the day before the Chamber of Commerce and the Riverside Business Men's Association. Both organizations see the value to Riverside of an electric road to the proposed new $2,000,000 cement plant which is to be built by the Southern California Cement Company, and at a joint meeting this morning discussed with much enthusiasm the question of securing rights-of-way for the road.

The project was referred to a committee including A. B. Clark, president of the Business Men's Association; Francis Cuttle, president of the Chamber of Commerce; S. C. Evans and George Frost, who will investigate and report at a meeting tomorrow morning. The proposed road will be about five miles in length and will join the Riverside electric road near the business center of the city.

CHURCHES MAY SELL.

Judge Densmore listened today to the applications of two churches for permission to sell property owned by them. The Seventh Day Adventists, who have just completed the payment of the indebtedness on their church on Eleventh and Orange streets, asked for the privilege of selling their church property to the Southern California Conference, according to the custom of the denomination. The Methodist church of Hemet asked permission to sell a part of the vacant land owned by the church society. Both requests were granted.

Vine Ray Cooley of Pasadena and Miss Josephine Fassel of Riverside were married at noon today in the parsonage of the First Congregational church, Rev. Edward F. Goff officiating. TRESTLE IS RESTORED.

Dumping of Rock to Secure Piling Where Colorado Broke Its Bank Is Begun.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.)

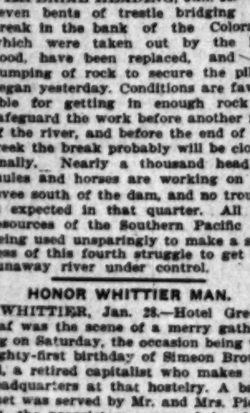
IMPERIAL HEADENG, Jan. 28.—The seven bents of trestle bridging the break in the bank of the Colorado, which were taken out by the last flood, have been replaced, and the dumping of rock to secure the piling began yesterday. Conditions are favorable for getting in enough rock to safeguard the work before another rise of the river, and before the end of the week the break probably will be closed finally. Nearly a thousand head of mules and horses are working on the levee south of the dam, and no trouble is expected in that quarter. All the resources of the Southern Pacific are being used unsparingly to make a success of this fourth struggle to get the runaway river under control.

HONOR WHITTIER MAN.

WHITTIER, Jan. 28.—Hotel Greenleaf was the scene of a merry gathering on Saturday, the occasion being the eighty-first birthday of Simeon Brouneli, a retired capitalist who makes his headquarters at that hostelry. A banquet was served by Mr. and Mrs. Pickett, the proprietors, covers being laid for forty-five guests, a good many of whom came from a distance to aid in the celebration. Prominent in the artistic decorations was a mammoth bouquet of eighty-one roses. At the close of the feast a programme of informal speech-making was presented, to which the aged guest of honor responded. Among the out-of-town guests were: ex-Judge Gooding, Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. Williamson, St. Louis, Mo.; George Bowman, Albert Bowman, Chicago; Mrs. J. B. Bassett, Minneapolis; Dr. Cushman, Los Angeles; Miss Dungan, Corona; S. W. Landt, Los Angeles; Mrs. Williams, Riverside; Mrs. Henry, Mrs. C. W. Brow, Los Angeles.

STOCKHOLDERS WILL RESIST.

SAN DIMAS, Jan. 28.—An enthusiastic meeting of the stockholders of the defunct San Dimas Coöperative Association was held Saturday night, a large majority of the stock being represented. The attorneys advised the stockholders to refuse to pay the demand of $14 per member, made by the Los Angeles Board of Trade Wholesalers' Committee, and if one-half of the advice given by attorneys is true, the directors of the defunct "Coöp." will be called upon to defend themselves in court. The serious charges made against the directors are that they ignored the bylaws of the association, which said that the liabilities of the concern should at no time exceed $25 per member, which would be $1625, while they actually ran in debt to the extent of $5000. The Board of Trade is trying to collect $14 per member, ignoring the fact that some members have paid their stock in full, which is $50, while others have only paid $10 on their stock. The stockholders pledged themselves to fight the case to the bitter end, and if it ever comes to trial many sensational features are likely to be brought out. Unpaid grocery bills, and other matters involving "dead beats," will doubtless be presented to the public gaze.



"I Feel Great!"

How often that is said by men who have been cured of nervous debility by the Dr. McLaughlin Electric Belt! They say it every day. Men who have been weak, gloomy, irresolute and who have had no confidence in themselves at all, are now holding up their heads in pride, with the knowledge that perfect strength is restored; that they are as good as any man that walks, and better than any man of their size. You know you are weak now, and wish you could say that you were as good as any man of your size. You can if you will use this grand invigorator.

Dr. McLaughlin's Electric Belt

DR. MCLAUGHLIN CO.—Dear Sirs: In regard to the belt I purchased of you, I will say it is the only cure I have ever found. I feel like a new man, gained 15 lbs. since I began your treatment, and feel like another man. I can work and have the energy to do my work. Yours very truly, C. E. DREWRY, Kimbel, Cal.

They come every day from everywhere. There is not a town or hamlet in the country which has not cures by Dr. McLaughlin's Electric Belt.

Now what does this mean to you, dear reader? If you are not what you ought to be, can you ask any better proof to make you try it? Is there a remedy which is as simple, as easy to use, as sure to cure, and as cheap as Dr. McLaughlin's Electric Belt? We have not seen one. You must try it. In justice to yourself and to those who look to you for their future happiness, try it now. Act this minute. Such a matter ought not to be delayed.

It's as good for women as for men. Worn while you sleep, it causes no trouble. You feel the gentle, glowing heat from it constantly, but no sting, no burning, as in old-style belts.

A CURE
Is What You Want
Others May Treat, But We Cure

Strictly Reliable

You must come to us sooner or later. Why not now? Refuse to suffer longer on promises of others.

Our Best Reference Is, Not a Dollar Need Be Paid Until Cured.

There are so many men suffering from chronic Pelvic diseases, and the greater number of these victims are still more unfortunate in treating with doctors who know only enough to produce temporary results, or a false cure, if they succeed in benefiting the sufferer at all. There is no such thing as a partial cure of a disease, and the physician whose method does not eradicate every vestige cannot rightfully claim to do more than relieve. Our Pelvic Methods Insure Every Man a lifelong cure for prostatic troubles, varicocele, kidney and bladder, blood poison, special diseases.

Our cure is a thorough and scientific course of treatment, which acts at once upon the nerve force, stopping the drain and replacing the worn-out and run-down tissues. It increases the weight in pound, healthy flesh and muscles that give strength and fills the brain and nerves with fresh vitality, building up the entire system and transforming the sufferer into a type of perfect manhood.

Weather Conditions.—Rain is falling this morning from the Tehachapi north to British Columbia, except in the inter-mountain region, where the precipitation is in the form of snow. This unsettled weather is due to the influence of a disturbance, apparently of considerable energy, which is moving inland over Oregon from the ocean. It is expected that this storm will move far enough south to cause rains in Southern California during tonight and Tuesday. An immense high area extends from the British possessions north of Montana southeast to the Gulf of Mexico, and all the States east of the Missouri River are experiencing colder weather than usual, with but little precipitation.

Forecasts.—Local forecast for Los Angeles and vicinity: Cloudy, with rain, tonight and Tuesday; winds becoming southerly.

The storm appears to remain off the Oregon coast, and has caused cloudy weather with rain in Northern California and rain or snow in portions of Nevada and Utah. Conditions are favorable for showers Tuesday in California, and rain or snow in Nevada. Forecast—San Francisco and vicinity, Sacramento and San Joaquin valleys: Showers Tuesday; light south wind.

Los Angeles and vicinity: Showers Tuesday; light southwest wind.

LOCAL PRODUCE MARKET.

Trading Monday was of good volume and most stocks cleaned up well. The market was without important feature. Prices were apparently satisfactory to buyers and sellers. There was further decline in eggs, but it is doubtful if prices will go any lower the next few days. There were no sales on 'change, as egg dealers had enough on hand for their trade. The jobbing egg market is steady, and the demand from the trade very good. Local ranch now sell at 40c; northern, 28c, and storage selected, 27c. The market is firmer in San Francisco, and shipments of valley eggs that have been coming here will be diverted to the northern market. However, shipments of eastern eggs that are due tons, none; beans, 600 sacks; sweet potatoes, none; hides, 2139; wine, 108,740.

MONDAY A DULL DAY IN THE STOCK MARKET.

AFTER the busy days of last week, Monday, on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange, seemed dull. Business, however, was much better than it was a week ago. The list showed fair strength in all the securities called.

On the early call, the oil stocks were the leaders. Trading in these securities were divided among four stocks as follows: Union, 40; Columbia, 1200; Associated, 30; Olinda, 2000.

Union showed the most consistent gain, the forty shares selling at 213, two points above the closing bid of last Saturday. The quotations closing the session Monday on this security were 212.50@213.50. No bidding was heard for future trading in this security. Odd lots were in good demand at 210.50. One "buy and sell" proposition was worked in at 213.00.

Associated showed considerable improvement over the bidding, closing the call Saturday. A good bid of 40 with the asked at 41 closed the day. Transactions were as follows: 10 shares at 40 cash, 10 at 41 buyer thirty days, and 10 shares at 39.75 seller thirty days. Bidding for the security was brisk, especially on future trading. The range of offerings for buyer thirty contracts was from 40 to 41, while for the thirty-day options, bidding ranged from 38 to 43, with the asked opening at 42.50 and later strengthening to 45. Puts were offered at 34@35 and seller thirty's at 39.75 @39. Bidding for odd lots was high at 35. Blocks of from 30 to 200 shares were wanted at 35@40.

Columbia was another strong trader. The bid opened with 48 offred and 52 asked. High was reached at 50 and the stock was offered down to 51, at which point 1200 shares were snapped up by one broker, who seemed to want all he could get, but preferred to have it offered to him.

Olinda Land was the remaining trader, 2000 shares changing hands at 19 buyer ninety days. The demand for the stock was fairly strong, the bid showing a gain of ¼, the quotations closing at 18@19. Bidding for futures was comparatively light, 16½ was offered for buyer thirty contracts, 17 for the sixty-day kind and 18@19 for the longer ninety-day variety. The latter were offered at 25@19¾.

No activity was apparent among the remaining oil stocks. Mexican Petroleum was offered from 1.40 to 1.35, and with 1.12 3-4 offered and 1.15 asked. Central closed without a bid. Central closed without a trade. This shows a loss of 1 1-4 points on the bid and 1 on the asked of the previous day. No improvement was shown in Continental. Rice Ranch closed with Saturday's bid of 1.49 1-2 ruling, and no stock offered. United Petroleum was in demand at from 358 to 360. The stock was offered at 380, seller five days.

HOME PREFERRED SELLS.

Among the miscellaneous stocks, Home Preferred was the only trader Monday, twenty shares changing hands at 69.50@70. The close was at 69.25@70. No bidding was heard for either large blocks or futures. The common stock of the same company closed with Saturday's quotations ruling. Bidding for large lots was fairly strong, 29.50 being offered for 200 shares; 100 were held at 32, and 30 at 31.50. The common stock of the Edison Electric Company was in strong demand at 70.25, the stock closing with that bid and 71.50 asked. A bid of 70 was made for a block of 30 or 50 shares. The preferred stock of the same concern was offered at 91, 1-4 point below the market of Saturday. Los Angeles Brewing Company shows a rise of 10 points on the bid, closing the session at 135, with 200 asked. Fifty shares of the security were offered at that price, which is the first offering of this stock on the local floor for several months. Other miscellaneous stocks were quiet.

BANK STOCKS STEADY.

Little activity was manifest among the banking securities. The bid for Home Savings was raised 1 point, to 135, with none offered. German-American Savings was offered down from 325 to 319.50, and closed with that and no bid. First National was wanted again at 430, but none was on the floor. Others show no change.

BONDS SLOW.

Bidding for the first mortgage bonds of the Home Telephone Company was a feature of the call on the bond list. A standing bid of 91.50 was made for any part of ten bonds, with the asked at 92. A bid of 102 was heard for the old issue of the Edison Electric Company paper, the asked price declining 2 points to 108. Associated was offered at 92.

MINING TRADE LIGHT.

The call on the mining securities was less lively than that which closed the week ending Saturday. Trading was among five stocks as follows: Furnace Creek Copper, 100; California Hills, 4000; Eldorado Cañon, 6000; Clark Copper, 4000; Johnnie Consolidated, 8000.

The most strength was shown by Furnace Creek Copper, 100 shares of which changed hands at 53, buyer ninety days. The cash bid was raised from 2.25 to 2.50, with the asked at 2.75. The demand for futures was extremely strong. Bidding for buyer thirty was from 2.50 to 2.70. As much as 2.80 was offered for the sixty-day contracts, and 2.90 to 3 was the range for the buyer ninety. Thirty-day calls were wanted at 3 and were offered at 6@2.75.

California Hills show a fractional gain on the selling price, 400 shares changing hands at 8@8¼. The stock closed at 7⅞@8¼. The demand for futures was light and bidding was no stronger than for the stock at cash.

Clark Copper came near closing with an asked price a fraction below the flotation price. Sales were of 2000 shares at 49¼@50½ cash, and 2000 at 51½@52, buyer thirty days. The close was at 50 with no bid. Bidding for futures was at 50@52, buyer thirty, with the asked at 57@52, the high having been withdrawn before the low offering was made.

Eldorado Cañon experienced a slight falling off in public favor. Sales amounted to 6000 shares only. The price was at 7@7¼, showing a fractional loss in the sale price of last Saturday. The close was at 7@7¼, a fraction off both the quotations of the preceding day. One large block of 10,000 shares was offered at 10, while the bidding for it was light and recalled high at 6¾.

Johnnie Consolidated sagged again; 7000 shares changed hands at 17¾@17½ and 1000 at 17¾, buyer thirty days. The close was at 17¾@17½, the price asked having weakened ¼ since Saturday. The demand for futures was light.

Other mining securities were in light demand and show no improvement over Saturday's quotations.

SHARES AND MONEY.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—The decline in prices securities was resumed in the stock mar-today, after a period of desultory resist-during the early hours of the Stock Exchange session. The indifferent demand it became manifest at any rise in prices the apprehension that additional liquida-remained to be effected, prompted the reselling of the market by professional traders. There were evidences of hedging here and there in the list. As a motive for selling, much was made by the selfaccusatives of the report of the Interstate Commerce Commission, embodying the result of its investigation of the Standard Oil. This report was supplemented by the circulation of rumors of further recommendations to be made by the President looking to an extension of the commission's inquiries into railroad properties. The prominence in publicity which the pursuit of corporations has had is given large responsibility in opinion of the financial world for the disturbance in finding a market for new capital.
There were minor incidents in the day's trading, such as reports that the course of the market indicated that the cream was being skimmed from the stock and the receipts of railroad net earnings for December showing a uniform tendency toward decrease in operating expenses. Quite the contrary assertions were in circulation that a decision had been rendered against any increase of the dividend on United States steel at tomorrow's meeting of directors. Rates for money advanced again today. Governmental operations are against the market again, the Subtreasury having absorbed $2,452,000 on the new bank-clearings. Discounts hardened also in London in spite of large gains in bullion by the Bank of England. The completion of the market settlement this week in London is a source of heavy money requirements, and anxiety regarding the market position of Americans. The decline gathered force as it progressed, and the closing was weak and active. Bonds were irregular. Total sales, par value, $1,370,000. United States bonds advanced ¼ per cent, on call.

CENERAL EASTERN MARKETS.
GRAIN AND PRODUCE.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

CHICAGO, Jan. 28.—Despite small receipts in the Northwest, the wheat market was weak all day. The chief reason for the selling pressure was a decline of ½d in the price of wheat at Liverpool. The close was weak. May opened ⅝ to ½ lower, at 73¼ to 73⅛; sold between 77⅞ and 73¼@73⅝, and closed ⅝ to ¾ off, at 73@73⅛. The corn market held strong all day, but the volume of trading was small. May closed shade lower; at 43⅝. Provisions were strong. At the close, May pork was up 30, lard up 30, and ribs 15 to 17½ higher.

The leading futures closed as follows:

New York Cotton Market.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO FRED DORR.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—The cotton market was steady and fairly active today with an opening better than due on cables. Liverpool seems to be affected by the undoing of straddles, the long end of which held in that market. After somewhat may showing in the early dealings, the option list steadied up about 8 points before noon. The bureau influence consisted of large export and reports of a much better demand for low grades. The movement is quite heavy but it is believed to reflect a heavy rush of cotton to fill end of month engagements. Southern spot markets generally steady and unchanged to 1-16 higher. Port receipts estimated 55,000, last year 18,971; exports reported early 52,000.

Our cotton market is due to open about six points lower around 944 for March and 952 for May. Liverpool spot cotton in fair demand at 321 for American Midd'on sales of 8000 bales, including 7000 American. Imports 9000, including 1600 American. The failure of Liverpool to respond to our strength Saturday is due in part to the undoing of straddlers of which the long end is held in Liverpool. The situation contains too many elements of strength to look for weakness in futures. Exports Saturday were 52,000 bales, which carries the total for the season ahead of last year 1,290,000 more than last year. Stocks are now only 110,000, all kinds of cloths distributed among 170 mills. Weather indications fair today and tomorrow.

Dick says, McIntyre liquidating January cotton. Business small. Wilson sold February. Mitchell bought March, October and Freeman bought October.

Weld bullish. Says he thinks market shows strong undertone. Official estimated ports 25,000; receipts at the ports, 41,941; year 18,971; stock 1,000,000.

New Orleans wires. Though business small, undertone is very firm. Big receipts are expected for the next few days, but look for a rush to fill end of month shipments.

Freeman bidding 950 for 5000 may.

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—The following are the cotton receipts today—

Savannah, receipts, 1766; stock, 180,397; mids, 10 5-16; sales, 883. Houston, receipts, 11,362; shipments, 1,392; stock, 78,416; mids, 10 3-8; sales, 742. BRYAN GIVES IMPRESSIONS.

Lectures to Large Audience on Old World.

Makes Fun to Benefit Lark Ellen Boys' Home.

He Has Political Jokes at His Own Expense.

Simpson Auditorium was too small to hold the crowd that gathered to greet and hear William Jennings Bryan last night, when he lectured for the benefit of the Lark Ellen News and Working Boys' Home. His subject was "The Old World and Its Ways," but his discourse did not conform to the heavy title. His views of the old world, his impressions and interpretation of its ways, were refreshing in their simplicity. One did not need to be a "Bryan man" to take pleasure in hearing the famous lecturer and traveler tell of the things he likes in lands beyond the seas, and why he likes them.

It was largely a Bryan crowd, however, as was shown by the spontaneous shouts that rose and echoed from the dome at every sly allusion to the past defeats political, and at the facetious suggestions of future political triumph.

The lecturer of last night was not the fiery Boy Orator of the Platte; there was no such frenzied cadence in his voice as that which vibrated in the tones which rang out the sonorous phrase on "crown of thorns and cross of gold." A gentle idealist talked of the thousand little things that had found his favor on five continents, and a packed audience listened with almost breathless attention.

The laughter of the crowd, bubbling forth from moment to moment at some ludicrous contrast cleverly presented, or a sparklingly humorous association of ideas, was like a rollicking selection played on a piano with the soft pedal pressed down hard. The laughter was repressed even as it burst forth, and then checked quickly, for the orator made but the briefest of pauses for laughter or applause. Sometimes the speaker, with just a suggestion of willful trickiness, betrayed his listeners suddenly into laughter uncontrolled; and then, all along the many curving rows of seats, there was a leaning forward, as if to catch some word that had been lost, and a whispering sigh of regret.

They liked the esthetic idealism of this older Bryan. Perhaps no other man could so have dressed old traditions of social relations in so fair a garb of new ideas.

The speaker showed great love of the old traditions, and carried his hearers with him, in sympathy at least, in his worship.

While speaking, Mr. Bryan defeats criticism by anticipating it, telling each mental group in his variegated audience that there may be this and that which they may not like, and leading them gently into the frame of mind where, at least, they will feel no positive dislike for anything he may choose to say.

In everything he touched upon his opinions were positive, for the instinct of sturdy partisanship has not passed with the fiery spirit of youth; but his method of championing a cause, be it little or great, has changed. He does not attack the opposite idea to his, but pleads for the reception of his own. Last night he made an earnest plea for idealism in religion, a return from the utilitarianism which has been forcing the world onward with tremendous strides; for service and tenderness in opposition to stern justice, for all that is old and lovely, and gone by; but all the time he pleaded, it seemed as if it was for something his inner being felt must be denied.

In soft, sweet periods, reminiscent of Gray's Elegy, he lauded the age of belief, the age of dreams. Touchingly he quoted from John Boyle O'Reilly, "For the dreamer lives forever, but the toiler dies in a day." He spoke of the beautiful dreams which had found fulfillment in the noble cathedrals and fair interiors of the old world, and claimed for the dream a greater splendor and longer life than the wondrous enginery that had reared those dreams in stone.

From esthetic fancy and religious idealism he shot off at a tangent, obviously designed, and spoke with excruciating humor of a journey through Sulu. The datto, he said, thought he should be given a salute of guns, being a distinguished American, and began firing as Bryan entered the town. "When twenty-one shots had been fired," the speaker went on, "I was satisfied, for that is the Presidential salute." There was no repression in the roar of laughter and applause that burst forth then.

William Jennings Bryan, making a simple discourse of so pretentious a subject as "The Old World and Its Ways," showed himself still, as in the promulgation of strong beliefs that lie near his heart, the apostle of the past.

HERE THREE DAYS.

CATALINA TRIP TODAY.

Hundreds of persons assembled at the Arcade Depot yesterday morning long before the Owl was due to greet Bryan. The official Reception Committee was there in force.

In appearance Mr. Bryan has changed but little since he was last in Los Angeles. In his manner also, there has been little, if any, change, and he greeted his friends with the same fervor and showed the same remarkable talent for remembering names.

Through the assembled crowd the party was escorted to waiting automobiles, and the guest and his wife were taken at once to the residence of Nathan Cole, on Pasadena avenue. There was no stated programme for the afternoon, and after a short rest Mr. Bryan and his wife were taken for a ride along the line of the foothills and up Mt. Lowe.

Today the party will visit Santa Catalina Island. The steamer Cabrillo has been chartered, and more than 100 invited guests of the Reception Committee will make the trip, leaving San Pedro at 9:30 o'clock this morning, and returning about 5 o'clock this afternoon. Tonight the Democrats of the city will tender a banquet to Mr. Bryan. Tomorrow, in the forenoon, he will address the students of the High School and the Polytechnic High School, and following that will be a public reception at the Chamber of Commerce, also in the forenoon. Tomorrow afternoon the party will depart for Salt Lake.

WRECK AT ONEONTA PARK.

Trolley Collides With Espee Train. No One Much Hurt—October Accident Recalled.

Rushing toward Monrovia at a speed of nearly thirty miles an hour, Pacific Electric car No. 322 crashed into the rear of a Southern Pacific train bound for Los Angeles at Oneonta Park Sunday morning about 11:36 o'clock.

There were twenty passengers on the trolley car and they were hurled from their seats by the collision and some were slightly bruised. No one could explain why the electric car was not thrown on its side. It bumped into the rear of the passenger train with such force that the front end of the car was badly smashed. The last coach of the train was slightly battered and the "tail lights" torn off.

A similar accident, but with much more unhappy results, occurred at the same place last October.

HERRON GOES NORTH.

Publicity Worker Will Arrange for Comforts and Facilities on Coming Hawaiian Excursion.

The Chamber of Commerce excursion to Honolulu is gaining by leaps and bounds. Mr. Herron left for Tacoma last night, where he will inspect the steamship, and provide facilities and comforts for the Los Angeles travelers.

Business men—these are the people sought after by the promoters, for business men interested and pledging their personal attendance are individual compliments to the business fraternity of Honolulu, who invite the local body.

The latest news from the Hawaiian Promotion Committee is that three men prominent in island circles will probably volunteer to cross over to Los Angeles in order that they may return with the local excursionists.

In the spectacles to be presented for the entertainment of the visitors a series of tableaux are being arranged, representing the various historical periods in Hawaiian history.

GERMAN DRAMATIC SOCIETY.

A German dramatic society was organized recently, at the home of Gustave A. Barth. The society will make its initial appearance March 10, at the new Turner Hall, in a musical comedy, entitled "Hotel Klingebusch." The leading parts will be taken by G. A. Barth, Ernst Bode, Wilhelm Rieger, Ernst Oder, Carl Bischoff, Elsa Neuman, Anna Bode, Crescentia Renee, Anna Nikolai-Oder and Olga Treppow. Prof. Ritzau will direct the orchestra. The majority of these people are professional players, while the minor parts are taken by the best of local amateurs. A series of plays will be given during the coming season. Mr. Barth has secured the right of production of the latest works of Suderman, May Fulda and others.

HIGHWAYMEN AGAIN.

Two highwaymen, supposed to be the same pair who held up and robbed Henry King in the same neighborhood, brutally attacked Joseph Rettch early yesterday morning near Sixth and Wall streets. Rettch, who lives on East Seventh street near Wall street, was on his way home when the pair stepped out from behind a telegraph pole. One man passed behind the victim while the other approached Rettch from the front. As the first man seized Rettch, the second struck him. Rettch was forced to his knees. The man in front kicked him in the abdomen and the pain made him lose consciousness for a moment. The robbers took $2.50 and an Elgin watch from the victim.
